OF THE
CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

At the session of the Constitutional Convention of the State of Delaware, convened and held at Dover, on Tuesday, the first day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-six, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and twenty-first.

The Convention was called to order by Robert W. Dasey, a Delegate from Sussex county, and upon his motion, J. Wilkins Cooch was nominated and elected President pro tempore, and Woodburn Martin was nominated and elected Secretary pro tempore.

Charles B. Evans moved that a Committee on Credentials be appointed,

Which motion

Prevailed.

And the President pro tempore appointed Charles B. Evans, William C. Spruance, Robert G. Harman, Charles F. Richards and Edward D. Hearne as said committee.

Beniah Watson presented a certificate of election of Delegates from Kent county.

Wilson T. Cavender presented another certificate of election of Delegates from Kent county.

Sheriff William R. Flinn presented the certificates of election of the Delegates from New Castle county.

Sheriff Joseph D. Truxton presented the certificates of election of the Delegates from Sussex county.

The Committee on Credentials then retired. After deliberation, the committee returned and Mr. Evans submitted the following report, to-wit:

"We, the undersigned Committee on Credentials, respectfully report that we have examined the certificates of the election of Delegates to this Convention returned by the Sheriff of New Castle county, and find that the following persons were duly chosen Delegates for said county, to-wit: Martin B. Burris, William C. Spruance, Elias N. Moore, Edward G. Bradford, Andrew L. Johnson, John P. Donahoe, John Biggs, Robert G. Harman, Charles B. Evans, J. Wilkins Cooch,

"And we further report that we have examined the certificates of the election of Delegates to this Convention returned by the Sheriff of Sussex county, and find that the following persons were duly chosen Delegates for said county, to-wit: Edward D. Hearne, Woodburn Martin, Joshua A. Ellegood, Andrew J. Horsey, Robert W. Dasey, Charles F. Richards, James B. Gilchrist, William P. Orr, William A. Cannon, Isaac K. Wright,

"And we further report that we have examined two papers purporting to be certificates of the election of Delegates to this Convention from Kent county, one of which is signed by the Sheriff and six members of the Board of Canvass of said county, whereby it is certified that ten persons therein named were chosen Delegates for said county, and the other of which is signed by the Coroner and ten members of the Board of Canvass of said county, whereby it is certified that ten other persons therein named were chosen Delegates for said county.

"Your committee recommend that, of the persons named in the said papers as chosen Delegates for said county, the following be seated as Delegates to this Convention, from said county, to-wit: Wilson T. Cavender, William Saulsbury, Ezekiel W. Cooper, Louder L. Sapp, Nathan Pratt, David S.

Clark, William T. Smithers, George H. Murray, Paris T. Carlisle, Jr., John W. Hering.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

CHARLES B. EVANS,
W. C. SPRUANCE,
ROBERT G. HARMAN,
CHARLES F. RICHARDS,
EDWARD D. HEARNE."

On motion of Mr. Dasey, the report of the committee was adopted. The roll was called and the following Delegates answered to their names, to-wit:

For New Castle county.—Martin B. Burris, William C. Spruance, Elias N. Moore, Edward G. Bradford, Andrew L. Johnson, John P. Donahoe, John Biggs, Robert G. Harman, Charles B. Evans and J. Wilkins Cooch.

For Sussex county—Joshua A. Ellegood, Andrew J. Horsey, Robert W. Dasey, Edward D. Hearne, Woodburn Martin, Charles F. Richards, James B. Gilchrist, William P. Orr, William A. Cannon and Isaac K. Wright.

For Kent county.—Wilson T. Cavender, William Saulsbury, Ezekiel W. Cooper, Louder L. Sapp, Nathan Pratt, David S. Clark, William T. Smithers, George H. Murray, Paris T. Carlisle, Jr., and John W. Hering.

On motion of Mr. Pratt, the Convention proceeded to elect by ballot a President.

Mr. Pratt placed in nomination John Biggs, of New Castle county.

Mr. Spruance placed in nomination Edward G. Bradford, of New Castle county.

Mr. Cavender moved that two tellers be appointed,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Whereupon Messrs. Cavender and Burris were appointed tellers.

Mr. Saulsbury moved that the Secretary call the roll and each Delegate come forward and cast his vote,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Upon the ballot being counted it appeared that John Biggs, of New Castle county, had received sixteen votes and that Edward G. Bradford, of New Castle county, had received nine votes.

Whereupon John Biggs, having received a majority of all the votes cast, was declared duly elected President of the Constitutional Convention.

Mr. Bradford moved that the President pro tempore appoint a committee of two to inform Mr. Biggs of his election and to conduct him to the chair,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Whereupon Messrs. Bradford and Horsey were appointed said committee.

Mr. Biggs, President-elect, was conducted to the chair by Messrs. Bradford and Horsey. In accepting the honor, he said:

Gentlemen of the Convention:—I thank you for the honor which you have conferred upon me, and I particularly appreciate it, coming as it does entirely unsolicited on my part.

I will discharge the duties which this election carries with it faithfully and impartially, to the best of my ability. In this I ask the indulgence and assistance of the members, and let me assure you if I make mistakes, as we are all liable to do, they will be errors of the head and not of the heart.

I am sure we all appreciate the importance of this occasion and the responsibility that devolves upon us, and that we will all labor, having at all times the main object in view, and that is to frame a Constitution that will be acceptable to the people. Again I thank you.

Mr. Hearne placed in nomination for Secretary, Charles R. Jones, of Sussex county.

Mr. Richards placed in nomination for Secretary, Morgan T. Gum, of Sussex county.

The Convention then proceeded to ballot, and upon the ballots being counted it appeared that Charles R. Jones, of Sussex county, had received sixteen (16) votes and that Morgan T. Gum, of Sussex county, had received (9) votes.

Whereupon Charles R. Jones, having received a majority of all the votes cast, was declared duly elected Secretary of the Constitutional Convention.

Mr. Hearne moved that a committee of two be appointed to notify Mr. Jones of his election and escort him to the chair,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Whereupon the President appointed Messrs. Hearne and Gilchrist as said committee.

Charles R. Jones, Secretary-elect, was introduced and took his seat at the Secretary's desk.

Mr. Donahoe placed in nomination for Sergeant-at-Arms Daniel V. Hutchins, of Kent county.

There being no other nominations, on motion of Mr. Donahoe, Mr. Hutchins was elected by acclamation. He was introduced and entered upon the duties of his office.

Mr. Donahoe placed in nomination for page, Arthur Hutchins.

There being no other nominations, on motion of Mr. Donahoe, Arthur Hutchins was elected by acclamation. He was introduced and entered upon the duties of his office.

The Convention then proceeded to the election of a Chaplain.

Mr. Hearne placed in nomination for Chaplain, Rev. C. I. Stengle.

Mr. Burris placed in nomination for Chaplain, Rev. Walter E. Avery.

Whereupon the Convention proceeded to ballot and Rev.

Walter E. Avery, having received a majority of all the votes cast, was declared duly elected.

Mr. Saulsbury moved that a committee of two be appointed to inform Mr. Avery of his election and request him to act as Chaplain of the Convention during the session,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Whereupon the President appointed Messrs. Saulsbury and Bradford as said committee.

Mr. Richards moved that the Convention proceed to the election of an Assistant Secretary,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Richards placed in nomination Morgan T. Gum, of Sussex county.

Mr. Horsey placed in nomination E. D. C. Hegeman, of Sussex county.

Mr. Johnson placed in nomination Franklin Brockson, of New Castle county.

Mr. Cooper placed in nomination A. N. Brown, of Kent county.

The Convention proceeded to vote, and upon the ballots being counted it appeared that Morgan T. Gum, of Sussex county, had received ten votes,

E. D. C. Hegeman, of Sussex county, had received four votes,

Franklin Brockson, of New Castle county, had received four votes,

A. N. Brown, of Kent county, had received seven votes.

No one having received a majority of all the votes cast, the President declared no election, and the Convention proceeded to vote again, and upon the ballots being counted it appeared that

Morgan T. Gum, of Sussex county, had received fourteen votes,

E. D. C. Hegeman, of Sussex county, had received two votes,

Franklin Brockson, of New Castle county, had received five votes,

A. N. Brown, of Kent county, had received four votes.

Whereupon Morgan T. Gum, having received a majority of all the votes cast, was declared duly elected Assistant Secretary of the Convention.

Mr. Richards moved that a committee of two be appointed to inform Mr. Gum of his election,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Whereupon the President appointed Messrs. Richards and Hearne as said committee.

Morgan T. Gum, Assistant Secretary-elect, was introduced and took his seat at the Secretary's desk.

Mr. Cooch offered a resolution, which, on his motion, was read as follows:

Whereas, The act calling this Convention expressed the opinion that any Constitution framed by this Convention should be submitted to the people of this State for their formal approval before the same should go into effect, which expression of opinion in the wisdom of the General Assembly was but the wish of the people of this State put in words by their representatives when calling for the election of Delegates to this Convention, and

Whereas, It is the sense of this Convention that said opinion and wish should be duly respected and complied with by the Convention,

Therefore, be it resolved, That the work of this Convention, whether resulting in amendments to our existing Constitution or in the substitution of a new Constitution as a whole, shall be, and of right should be, first submitted to the people for their ratification or rejection before the same shall be considered as of binding force or ordained and proclaimed as the fundamental and organic law of this State.

Mr. Bradford moved that the resolution be referred to a committee of three before action is taken by the Convention,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Martin offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Be it resolved, That the State Librarian be and he is hereby directed to purchase the necessary supplies of stationery, &c., for the use of the members and secretaries of the Convention.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Pratt offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That a committee be appointed, consisting of five members, to report the manner in which it would be expedient to proceed with the business of the Convention.

Mr. Harman offered as a substitute, "That a committee of five be appointed to report at next meeting the subjects for which standing committees should be appointed."

Which was withdrawn and the original resolution offered by Mr. Pratt was adopted.

Mr. Cooper moved that the President appoint a committee of three on rules,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Pratt moved that a committee of three be appointed by the President to take into consideration the question as to whether or not an oath should be taken by the members of this body, and if so, the form to be used,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Saulsbury moved that until otherwise ordered this Convention meet daily at 11 o'clock, a. m.,

Which motion Prevailed.

Mr. Evans moved that a committee of three be appointed to take into consideration the employment of a stenographer,

Which motion Prevailed.

Mr. Donahoe moved that a committee of three be appointed to select and prepare a suitable place for the meetings of this Convention,

Which motion Prevailed.

Mr. Spruance moved that a committee of three be appointed to make the arrangement for the seating of the members,

Which motion Prevailed.

Mr. Horsey moved that the Convention do now adjourn,

Which motion Prevailed.

Wednesday, December 2, 1897.
11 o'clock, a. m.

Convention met pursuant to adjournment.

In the absence of the Chaplain-elect, Rev. Walter E. Avery, prayer was offered by the Rev. George M. Bond.

Roll called. Members present: Messrs. Bradford, Burris, Cannon, Cavender, Cooch, Dasey, Donahoe, Ellegood, Evans, Gilchrist, Harman, Hearne, Horsey, Johnson, Martin, Moore, Pratt, Richards, Saulsbury, Sapp, Spruance, Wright, Mr. President.

Secretary read the Journal of last meeting.

Mr. Cavender thought the Journal did not show that more than one set of credentials were presented from Kent county and moved to incorporate the fact that he (Mr. Cavender) presented other credentials from Kent county so as to show there were two sets of credentials presented from Kent county.

There being no objection, the President directed the Secretary to make the corection.

Mr. Martin said it did not appear from the Journal that after the Convention was duly organized the roll was called and each member reported by the Committee on Credentials as entitled to a seat was here and answered to his name. He moved that the Journal be corrected in that respect,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Hearne stated that he placed in nomination Rev. C.
I. Stengle, and not Rev. W. E. Avery, and moved that correction be made.

There being no objection, the President directed the Secretary to make the correction, and also that Mr. Burris nominated Rev. W. E. Avery.

Mr. Bradford noted some verbal inaccuracies, and, no objection being offered, the President directed the Secretary to correct the portions referred to by Mr. Bradford to read as follows:

The Convention was called to order by Robert W. Dasey, Delegate from Sussex county, and upon his motion, J. Wilkins Cooch was nominated and elected President pro tempore.

Mr. Dasey moved that that part of the Journal which has been corrected, be read again,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Whereupon the Secretary read the corrected portions.

Mr. Martin moved that the reading of the Journal be deferred.

Whereupon the President declared that if there were no objections the final reading of the Journal would be deferred until after recess, in order to give the members a chance to submit other corrections deemed proper.

Mr. Dasey offered a resolution, which, on his motion, was read, as follows:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to wait upon his Excellency, the Governor, and the Governor-elect, and invite them to a seat on the floor at their pleasure, also, the Secretary of State, the Judiciary of the State, the members of the House and Senate who may be present during the session of the Convention, have the privilege of seats on the floor.

And further, on his motion, the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Martin offered a resolution, which, on his motion, was read as follows:

Resolved, That the Secretary be requested to furnish each member of the Convention with a copy of the Revised Code and a copy of the Acts of the last General Assembly.

And further, on his motion, the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Donahoe offered a resolution, which, on his motion, was read as follows:

Resolved, That the Secretary be instructed to furnish wrappers, stamps and stationery for the use of the Convention.

And further, on his motion, the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Spruance offered a resolution, which, on his motion, was read as follows:

Resolved, That the Secretary be instructed and directed to furnish for the use of the members of the Convention thirty copies of each of the Wilmington daily papers, also, three copies of each of the weekly papers published in the State; also, to each member another daily paper to be selected by him.

And further, on his motion, the resolution was adopted.

The President announced the appointment of the following committees pursuant to the action of the Convention yesterday, viz:

Committee on resolutions as to submitting the Constitution to the people for ratification:

Messrs. Cooch, Cavender, Richards.

Committee on arranging order of business:

Messrs. Bradford, Harman, Saulsbury, Hearne, Cannon.

Committee on Rules:

Messrs. Cooper, Burris, Wright.

Committee on Oath:

Messrs. Pratt, Spruance, Ellegood.

Committee on Stenographer:

Messrs. Evans, Dasey, Moore.

Committee on Place of Meeting of the Convention:

Messrs. Donahoe, Johnson, Orr.

Committee on Seating Members:

Messrs. Spruance, Sapp, Martin.

Mr. Hearne moved that the Secretary be instructed to furnish each member with a list of committees just announced,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Horsey offered a resolution, which, on his motion, was read as follows:

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to take into consideration the propriety of establishing an Agricultural Department into the Constitution of the State of Delaware.

Mr. Horsey moved its adoption.

Mr. Bradford moved to lay it on the table until the proper committee be made to which it can be referred,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved that the Convention take a recess until 2 o'clock, p. m.,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Same day, 2 o'clock p. m.

Convention met pursuant to adjournment.

The Journal was read in its entirety, as corrected, and was adopted.

Mr. Bradford, on behalf of the Committee on Arranging Order of Business, submitted the following report, viz.:

The undersigned, composing the Committee on Arranging the Order of Business of the Convention, respectfully report that after considering the subject committed to said committee they recommend the appointment of standing committees each consisting of six members as follows:

- 1st:—On the Legislature.
- 2nd:—On the Governor and other Executive Officers.
- 3rd:—On the Judiciary.
- 4th:—On Elections.
- 5th:—On Securing the Purity of the Ballot.
- 6th:—On Corporations.
- 7th:—On Crimes, Punishments and Impeachments.
- 8th:—On Agriculture.
- 9th:—On Alterations and Amendments of the Constitution and the Calling of Constitutional Conventions.

10th:—On Accounts.

Respectfully submitted,

EDWARD G. BRADFORD,
ROBERT G. HARMAN,
WILLIAM SAULSBURY,
EDWARD D. HEARNE,
WILLIAM A. CANNON.

Mr. Pratt moved that the report of the committee be adopted and committee continued,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Evans, on behalf of the Committee on Stenographer, reported as follows:

We the undersigned committee appointed to consider the question of the employment of a stenographer, report that we have consulted with Mr. E. C. Hardesty and Mr. C. G. Guyer, stenographers, and present for the consideration of the Convention the following estimate of the probable cost.

Wilmington, Del., Dec. 1, 1896.

To the Members of the Constitutional Convention of the State of Delaware:

Gentlemen:—We beg to state the following estimate for stenographically reporting the proceedings of your Convention from day to day:

We will report the proceedings of the Convention and furnish four typewritten copies of the same within one week from the day when such proceedings are had and taken, at the rate of thirty (30) cents per folio of one hundred words; provided, however, that on any day when the Convention is in session and the reporting of the proceedings does not amount to the sum of ten dollars, a per diem of ten (10) dollars is to be allowed us by the Convention to cover expenses. Payment for all work done within any two weeks shall be made at the end of such two weeks.

Yours respectfully,

Charles G. Guyer,
E. C. Hardesty.

CHARLES B. EVANS,
ROBERT W. DASEY,
E. N. MOORE.

Mr. Spruance moved that this report be laid on the table for further consideration.

Mr. Harman moved that the privilege of the floor be granted Messrs. Guyer and Hardesty to explain the nature of the charges for stenographic work.

Pending the discussion Mr. Spruance withdrew his motion.

Whereupon Mr. Harman's motion Prevailed.

After explanations by Messrs. Guyer and Hardesty, Mr. Spruance renewed his motion as follows:

That the consideration of the report be postponed until Monday, and the committee continued.

On the question of the adopting of the motion the yeas and nays were ordered, which, being taken, were as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Burris, Cannon, Cavender, Cooch, Dasey, Donahoe, Evans, Gilchrist, Hearne, Horsey, Johnson, Martin, Moore, Pratt, Richards, Saulsbury, Sapp, Spruance, Wright, Mr. President.

Nays—Messrs. Bradford, Ellegood, Harman.

Yeas, 20; nays, 3.

So the question was decided in the affirmative, and the motion, having secured the required majority, prevailed.

Mr. Saulsbury moved that Messrs. Guyer and Hardesty be employed upon the terms named until the close of next week's sessions, time commencing from the first of the session,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Donahoe, on behalf of the Committee on Place of Meeting, made the following report, viz.:

To the President and Delegates of the Constitutional Convention, Gentlemen: Your committee to whom was referred the subject of securing permanent quarters for the meetings, beg leave to report that we have considered the matter, and find that the second story of the new Library Building is the most, if not the only, obtainable place for the above purpose, but considerable preparation will be necessary to put it in proper condition for the meetings of this body. We therefore recommend that a committee of three be appointed and empowered to prepare and furnish said room in a suitable manner for the meetings of this Convention.

A. L. JOHNSON.
JOHN P. DONAHOE,

Mr. Spruance moved that the report be adopted, the committee continued and authorized to proceed in the preparation and furnishing of the room in a manner suitable for the occupation of the Convention,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cavender moved that when this Convention adjourn, it adjourn to meet on Monday, December 7th, at 2 p. m.,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Evans reported that Messrs. Guyer and Hardesty would comply with the request of the Convention and continue their work next week.

Mr. Burris, on behalf of the Committee on Rules, reported, recommending that the Rules governing the last House of Representatives in this State be adopted as the Rules of this Convention, in conjunction with Cushing's Manual, where Cushing's Manual does not conflict with the Rules of the House of Representatives, and moved its adoption,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved that the vote just taken be reconsidered, and referred back to the Committee,

Which motion

Prevailed.

The President stated that the motion is reconsidered and the matter is referred back to the Committee.

Motion to adjourn prevailed.

Monday, December 7, 1896.
2 o'clock, p. m.

Convention met pursuant to adjournment.

Prayer by the Chaplain.

Journal of the last meeting read and, after correction, approved.

Mr. Martin moved that the proceedings of the Convention be recorded as the "Minutes of the Convention."

Mr. Spruance moved to amend by inserting the word "Journal" in place of the word "Minutes,"

Which amendment

Prevailed.

The motion, as amended,

Prevailed.

Mr. Pratt moved that the question of recess or adjournment until afternoon be referred to the Committee on Rules,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved that the standing Committee on the Judiciary consist of eight members, instead of six,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Saulsbury, on behalf of the Committee to invite the Rev. Walter E. Avery to act as Chaplain, reported that they had performed their duty and that Mr. Avery had signified his acceptance.

Mr. Hearne moved that the report be adopted and the committee discharged,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Pratt, on behalf of the Committee on Oath, reported as follows:

The committee appointed to inquire whether an oath should be taken by the members of this Convention, respectfully report as follows:

Neither the act under which this Convention was called nor any other act of the General Assembly makes any provision upon the subject.

Article VI of the Constitution of the United States requires that Senators and Representatives in Congress, members of the State Legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support the Constitution of the United States.

Article VIII of the Constitution of this State requires that members of the General Assembly and all officers, executive and judicial, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support the Constitution of this State and to perform the duties of their respective offices with fidelity.

Article IX of the Constitution of 1791 is precisely the same as Article VIII of the present Constitution.

The Convention of 1831 considered this subject and determined that the Delegates to that Convention were not included within either of the above mentioned Constitutional provisions.

Upon examining the minutes of the Conventions of 1791, 1831 and 1852, your committee do not find that the Delegates to either of those Conventions took an oath of office.

The practice in other States is not uniform. Jamison in his work on Constitutional Conventions states that "The question whether the members of a Convention should be sworn before entering upon their duties, has been variously answered in different Conventions. Of the whole number whose proceedings have been accessible to me, about one-half only have administered an oath."

Your committee are of the opinion that neither of the above recited provisions of the Constitution of the United States, or of this State, are applicable to Delegates to this Convention; that any oath of office which this Convention might prescribe to be taken by the Delegates would be extra judicial or voluntary; and that the Convention could not lawfully exclude from participation in its proceedings any Delegate who should refuse to take such an oath.

Your committee therefore recommend that no official oath be required to be taken by the Delegates to this Convention.

NATHAN PRATT,
W. C. SPRUANCE,
J. A. ELLEGOOD.

Mr. Martin moved the report be adopted and the committee discharged,

Which motion

Prevailed.

The President announced the following Committee on Invitation to the floor of the Convention:

Messrs. Dasey, Burris and Cooch.

The President announced the standing committees as follows:

Messrs. Richards, Martin, Murray, Saulsbury, Bradford and Cooch.

Rule 2.—Every day, before the Convention proceeds to other business, the Chaplain shall offer prayer and the Secretary shall call the names of the members in alphabetical order and read the journal of the previous session, which latter shall be corrected if necessary and adopted.

Rule 3.—Every motion, and (except motion for adjournment) the name of the member moving the same, on which a vote is taken, shall be entered on the journal.

Rule 4.—No member shall be allowed to speak upon any subject more than twice, except in explanation, without leave obtained through the President, and no member shall interrupt another while speaking, unless on points of order, and then only by permission of the President.

Rule 5.—All motions shall be subject to debate except motions to adjourn, to lay on the table, and for the previous question.

Rule 6.—All motions and resolutions except for the reading of reports, adjournments, to refer, or to postpone shall, if requested by the President or any member, be reduced to writing by the mover thereof, and, if seconded, shall be repeated by the President before any debate or decision is had thereon.

Rule 7.—Questions of order shall be determined by the President, without debate, from whose decision, however, an appeal may be had to the Convention at the request of three members.

Rule 8.—Petitions, memorials and all other papers addressed to the Convention, shall be presented by the President or a member, who shall briefly state the contents thereof without reading, unless called for by the Convention.

Rule 9.—All committees shall be appointed by the President unless otherwise ordered by the Convention.

Rule 10.—Special notice of action on any report of committee or other matter pertaining to the special ultimate work of the Convention,—i. e., the framing of a new Constitution,—shall be given the day preceding that on which said action is taken, and a vote of two-thirds of the members present shall be necessary to its adoption.

Rule 11.—A vote of the majority shall prevail except where special rule is had to the contrary.

Rule 12.—Unless otherwise ordered by a majority vote, the Convention shall meet every day, in one or more sessions as may be necessary—Sunday excepted—at eleven o'clock in the morning, and a majority shall constitute a quorum.

Rule 13.—The rules of parliamentary practice as contained in "Cushing's Manual" shall govern this Convention whenever and wherever applicable, and when not in conflict with the standing rules.

Rule 14.—The rules of proceeding in the Convention shall, as far as applicable, be observed in Committee of the Whole.

Rule 15.—No rule of this Convention shall be changed or suspended except by a vote of two-thirds of the members present.

Rule 16.—The daily order of business shall be, after the opening service, as follows:

- 1.—Calling the roll.
- 2.—Reading the journal and its adoption.
- 3.—Reports from standing committees in the order named.
- 4.—Reports from special committees.
- 5.—Presentation of petitions, memorials, &c.
- 6.—Business on the calendar.
- 7.—Miscellaneous business.

The Secretary shall keep a calendar of business, on which reports from committees, resolutions and other matters undisposed of, indicating the subject of each item, shall be placed in the order in which they are presented, a copy of which calendar he (Secretary) shall furnish to the President at the opening of the first session of each day. The business on the calendar shall be taken up and disposed of in the order in which it stands thereon, and a vote of two-thirds of the members present shall be required to take up any matter out of its order on said calendar or to make any matter the order of the day for a particular time.

Dover, Delaware, December 9, 1896.

To the Honorable Members of the Constitutional Convention.

Gentlemen:--In forming a new Constitution for our State of Delaware, we most earnestly request that you will so change the present Constitution as to enfranchise the women of our beloved State.

As you remember, Delaware was the first State to come into the Union, so now let her continue to be progressive and take this important step, giving the ballot to all citizens irrespective of sex.

This request is made by a large number of men and women in this Commonwealth that wish to see Delaware indeed a free State.

Respectfully yours,

MARTHA S. CRANSTON,

The Committee on the Governor and other Executive Officers recommend the following amendments to the Constitution:

Strike out all of Section 9 of Article III and substitute, in lieu thereof, the following:

"Section 9. He shall have the power to remit fines and forfeitures, to grant reprieves, commutations of sentence and pardons, except in cases of impeachment; but no pardon shall be granted, nor sentence commuted, except upon the recommendation in writing of the Chancellor, Speaker of the Senate, Attorney General and Secretary of State, or any three of them, after full hearing, and such recommendation, with the reasons therefor at length, shall be filed and recorded in the office of the Secretary of State, who shall forthwith notify the Governor thereof."

Strike out the word "second" in the last line of Section 3 of Article III, and insert in lieu thereof the word "third."

Insert next after the end of Section 13 of Article III, the following:

"Section 14. Every bill which shall have passed both Houses of the General Assembly shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor; if he approve he shall sign it, but if he shall not approve, he shall return it with his objections to the House in which it shall have originated, which House shall enter the objections at large on the journal and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of all the members elected to that House shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other House by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of all the members elected to that House, it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both Houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each House respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the Governor within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the General Assembly shall, by their adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the Governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the General Assembly unless approved by the Governor within thirty days after such adjournment. The Governor shall have power to disapprove of any item or items of any bill making appropriations of money, embracing distinct items, and the part or parts of the bill approved shall be the law, and the item or items of appropriation disapproved shall be void, unless repassed according to the rules and limitations prescribed for the passage of other bills over the Executive veto. Every order, resolution, or vote to which the concurrence of both Houses of the General Assembly may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment) shall be presented to the Governor; and before the same shall take effect shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him shall be repassed by two-thirds of all the members of each House of the General Assembly, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill."

EDWARD D. HEARNE,

The Journal was then approved as corrected.

Mr. Spruance, on behalf of the Committee on Elections, submitted a report which he read as follows:

The Committee on Elections recommend the following amendments to the Constitution:

Strike out the part of the third paragraph of Section I of Article IV beginning with the words "And in," and ending with the words "any tax," and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Every male citizen of the United States of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a citizen for three months, and a resident of this State one year next preceding an election, and for the last three months a resident of the county, and for the last thirty days a resident of the hundred or election district in which he may offer to vote, shall be entitled to vote at such election in the hundred or election district of which he shall at the time be a resident, for all officers that now are or hereafter may be elective by the people, and upon all questions which may be submitted to the vote of the people."

Insert next after Section I of Article IV, the following:

"Section 2. No person who shall receive, accept, or offer to receive, or pay, offer or promise to pay, contribute, offer or promise to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation or reward for the giving or withholding a vote at an election, or who shall make any promise to influence the giving or withholding any such vote, or who shall make or become directly or indirectly interested in any bet or wager depending upon the result of any election, shall vote at such election; and upon challenge for any of said causes, the person so challenged, before the officers authorized for that purpose shall receive his vote, shall swear or affirm, before such officers that he has not received or offered, does not expect to receive, has not paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed, offered or promised to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation or reward for the giving or withholding a vote at such election, and has not made any promise to influence the giving or withholding of any such vote, nor made or become directly or indirectly interested in any bet or wager depending upon the result of such election."

Section 3. The General Assembly shall provide by law for a uniform registration of the names of all the voters in this State who possess the qualifications prescribed in this article, which registration shall be conclusive evidence to the election officers of the right of every person thus registered to vote at any election thereafter held in this State, who is not disqualified under the provisions of the second section of this article; but no person shall vote at any election unless his name appears in the list of registered voters.

Such registration shall be commenced not more than ninety days nor less than sixty days before, and be completed not more than twenty days nor less than ten days before such election, and applications for registration may be made on at least five days during the said period.

Voters shall be registered upon personal application only, and each voter shall at the time of his registration pay a registration fee to be fixed by law, not exceeding——dollars.

The registry of voters, made in pursuance hereof, may be corrected as shall be provided by law.

Registration shall not be required for village, town or city elections except by express provision of law.

The existing laws in reference to the registration of voters shall continue in force until the General Assembly shall otherwise provide."

First report of the Committee on Securing the Purity of the Ballot:

The Committee on Securing the Purity of the Ballot recommend the adoption of the following as sections in the Constitution of Delaware, to be inserted under an appropriate title:

Section I. Every person who shall receive or accept, or offer to receive or accept, or shall pay, transfer or deliver, or offer or promise to pay, transfer or deliver, or shall contribute, or offer or promise to contribute, to another to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation, inducement or reward for the giving or withholding or in any manner influencing the giving or withholding a vote at any general, special, or municipal election in this State, or who shall make or become directly or indirectly a party to any bet or wager depending upon the result of any such election, or who shall by the use or promise of any money or other valuable thing or otherwise cause any officer of election or registration officer to violate his official duty, or who, being an officer of election or registration officer, shall knowingly and wilfully violate his official duty, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, or shall be imprisoned for a term not less than six months nor more than five years, or shall suffer both fine and imprisonment within said limits, at the discretion of the court, and, if a male, shall further for a term of ten years next following his sentence be incapable of voting at any such election. No person, other than the accused, shall in the prosecution for any offence mentioned in this section be permitted to withhold his testimony on the ground that it may criminate himself or subject him to public infamy; but such testimony shall not afterwards be used against him in any judicial proceeding, except for perjury in giving such testimony.

Section 2. Every prosecution for any of the offences mentioned in Section 1 of this Article shall be on information filed by the Attorney General, and the cause shall be heard, tried and determined by the court without the intervention of either a grand jury or a petit jury. The accused, if adjudged guilty of the offence charged against him, shall have the right at any time within the space of three calendar months next after sentence pronounced to an appeal to the Court of Errors and Appeals. The court below, or any judge thereof, in term time or vacation, shall upon application by the accused allow such appeal; but such appeal shall not operate as a supersedeas, unless the appellant shall at the time of the allowance thereof give an appeal bond to the State of Delaware in such amount and with such surety as shall be approved by such court or judge.

On such appeal the Court of Errors and Appeals shall, with all convenient speed, review the evidence adduced in the cause in the court below, as well as the other proceedings therein and the law applicable thereto, and give final judgment accordingly, either affirming or reversing the judgment below. If the appellant shall fail to prosecute his appeal pursuant to the rules and practice hereinafter provided for, the Court of Errors and Appeals shall affirm the judgment of the court below. Where the sentence in the court below includes a term of imprisonment and an appeal bond is given and approved in manner aforesaid, the Court of Errors and Appeals, if it affirm the judgment below, shall sentence the appellant to a term of imprisonment equal to that imposed by the court below after deducting therefrom a period equal to the time of imprisonment, if any, already suffered by him under the sentence of the court below. The surety or sureties in any appeal bond given under the provisions of this section shall have the right, at any time after its approval and until final judgment shall be rendered by the Court of Errors and Appeals, and, in case the judgment of the court below shall be affirmed, until the expiration of the space of thirty days next following such affirmance, to take, wherever found, and render the appellant to the sheriff of the proper county; and a certified copy of the appeal bond shall be the sufficient warrant for such surety or sureties for such taking and rendering.

All the judges entitled to sit in the Court of Errors and Appeals shall, as soon as conveniently may be, meet at the usual place of sitting of said court, and they, or a majority of them, shall adopt rules prescribing the forms and conditions of appeal bonds to be used under the provisions of this section, and the manner of certifying copies thereof; providing for the printing or reduction to writing of all oral evidence in the cause in the court below and of the opinion of said court, for the certification of the same when so printed or reduced to writing and of copies thereof, for the copying and certification of all documentary or other written or printed evidence in the cause in the court below and of the record therein; for the transmission to the Court of Errors and Appeals of such certified copies of such record, and of all the evidence adduced in the court below and of the opinion of said court; for the transmission to the court below of a certified copy of the final judgment of the Court of Errors and Appeals and of any additional sentence pronounced by said court, for the discharge of sureties in appeal bonds, and for the framing, issuance, service and enforcement of all process and rules necessary to give full effect to the provisions of this section; and regulating generally the practice and procedure of the Court of Errors and Appeals and the court below in cases of appeal under this section. From time to time hereafter whenever a majority of all the judges entitled to sit in the Court of Errors and Appeals shall so request, all of the judges so entitled shall, as soon as conveniently may be, meet at the usual place of sitting of said court; and they, or a majority of them, shall have power to revise, amend, add to or annul any rule or rules theretofore adopted touching forms, practice or procedure in cases of appeal under this section in such manner and to such extent as in their judgment shall best serve to effectuate the purposes hereof.

Mr. Gilchrist submitted the following communication from "The National League for the Protection of American Institutions," which, upon his motion, was read, viz:

New York, Dec. 9, 1896.

Hon. James B. Gilchrist, Dover, Delaware,

Dear Sir:—The Managers of the National League for the Protection of American Institutions take the liberty of forwarding to you the inclosed documents, which will advise you of the principles we advocate.

We desire especially to call your attention to our proposed form of XVI Amendment to the United States Constitution, which is now before Congress, and reads as follows:

"Neither Congress nor any State shall pass any law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof, or use the property or credit of the United States, or of any State, or any money raised by taxation, or authorize either to be used, for the purpose of founding, maintaining, or aiding, by appropriation, payment for services, expenses, or otherwise, any church, religious denomination or religious society, or any institution, society, or undertaking, which is wholly, or in part, under sectarian or ecclesiastical control."

We would most respectfully urge that it is of vital importance that the principles embodied in this proposed Amendment should find expression in the organic law of every State.

Twenty-six State Constitutions now contain provisions substantially in harmony with these principles, and we earnestly believe that it will be both wise and patriotic that you should, in the Constitution that you are now preparing for Delaware, provide for and protect the American Free Common School, and prohibit all sectarian appropriations.

The organization in whose behalf we have the honor of making this appeal is entirely open in its work, thoroughly non-partisan and un-sectarian in character, and has the confidence and endorsement of the most thoughtful citizens in every State of the Union.

A formal Memorial has been mailed to the President of the Convention, and we urgently plead for your favorable consideration and action.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. KING, General Secretary,

For the National League for the Protection of American Institutions.

Mr. Pratt, on behalf of the Committee on Corporations, presented and read the first report of said committee, as follows:

Report of the Committee on Corporations.

The Committee on Corporations recommend the following amendments to the Constitution:

Strike out all of Section 17 of Article II and insert in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. The term corporations as used in this Article shall be construed to include all associations and joint stock companies having any of the powers or privileges of corporations not possessed by individuals or partnerships. And all corporations shall have the right to sue and shall be subject to be sued in all courts, in like cases as natural persons.

Section 2. No corporation in existence at the adoption of this Constitution shall have the benefit of future legislation without first filing, under the corporate seal of said corporation, and duly attested, in the office of the Secretary of State, an acceptance of the provisions of this Constitution.

Section 3. All existing charters or grants of special and exclusive privileges under which a bona fide organization shall not have taken place and business been commenced in good faith at the time of the adoption of this Constitution shall thereafter be void and of no effect.

Section 4. Corporations may be formed under general laws, but shall not be created by special act, nor shall any existing charter be extended, changed or amended by special laws, except municipal corporations and corporations for charitable, penal, reformatory, or educational purposes under the patronage of the State.

The General Assembly shall also by general laws provide for the revocation or forfeiture of the charters of any or all corporations guilty of abuse or misuse of their corporate powers, privileges or franchises or whenever said corporations become detrimental to the interests or welfare of the State or its citizens.

No corporation, however, under such general law shall exercise the franchises thereby conferred until one-fifth of the par value of its authorized capital stock shall have been actually paid in, in cash.

Section 5. No corporation shall issue stocks or bonds except for money paid, labor done or personal property in actual possession, or the fee simple title to real estate actually acquired by such corporation, and neither labor nor property shall be received in payment of stock or bonds at a greater value than the market price at the time the said labor was done or property delivered or title acquired.

The stock and bonded indebtedness of corporations shall not be increased except in pursuance of general law, nor without the consent of persons holding the larger amount in value of the stock, first obtained at a meeting called for the purpose, sixty days public notice thereof having been first given, as may be provided by law.

Section 6. Each owner of stock in any private corporation to be conducted for pecuniary profit shall be individually liable for the debts of such corporation in an amount which, together with the real value of the stock owned by him, will amount to the full value of such stock, and such additional liability as shall be prescribed by law.

Section 7. No appropriation of the public money shall be made to, nor the bonds of this State be issued or loaned to, nor shall the credit of the State, by the guarantee or the endorsement of the bonds or other undertakings of any county, municipality or corporation, be pledged otherwise than by enactment of the Legislature, receiving the affirmative vote of two-thirds of all the members of each branch thereof, and subsequently approved by a majority of all the votes cast at the next general election held after such enactment.

Section 8. No corporation shall engage in any business other than that expressly authorized in its charter or the law under which it may have been or may hereafter be organized; nor shall it hold any real estate for a longer period than six years, except such as may be necessary and proper for carrying on its legitimate business.

Section 9. All corporations formed under the laws of this State, or carrying on business in this State, shall, at all times, have one or more known places of business in this State and an authorized agent or agents there upon whom process may be executed, and the General Assembly shall enact laws to carry into effect the provisions of this section.

Section 10. No corporation organized outside the limits of this State shall be allowed to transact business within the State on more favorable conditions than are prescribed by law to similar corporations organized under the laws of this State.

Section 11. Any association or corporation, or the lessees or managers thereof, organized for the purpose, or any individual, shall have the right to construct and maintain lines of telegraph within this State, and to connect the same with other lines, and said companies shall receive and transmit each others messages without unreasonable delay or discrimination, and all such companies are hereby declared to be common carriers and subject to legislative control.

Telephone companies operating exchanges in different towns or cities, or other public stations, shall receive and transmit each others messages without unreasonable delay or discrimination.

The General Assembly shall, by general laws of uniform operation, provide reasonable regulations to give full effect to this section.

Nothing herein shall be construed to interfere with the rights of cities or towns to arrange and control their streets and alleys, and to designate the places at which, and the manner in which, the wires of such companies shall be erected or laid within the limit of such city or town.

Section 12. The exercise of the police powers of the State shall never be abridged or so construed as to permit corporations to conduct their business in such manner as to infringe the equal rights of individuals or the general well-being of the State.

Section 13. It shall be the duty of the General Assembly, from time to time, as necessity may require it, to enact such laws as may be necessary to prevent all corporations, trusts, pools, combinations or other organizations, now in existence or hereafter to be created under general laws of this State, from combining with any other corporation, trust, pool, combination or other organization of this or any other State, for the purpose of depreciating below its real value any article, or to enhance the cost of any article above its real value, or for the purpose of operating the corporate powers, functions or franchises conferred upon any such corporation, trust, pool, combination or other organization under the name and title which the combination effected shall adopt, and to cause all such combinations to work the forfeiture of all powers conferred.

"Mr. President: By suggestion of a number of Delegates in this Convention, and also in accordance with my personal feelings, I ask my fellow-members to suspend for a few minutes procedure with the work committed to their care and direct it to a solemn event which an act of Divine Providence has commended to our consideration. But a few days since the unexpected and painful intelligence reached us of the death of the Hon. Edward L. Martin, who expired on the 22d day of January at his late residence near Seaford, Sussex county, Delaware.

"I offer the following resolutions as expressive of the sentiment of the Convention in relation to the same:

"Resolved, That this Convention has heard with profound regret the formal announcement of the death of the Hon. Edward L. Martin, an honored citizen of this State, highly esteemed for his ability and integrity and for the eminent public service he has rendered the people of this State.

"Resolved, That this Convention, while expressing regret at the loss which the State has incurred, feels it due to itself and to others to offer the expression of its deep sympathy to the bereaved family of Mr. Martin, and to the community of which he had so long been an honored and valued member.

"Resolved, That the President be and he is hereby requested to communicate these resolutions, properly attested by the Secretary of the Convention, to the family of our deceased friend."

Wales, an illustrious citizen of our State, an eminent jurist, a loyal friend and true patriot, and an upright Christian gentleman, of whom it may be truly said, he had but few equals. I therefore offer the following, and move its adoption by the Convention:

"Resolved, That we have learned with profound regret of the death of the late Judge Leonard E. Wales, who, as a soldier in the late war, as a judge in the courts of this State for twenty years, and a judge in the Federal courts for thirteen years, endeared himself to the people of this Commonwealth as a brave soldier, an able and impartial judge and one of our foremost citizens.

"Resolved, That the members of this Convention hereby tender to the family of the deceased our sincere sympathy in their great bereavement, and mourn with them their loss and the loss to our people.

"Resolved, That the President of this Convention be instructed to forward a copy of these resolutions, duly attested by the Secretary, to the family of the deceased."

The resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Second report of the Committee on Elections.

The Committee on Elections recommend the following amendments to the Constitution:

Strike out the part of the third paragraph of Section 1 of Article IV beginning with the words "And in" and ending with the words "any tax" and insert in lieu thereof the following:

Every male citizen of this State of the age of twenty-one years who shall have been a resident of this State one year next preceding an election, and for the last three months a resident of the county, and for the last fifteen days a resident of the hundred or election district in which he may offer to vote, and in which he shall have been duly registered as hereinafter provided for, shall be entitled to vote at such election in the hundred or election district of which he shall at the time be a resident, and in which he shall be registered, for all officers that now are or hereafter may be elected by the people and upon all questions which may be submitted to the vote of the people.

Provided, however, that no person who shall attain the age of twenty-one years after the first day of January, A. D., 1900, or after that date shall become a citizen of the United States, shall have the right to vote unless he shall be able to read this Constitution in the English language and write his name; but these requirements shall not apply to any person who by reason of physical disability shall be unable to comply therewith.

Insert next after Section 1 of Article IV the following:

Section 2. No person who shall receive or accept, or offer to receive or accept, or shall pay, transfer, or deliver, or offer, or promise to pay, transfer or deliver, or shall contribute or offer or promise to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation, inducement or reward for the registering or the abstaining from registering of any one qualified to register, or the giving or withholding, or in any manner influencing the giving or withholding, a vote at any general, special or municipal election in this State, shall vote at such election; and upon challenge for any of said causes, the person so challenged, before the officers authorized for that purpose shall receive his vote, shall swear or affirm before such officers that he has not received or accepted or offered to receive or accept, or paid, transferred, delivered, or offered or promised to pay, transfer or deliver, or contributed or offered or promised to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money, or other valuable thing as a compensation, inducement or reward for the registering or the abstaining from registering of any one qualified to register, or for the giving or withholding, or in any manner influencing the giving or withholding, a vote at such election.

Such oath or affirmation shall be conclusive evidence to the election officers of the truth of such oath or affirmation, but if any such oath or affirmation shall be false, the person making the same shall be guilty of perjury; but no conviction thereof shall bar any prosecution under Section 2 of Article — of this Constitution.

Section 3. The General Assembly shall provide by law for a uniform registration of the names of all the voters in this State who possess the qualifications prescribed in this Article, which registration shall be conclusive evidence to the election officers of the right of every person thus registered to vote at any election thereafter held in this State, who is not disqualified under the provisions of the second section of this Article; but no person shall vote at any election unless his name appears in the list of registered voters.

Such registration shall be commenced not more than ninety days nor less than sixty days before and be completed not more than twenty days nor less than ten days before such election, and application for registration may be made on at least five days during the said period.

Provided, however, that such registration may be corrected as hereinafter provided, at any time prior to the day of holding the election.

Voters shall be registered upon personal application only, and each voter shall, at the time of his registration, pay a registration fee of fifty cents.

The registry of voters made in pursuance hereof may be corrected; and from the decision of the registration officers granting or refusing registration, or striking or refusing to strike a name or names from the registration list, any person interested or any registration officer, may appeal to the resident judge of the county, whose determination shall be final, and he shall have power to order any name improperly omitted from the said registry to be placed thereon, and any name improperly appearing on the said registry to be stricken therefrom, and to make and enforce all necessary orders in the premises.

Registration shall not be required for village, town or city elections except by express provision of law.

The existing laws in reference to the registration of voters, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Article, shall continue in force until the General Assembly shall otherwise provide.

Strike out of the tenth line of the third paragraph of Section 1 of Article IV the word "Provided" and insert in lieu thereof the words "And Provided also."

Make Section 2 of Article IV, Section 4.

Section 2. A State Superintendent of public instruction shall be appointed by the Governor, and confirmed by the Senate, for a term of four years, or until his successor is duly qualified; whose powers, duties and compensation shall be defined by the General Assembly, which may also provide for County Superintendents and such other officers as may be necessary.

Section 3. A tax of not less than one mill, nor more than three mills, on all the taxable property of the State, shall be levied annually, and together with the proceeds from the investments known as the school fund distributed to the several school districts of the State as the General Assembly shall direct; and the fund so distributed shall be used exclusively for the payment of tuition; provided, however, that in such distribution, no distinction shall be made on account of race or color, and separate schools for white and colored children shall be maintained. All local contingent expenses, for school buildings and maintaining schools, shall be paid by the district incurring the same, as the General Assembly shall direct.

Section 4. The General Assembly shall, within two years after this Constitution goes into effect, provide for a general and uniform system of Free Public Schools throughout the State, and may require by law that every child, not physically or mentally disabled, shall attend the public school, unless educated by other means.

Section 5. No portion of any fund now existing, or that which may hereafter be appropriated, or raised by tax for educational purposes, shall be appropriated to, or used by, or in aid of any church, sectarian, or denominational school.

Section 6. All monies received by the State from school taxes, State appropriations, income from stocks or bonds, and all other monies received for school purposes, shall be inviolably used for the support and maintenance of the public schools of this State.

Mr. Spruance, on behalf of the Committee on Elections, submitted and read the third report of said committee, as follows:

Third report of the Committee on Elections.

The Committee on Elections recommend the following amendments to Article IV of the Constitution:

Substitute for the first and second paragraphs of Section 1 of said Article the following:

Section 1. The general election shall be held biennially on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in the month of November, and shall be by ballot, but the Legislature may by law prescribe the means, methods and instruments of voting so as to best secure secrecy and the independence of the voter, preserve the freedom and purity of elections and prevent fraud, corruption and intimidation thereat.

Insert next after the word "felony" in the fifteenth line of the third paragraph of Section 1 of said Article the following:

"Or incapacitated under the provisions of this Constitution from voting."

Add the following section to said Article:

Section —. Boards of canvass as now established by law are abolished.

The presiding election officer of each hundred or election district shall, on the next day after the election, deliver one of the certificates of the election, made and certified as required by law, together with the ballot boxes, to the Prothonotary of the Superior Court of the county, who shall, before 12 o'clock noon on the second day after the election, present the same to the said court; and thereupon the said court, with the aid of such of its officers and such sworn assistants as the court shall appoint, shall publicly, in the presence of such electors of the county as shall think proper to be present, ascertain the state of the election throughout the county, by calculating the aggregate amount of all the votes for each office that shall be given in all the hundreds and election districts of the county, for every person voted for for such office.

The said court shall have all of the powers now vested in the Board of Canvass and such other powers as shall be provided by law.

After the state of the election shall have been ascertained as aforesaid, the said court shall make certificates thereof, under the seal of said court, in the form required by law, and transmit, deliver and lodge the same as required by this Constitution or by law, and deliver the ballot boxes to the sheriff of the county, to be by him kept and delivered as required by law.

The committee further recommend that the second report of the committee be amended by striking out of the twenty-first line of Section 3 the words "fifty cents" and substituting in lieu thereof the words "one dollar."

First report of the Committee on Revenue and Taxation.

Section 1. The General Assembly shall provide by law for an annual revenue, which with other resources shall be sufficient to defray the estimated expenses of the State for each fiscal year. Taxes shall be levied and collected for public purposes only. They shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax, and shall be levied and collected under general laws, but the General Assembly may by general laws exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes, actual places of religious worship, places of burial not used or held for private or corporate profit.

Section 2. No bill, from the operation of which, when passed into a law, revenue may incidentally arise, shall be accounted a bill for raising revenue; nor shall any matter or clause whatever not immediately relating to and necessary for raising revenue be in any manner blended with or annexed to a bill for raising revenue.

Section 3. No debt shall be created by or on behalf of the State, except to supply casual deficiencies of revenue, repel invasions, suppress insurrection, defend the State in war, or to pay existing debts; and all laws authorizing the borrowing of money by and on behalf of the State shall specify the purpose for which the money is to be used, and the money so borrowed shall be used for the purpose specified and no other.

Section 4. No appropriation of the public money shall be made to, nor the bonds of this State be issued or loaned to, nor shall the credit of the State, by the guarantee or the endorsement of the bonds or other undertakings of any county, municipality or corporation, be pledged otherwise than by enactment of the Legislature receiving the affirmative vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each branch thereof, and subsequently approved by a majority of all the votes cast at the next general election held after such enactment.

Section 5. The General Assembly may authorize the several counties and incorporated cities and towns of the State to assess and impose taxes for county and municipal purposes within their own limits. The General Assembly may also provide for laying a capitation tax and a tax on licenses, but said capitation tax shall not exceed the sum of one dollar a year and shall be applied exclusively to common school purposes.

Section 6. No money shall be drawn from the treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law, and a regular statement and account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published annually.

Section 7. In all assessments of real estate for taxation, the value of the land and the value of the buildings and improvements thereon shall be included. The foregoing provisions of this section shall apply to all assessments of real estate for taxation for State, county, hundred, school, municipal or other public purposes.

Second report of the Committee on Revenue and Taxation:

Section 1. All taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax, and shall be levied and collected under general laws, but the General Assembly may by general laws exempt from taxation such property as in the opinion of the General Assembly will best promote the public interests.

Section 2. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose alterations as on other bills; and no bill, from the operation of which, when passed into a law, revenue may incidentally arise, shall be accounted a bill for raising revenue; nor shall any matter or clause whatever not immediately relating to and necessary for raising revenue be in any manner blended with or annexed to a bill for raising revenue.

Section 3. No money shall be borrowed or debt created by or on behalf of the State but pursuant to an act of the General Assembly which shall receive the concurrence of three-fourths of all the members elected to each House, except to supply occasional deficiencies of revenue, repel invasion, suppress insurrections, defend in the State in war, or pay existing debts; and any law authorizing the borrowing of money by or on behalf of the State shall specify the purpose for which the money is to be borrowed, and the money so borrowed shall be used exclusively for such purpose; but should the money so borrowed, or any part thereof, be left after the abandonment of such purpose or the accomplishment thereof, such money or the surplus thereof may be disposed of according to law.

Section 4. No appropriation of the public money shall be made to, nor the bonds of this State be issued or loaned to, nor shall the credit of the State, by the guarantee or the endorsement of the bonds or other undertakings of any county, municipality or corporation, be pledged otherwise than by enactment of the Legislature receiving the affirmative vote of three-fourths of all the members elected to each branch thereof.

Section 5. The General Assembly may also provide for levying a capitation tax upon every male citizen of the State of the age of twenty-one years and over, but said capitation tax shall not exceed the sum of one dollar a year and shall be used exclusively in the county in which it is collected and for maintaining the roads and bridges of such county.

Section 6. No money shall be drawn from the treasury but pursuant to an appropriation made by bill enacted into law, and a regular account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published annually, provided, however, that the compensation of members of the General Assembly and all expenses connected with the session thereof may be paid out of the treasury pursuant to a joint resolution in that behalf.

Section 7. In all assessments of real estate for taxation, the value of the land and the value of the buildings and improvements thereon shall be included. And in all assessments of the rental value of real estate for taxation, the rental value of the land and the rental value of the buildings and the improvements thereon shall be included. The foregoing provisions of this section shall apply to all assessments of real estate or the rental value thereof for the taxation for State, county, hundred, school, municipal or other public purposes.

Section 8. No county, city, town or other municipality shall loan its credit or appropriate money to, or assume the debt or become a shareholder or joint owner in or with, any private corporation or any person or company whatever. Neither shall any county, school district or municipal corporation become indebted in any manner or for any purpose to an amount exceeding ten per centum on the assessed value of the real estate therein, said value to be ascertained by the last assessment for county taxes prior to the incurring such indebtedness, and all contracts by which indebtedness beyond such limits would be incurred by any municipal corporation shall be void. Any county, school district or municipal corporation incurring any indebtedness shall, at or before the time of so doing, provide for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest and also the principal thereof within twenty years.

Mr. Spruance submitted the second report of the Committee on Judiciary, which was read, as follows:

Second report of the Committee on the Judiciary.

The Committee on the Judiciary recommends that the following be substituted for Article VI of the Constitution:

ARTICLE VI.

Section 1. The judicial power of this State shall be vested in a Supreme Court, a Superior Court, a Court of Chancery, an Orphans' Court, a Court of Oyer and Terminer, a Court of General Sessions, a Register's Court, Justices of the Peace and such other courts as the General Assembly, with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House, shall from time to time by law establish.

Section 2. There shall be six State judges; one of them shall be Chancellor, one of them Chief Justice and the other four of them Associate Judges.

The Chancellor, Chief Justice and one of the Associate Judges may be appointed from and reside in any part of the State. The other three Associate Judges may be appointed from any part of the State, but no two of them shall reside in the same county.

In case the commissions of two or more of the Associate Judges shall be of the same date, they shall, as soon as conveniently may be after their appointment, determine their seniority by lot, and certify the result to the Governor.

Section 3. The Chancellor, Chief Justice and Associate Judges shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of three-fifths of all the members elected to the Senate, for the term of twelve years, if they shall so long behave themselves well, and if a vacancy shall occur, by expiration of term or otherwise, at a time when the Senate shall not be in session, the Governor shall within thirty days after the happening of any such vacancy convene the Senate for the purpose of confirming his appointment to fill said vacancy, and such other executive business as may come before it for action. Such vacancy shall be filled as aforesaid for the full term.

The said appointments shall be such, that no more than three of the said six judges, in office at the same time, shall have been appointed from the same political party.

Section 4. Any of the said judges shall have the right to resign his office after reaching the age of seventy years, and thereafter receive the full salary attached to the office until the end of the term for which he was appointed, provided, that during said term and before his resignation, he shall have continued in the active discharge of his office for at least one-half of said term.

Section 5. The Chancellor, Chief Justice and Associate Judges shall respectively receive from the State for their services a compensation which shall be fixed by law and paid quarterly, and shall not be less than the annual sum of three thousand dollars, and they shall not receive any fees or perquisites in addition to their salaries for business done by them, except as provided by law. They shall hold no other office of profit.

Section 6. The Chief Justice and the four Associate Judges shall be the judges of the Superior Court, the Court of General Sessions and the Court of Oyer and Terminer.

They shall designate those of their number who shall hold the said courts in the several counties; but no more than three of them shall sit together in any of the said courts. In each of the said courts the Chief Justice, when present, shall preside, and in his absence the senior Associate Judge present shall preside. Two shall constitute a quorum in the said courts respectively, but one may open and adjourn court.

Section 7. The Superior Court shall have jurisdiction of all causes of a civil nature, real, personal and mixed, at common law, and all other the jurisdiction and powers vested by the laws of this State in the Superior Court.

Section 8. The Court of General Sessions shall have all the jurisdiction and powers vested by the laws of this State in the Court of General Sessions of the Peace and Jail Delivery.

Section 9. The Court of Oyer and Terminer shall have all the jurisdiction and powers vested by the laws of this State in the Court of Oyer and Terminer.

Section 10. Two sessions of the Superior Court, Court of General Sessions or Court of Oyer and Terminer may at the same time be held in the same county or in different counties, and the business in the several counties may be distributed and apportioned in such manner as shall be provided by the rules of the said courts respectively.

Section 11. The Chancellor shall hold the Court of Chancery. This court shall have all the jurisdiction and powers vested by the laws of this State in the Court of Chancery.

Section 12. The Orphans' Court in each county shall consist of the Chancellor and the Associate Judge required to reside in the county. The Chancellor, when present, shall preside. One of them shall constitute a quorum.

When their opinions are opposed, or when the decision is made by one of them, or when the decision is made by both of them in matters involving a right to real estate or the appraised value or other value thereof, there shall be an appeal to the Superior Court for the county, which shall have final jurisdiction in every such case. Upon such appeal if the Associate Judge sat in the cause below, he shall not sit in the Superior Court. In all other cases the decision of the Orphans' Court shall be final.

This court shall have all the jurisdiction and powers vested by the laws of this State in the Orphans' Court.

Section 13. The Supreme Court shall have jurisdiction, as follows:

1. To issue writs of error to the Superior Court and to determine finally all matters in error in the judgments and proceedings of said Superior Court.

2. To issue upon application of the accused, after conviction and sentence, writs of error to the Court of Oyer and Terminer and the Court of General Sessions in all cases in which the sentence shall be death, or imprisonment exceeding six months, and in such other cases as shall be provided by law; and to determine finally all matters in error in the judgments and proceedings of said Court of Oyer and Terminer and Court of General Sessions in such cases; provided, however, that there shall be no writ of error to the Court of General Sessions in cases of prosecutions under Section 2 of Article — of this Constitution.

3. To receive appeals from the Court of General Sessions in cases of prosecutions under Section 2 of Article — of this Constitution, and to determine finally all matters of appeal in such cases.

4. To receive appeals from the Court of Chancery, and to determine finally all matters of appeal in the interlocutory or final decrees and proceedings in Chancery.

Section 14. The Supreme Court upon a writ of error to the Superior Court, Court of Oyer and Terminer, or Court of General Sessions, or upon appeal from the Court of General Sessions, shall consist of the Chancellor and such of the other five judges as did not sit in the cause below. The Chancellor when present shall preside, and in his absence the Chief Justice when present shall preside, and in his absence the senior Associate Judge present shall preside. Any three of them shall constitute a quorum, and one of them may open and adjourn the court.

Section 15. The Supreme Court upon an appeal from the Court of Chancery shall consist of the Chief Justice and the four Associate Judges.

The Chief Justice when present shall preside, and in his absence the senior Associate Judge present shall preside. Any three of them shall constitute a quorum, and one of them may open and adjourn the court.

Section 16. Whenever the Superior Court, Court of Oyer and Terminer or Court of General Sessions shall consider that a question of law ought to be heard by the Court in Banc, they shall have power, upon application of either party, to direct it to be so heard; and in that case the Court in Banc shall consist of the Chief Justice and the four Associate Judges. The Chief Justice when present shall preside, and in his absence the senior Associate Judge present shall preside. Any four of them shall constitute a quorum, and one of them may open and adjourn the court.

The Superior Court, Court of Oyer and Terminer or Court of General Sessions in exercising this power, may direct a cause to be proceeded in to verdict or judgment in that court, or to be otherwise proceeded in, as shall be best for expediting justice.

Section 17. In matters of chancery jurisdiction in which the Chancellor is interested or otherwise disqualified, the Chief Justice shall have jurisdiction, and there shall be an appeal to the Supreme Court, which shall in this case consist of the four Associate Judges, the senior Associate Judge present presiding. Any three of them shall constitute a quorum, and one of them may open and adjourn the court.

Section 18. The Governor shall have power to commission a judge ad litem for the purpose of constituting a quorum in the Superior Court, Court of Oyer and Terminer, Court of General Sessions or Supreme Court, where by reason of legal exception to the Chancellor or any judge a quorum could not otherwise be had. The commission in such case shall confine the office to the cause, and it shall expire on the determination of the cause. The judge so appointed shall receive a reasonable compensation to be fixed by the General Assembly. A member of Congress, or any person holding or exercising an office under the United States, shall not be disqualified from being appointed a judge ad litem.

Section 19. The jurisdiction of each of the aforesaid courts shall be co-extensive with the State. Process may be issued out of each court, in either county, into every county.

Section 20. The General Assembly, notwithstanding anything contained in this Article, shall have power to repeal or alter any act of the General Assembly giving jurisdiction to the Court of Oyer and Terminer, the Superior Court, the Court of General Sessions of the Peace and Jail Delivery, the Orphans' Court, or the Court of Chancery, in any matter, or giving any power to either of said courts. The General Assembly shall also have power to confer upon the Court of Oyer and Terminer, the Superior Court, the Court of General Sessions, the Orphans' Court and the Court of Chancery jurisdiction and powers additional to those hereinbefore mentioned. Until the General Assembly shall otherwise direct, there shall be an appeal to the Supreme Court in all cases in which there is an appeal, according to any act of the General Assembly, to the Court of Errors and Appeals.

Section 21. Until the General Assembly shall otherwise provide, the Chancellor shall exercise all the powers which any law of this State vests in the Chancellor, beside the general powers of the Court of Chancery; and the Chief Justice and Associate Judges shall each singly exercise all the powers which any law of this State vests in the judges singly of the Superior Court.

Section 22. Judges shall not charge juries with respect to matters of fact, but may state the questions of fact in issue and declare the law.

Section 23. In civil causes where matters of fact are at issue, if the parties agree, such matters of fact shall be tried by the court, and judgment rendered upon their decision thereon as upon a verdict by a jury.

Section 24. In civil causes, when pending, the Superior Court shall have the power, before judgment, of directing upon such terms as they shall deem reasonable, amendments, impleadings and legal proceedings, so that by error in any of them, the determination of causes, according to their real merits, shall not be hindered; and also of directing the examination of witnesses that are aged, very infirm, or going out of the State, upon interrogatories de bene esse, to be read in evidence, in case of the death or departure of the witnesses before the trial or inability by reason of age, sickness, bodily infirmity, or imprisonment, then to attend; and also the power of obtaining evidence from places not within the State.

Section 25. At any time pending an action for debt or damages, the defendant may bring into court a sum of money for discharging the same, together with the cost then accrued, and the plaintiff not accepting the same, if upon the final decision of the cause he shall not recover a greater sum than that so paid into court for him, he shall not recover any costs accruing after such payment, except where the plaintiff is an executor or administrator.

Section 26. By the death of any party, no suit in chancery or at law, where the cause of action survives, shall abate, but until the General Assembly shall otherwise provide, suggestion of such death being entered of record, the executor or administrator of a deceased petitioner or plaintiff may prosecute the said suit; and if a respondent or defendant dies, the executor or administrator being duly served with a scire facias, thirty days before the return thereof, shall be considered as a party to the suit, in the same manner as if he had voluntarily made himself a party; and in any of those cases, the court shall pass a decree, or render judgment for or against executors or administrators, as to right appertains. But where an executor or administrator of a deceased respondent or defendant becomes a party, the court upon motion shall grant such a continuance of the cause as to the judges shall appear proper.

Section 27. Whenever a person, not being an executor or administrator, appeals from a decree of the Chancellor, or applies for a writ of error, such appeal or writ shall be no stay of proceeding in the chancery, or the court to which the writ issues, unless the appellant or plaintiff in error shall give sufficient security, to be approved respectively by the Chancellor, or by a judge of the court from which the writ issues, that the appellant or plaintiff in error shall prosecute respectively his appeal or writ to effect, and pay the condemnation money and all cost, or otherwise abide the decree in appeal or the judgment in error, if he fails to make his plea good.

Section 28. No writ of error shall be brought upon any judgment heretofore confessed, entered or rendered, but within five years from this time; nor upon any judgment hereafter to be confessed, entered or rendered, but within five years after the confessing, entering, or rendering thereof; unless the person entitled to such writ be an infant, feme covert, non compos mentis, or a prisoner, and then within five years exclusive of the time of such disability.

Section 29. The Prothonotary of the Superior Court may issue process, take recognizances of bail and enter judgments, according to law and the practice of the court. No judgment in one county shall bind lands or tenements in another, until a testatum fieri facias being issued, shall be entered of record in the office of the prothonotary of the county wherein the lands or tenements are situate.

Section 30. The General Assembly may by law give to any inferior courts by them established, or to be established, or to one or more justices of the peace, jurisdiction of criminal matters where the punishment cannot exceed a fine of fifty dollars, or imprisonment for thirty days, or both. The General Assembly may by law regulate this jurisdiction, and provide that the proceedings shall be with or without indictment by grand jury, or trial by petit jury, and may grant or deny the privilege of appeal to the Court of General Sessions. The matters within this section are hereby expected and excluded from the provision of the Constitution, that "no person shall for any indictable offence be proceeded against criminally by information" and also from the provisions of the Constitution concerning trial by jury.

Section 31. There shall be appointed, as hereinafter provided, such number of persons to the office of Justice of the Peace as shall be provided by law, who shall be commissioned for five years, if so long they shall behave themselves well.

Section 32. Justices of the Peace and the judges of such courts as the General Assembly may establish pursuant to the provisions of Section 1 or Section 30 of this Article shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of three-fifths of all the members elected to the Senate, for such terms as shall be fixed by this Constitution or by law, if so long they shall behave themselves well; and if a vacancy shall occur, by expiration of term or otherwise, at a time when the Senate shall not be in session such vacancy shall be filled by appointment by the Governor until the Senate shall next be in session.

Section 33. The Governor may for any reasonable cause, in his discretion, remove any judge or justice of the peace on the address of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House of the General Assembly. In all cases where the General Assembly shall so address the Governor, the cause of removal shall be entered on the journals of each House. The person against whom the General Assembly may be about to proceed shall receive such notice thereof, accompanied with the cause alleged for his removal, at least ten days before the day on which either House of the General Assembly shall act thereupon.

Section 34. The Registers of Wills of the several counties shall respectively hold the Register's Court in each county. Upon the litigation of a cause the depositions of the witnesses examined shall be taken at large in writing, and make part of the proceedings in the cause. This court may issue process throughout the State to compel the attendance of witnesses. Appeals may be made from a Register's Court to the Superior Court, whose decisions shall be final. In cases where a Register of Wills is interested in questions concerning the probate of wills, the granting of letters of administration, or executors' or administrators' accounts, the cognizance thereof shall belong to the Orphans' Court, with an appeal to the Superior Court, whose decision shall be final.

Section 35. An executor or administrator shall file every account with the Register of Wills for the county, who shall, as soon as conveniently may be, carefully examine the particulars with the proofs thereof, in the presence of such executor or administrator, and shall adjust and settle the same, according to the very right of the matter, and the law of the land; which account so settled shall remain in his office for inspection; and the executor or administrator shall within three months after such settlement give notice in writing to all persons entitled to shares of the estate, or to their guardians respectively, if residing within the State, that the account is lodged in the said office for inspection.

Exceptions may be made by persons concerned to both sides of every such account, either denying the justice of the allowances made to the accountant, or alleging further charges against him; and the exceptions shall be heard in the Orphans' Court for the county; and thereupon the account shall be adjusted and settled according to the right of the matter and law of the land.

Section 36. The style in all process and public acts shall be the THE STATE OF DELAWARE. Prosecutions shall be carried on in the name of the State.

Fourth report of the Committee on Elections.

The Committee on Elections recommend that the following section be added to Article IV, as adopted in Committee of the Whole:

Section 6. The presiding election officer of each hundred or election district shall, on the day next after the general election, deliver one of the certificates of the election, made and certified as required by law, together with the ballot boxes, containing the ballots, the other certificate of election and such other papers as shall by law be required to be placed therein, to the Prothonotary of the Superior Court of the county, who shall at 12 o'clock noon on the second day after the election present the same to the said court, which shall convene for the performance of the duties hereby imposed upon it; and thereupon the said court, with the aid of such of its officers and such sworn assistants as it shall appoint, shall publicly ascertain the state of the election throughout the county, by calculating the aggregate amount of all the votes for each office that shall be given in all the hundreds and election districts of the county for every person voted for for such office.

In case the certificate of election of any hundred or election district shall not be produced, or in case of complaint under oath of fraud or mistake in any such certificate, or in case fraud or mistake is apparent on the face of any such certificate, the court shall have power to issue summary process against the election officers or any other persons to bring them forthwith into court with the election papers in their possession or control, and to open the ballot boxes and take therefrom any paper contained therein, and to make a re-count of the ballots contained therein, and to correct any fraud or mistake in any certificate or paper relating to such election.

The said court shall have all other the jurisdiction and powers now vested by law in the Boards of Canvass, and such other powers shall be provided by law.

After the state of the election shall have been ascertained as aforesaid, the said court shall make certificates thereof, under the seal of said court, in the form required by law, and transmit, deliver and lodge the same as required by this Constitution or by law, and deliver the ballot-boxes to the sheriff of the county, to be by him kept and delivered as required by law.

For the purposes of this section the Superior Court shall consist in New Castle county of the Chief Justice and the resident Associate Judge; in Kent county of the Chancellor and the resident Associate Judge; and in Sussex county of the resident Associate Judge and the remaining Associate Judge.

Two shall constitute a quorum. The Governor shall have power to commission a judge for the purpose of constituting a quorum when by reason of legal exception to the Chancellor or any judge, or for any other cause, a quorum could not otherwise be had.

Report of Committee on Crimes, Punishments and Impeachments:

ARTICLE VI.

Section 1. The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeaching; but two-thirds of all the members must concur in an impeachment. All impeachments shall be tried by the Senate, and when sitting for that purpose, the Senators shall be upon oath or affirmation to do justice according to the evidence. No person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of all the Senators.

Section 2. The Governor and all other civil officers under this State shall be liable to impeachment for treason, bribery, or any high crime and misdemeanor in office. Judgment in such cases shall not extend further than to removal from office and disqualification to hold any office of honor, trust, or profit, under this State; but the party convicted shall, nevertheless, be subject to indictment, trial, judgment, and punishment according to law.

Section 3. Treason against this State shall consist only in levying war against it, or in adhering to the enemies of the Government, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason, unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

Section 4. If any officer whose office is established by this Constitution, or shall be established by law, shall become incapable of the proper discharge of the duties of his office by reason of protracted physical disability or incompetency, or from other sufficient cause less than cause of impeachment, such officer may be removed by the Governor, application to that effect being made to him by a concurrence of two-thirds of each branch of the General Assembly.

Mr. Ellegood, on behalf of the Committee on Manufacture and Sale of Intoxicating Liquors, submitted its first report, which was read, as follows:

Majority report of the Committee on the Manufacture and Sale of Intoxicating Liquors.

The Committee on Manufacture and Sale of Intoxicating Liquors recommend the adoption of the following, as sections in the Constitution of Delaware, to be inserted under an appropriate title:

Section 1. The citizens of this State who shall be qualified to vote under the provisions of this Constitution may vote by districts, as hereinafter provided, for or against the licensing, of any person or persons, firm or firms, corporation or corporations, to manufacture or to sell intoxicating liquors, either spirituous, vinous or malt, in said districts respectively; and if a majority of votes cast in any district be against granting license, no intoxicating liquors, either spirituous, vinous or malt, shall be manufactured or sold within the limits of said district, until the will of the people, expressed as hereinafter provided, shall be shown to be in favor of granting such license.

Section 2. The first vote under the provisions of this Article shall be taken at the general election to be held on Tuesday next after the first Monday in November, A. D., 1898, and the will of the people as then expressed by the majority of the votes cast at such general election shall control the granting or withholding of license to manufacture, or sell intoxicating liquor, either spirituous, vinous or malt, within the limits of said district, until the General Assembly, upon the petition of one-fourth of the registered voters of any district, shall provide for a vote, for or against license at the general election next after the session of the General Assembly, and the will of the people as then expressed by the majority of the votes cast at such general election shall control the granting or withholding of license to manufacture or to sell intoxicating liquor, either spirituous, vinous or malt, within the limits of said district; and it shall be the duty of the General Assembly, upon the petition of one-fourth the registered voters of any district, to provide for a vote to be had at the general election next after the session of the General Assembly, and the will of the people as expressed by the majority of votes cast at such general election shall control the granting or withholding of license to manufacture or to sell intoxicating liquor, either spirituous, vinous or malt, within the limits of said district.

Section 3. Under the provisions of this Article Sussex county shall comprise one district, Kent county one district, the City of Wilmington, as its corporate limits now are or as they may hereafter be extended, one district and the remaining part of New Castle county one district.

Section 4. The provisions of this Article of the Constitution shall not apply to druggists, who may be licensed to sell intoxicating liquor for sacramental purposes or for medicinal purposes under a prescription from a practicing physician in this State, subject to such regulations as shall be prescribed by law: provided, however, no one shall be considered a druggist within the meaning of this Article, except such person or persons as shall have, at the time of application and during the time for which license is granted, a stock of drugs of the value of one thousand dollars and shall file with the application for license a statement showing the value of the stock to be one thousand dollars and an affidavit that it will continue to be of the same amount during the time for which such license is asked.

Section 5. The General Assembly shall provide necessary laws to carry out and enforce the provisions of this Article, and shall enact laws governing the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors under the limitations of this Article of the Constitution and provide such penalties as may be necessary to enforce the same.

Mr. Pratt submitted the second report of the Committee on Corporations, which was read, as follows:

Second report of the Committee on Corporations.

Section 1. No corporation shall be created or revived by special act, but only by or under general law, nor shall any existing corporate charter be extended, renewed, altered or amended by special act, but only by or under general law; but the foregoing provisions shall not apply to municipal corporation purposes, sustained in whole or in part by the State. The General Assembly shall, by general law, provide for the revocation or forfeiture of the charters of all corporations for the abuse, misuse or non-user of their corporate powers, privileges of franchises. Any proceeding for such revocation or forfeiture shall be taken by the Attorney General, as may be provided by law.

Section 2. No corporation in existence at the adoption of this Constitution shall have its charter altered or amended without first filing, under the corporate seal of said corporation, and duly attested, in the office of the Secretary of State, an acceptance of the provisions of this Constitution.

Section 3. All existing corporations, and all corporations hereafter created under general law, under which a bona fide organization shall not have taken place and business commenced in good faith within two years after the granting the same, shall thereafter be void and of no effect.

Section 4. No corporation shall issue stocks or bonds, except for money paid, labor done or personal property in actual possession, or the fee simple title to real estate actually acquired by such corporation, and neither labor nor property shall be received in payment of stock or bond at a greater price than the market value at the time the said labor was done or property delivered or title acquired.

Section 5. No corporation created under general law shall commence business until ten per centum of its whole capital shall have been paid into its treasury in cash; nor shall the stock or bonded indebtedness of corporations be increased, except pursuant to general law, nor without the consent of the holders of a majority of the stock outstanding first obtained at a meeting called for the purpose, public notice thereof having been first given, as may be provided by law.

Section 6. In all elections for directors or managers of stock corporations each shareholder may cast the whole number of votes to which he is entitled for one candidate or distribute them among two or more candidates.

Section 7. Dues from corporations shall be secured by such individual liability of the stockholders and other means as may be prescribed by law.

Section 8. No foreign corporation shall do any business in this State without having one or more known places of business and an authorized agent or agents in the same upon whom service of legal process may be served.

Mr. Bradford moved that the report of the Committee on Corporations be recommitted,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Spruance submitted the third report of the Committee on the Governor and Other Executive officers, which was read, as follows:

The Committee on the Governor and Other Executive Officers recommend the following amendments to the Constitution:

Substitute the following in lieu of Article III.

ARTICLE III.

Section 1. The supreme executive powers of the State shall be vested in a Governor.

Section 2. The Governor shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State, once in every four years, at the general election.

Section 3. The returns of every election for Governor shall be sealed up, and immediately transmitted to the President of the Senate, or in case of the vacancy of the office of President of the Senate, or his absence from the State, to the Secretary of State, who shall keep the same until a President of the Senate shall be elected, to whom they shall be immediately transmitted after his election, who shall open and publish the same in the presence of the members of both Houses of the General Assembly. Duplicates of the said returns shall also be immediately lodged with the Prothonotary of each county. The person having the highest number of votes shall be Governor; but if two or more shall be equal in the highest number of votes, the members of the two Houses shall, by joint ballot, choose one of them to be Governor; and if, upon such ballot, two or more of them shall still be equal and highest in votes, the President of the Senate shall have an additional casting vote.

Section 4. Contested elections of the Governor or Lieutenant Governor shall be determined by a joint committee, consisting of one-third of all the members of each branch of the General Assembly, to be selected by ballot of the Houses respectively; every person of the committee shall take an oath or affirmation that in determining the said election he will faithfully discharge the trust reposed in him; and the committee shall always sit with open doors.

The Chief Justice shall preside upon the trial of any contested election of Governor or Lieutenant Governor, and shall decide questions regarding the admissibility of evidence, and shall, upon the request of the committee, pronounce his opinion upon other questions of law involved in the trial.

Section 5. The Governor shall hold his office during four years from the third Tuesday of January next ensuing his election; and shall not be eligible a third time to said office.

Section 6. The Governor and Lieutenant Governor shall exercise the duties of their respective offices until their successors shall be duly qualified.

Section 7. The Governor shall be at least thirty years of age, and have been a citizen and inhabitant of the United States twelve years next before the first meeting of the General Assembly after his election, and the last six years of that term an inhabitant of this State, unless he shall have been absent on public business of the United States or of this State.

Section 8. No member of Congress, nor person holding any office under the United States or this State, shall hold or exercise the office of Governor.

Section 9. The Governor shall, at stated times, receive for his services an adequate salary to be fixed by law, which shall be neither increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected.

Section 10. He shall be commander-in-chief of the army and navy of this State, and of the militia, except when they shall be called into service of the United States.

Section 11. He shall have power, except in cases herein otherwise provided, to appoint, by and with the consent of three-fifths of all the members elected to the Senate, such officers as he is or may be authorized by this Constitution or by law to appoint. He shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the Senate, in all offices to which he may appoint, excepting vacancies in the office of Chancellor, Chief Justice and Associate Judges, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of the next session of the Senate.

He shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen in the elective offices by granting commissions which shall expire when their successors shall be duly elected and qualified.

In case of vacancy in an elective office, a person shall be chosen to said office at the next general election, unless the vacancy shall happen within two months next before such election, in which case the election for said office shall be held at the second succeeding general election.

No confirmation by the Senate shall be required in case of offices, the salary, fees and emoluments of which shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars.

Section 12. The Governor shall appoint, by and with the consent of three-fifths of all the members elected to the Senate, a Secretary of State, who shall hold office during the Governor's continuance in office, if he shall so long behave himself well. He shall keep a fair register of all the official acts and proceedings of the Governor, and shall, when required by either branch of the General Assembly, lay the same, and all papers, minutes and vouchers, relative thereto, before them, and shall perform such other duties as shall be enjoined upon him by law. He shall have a compensation for his services to be fixed by law.

Section 13. No person shall be elected or appointed to an office within a county who shall not have a right to vote for Representatives in the General Assembly, and have been a resident therein one year next before his election or appointment nor hold the office longer than he continues to reside in the county, except in cases herein otherwise provided.

No member of Congress, nor any person holding or exercising any office under the United States, shall at the time be a member of the General Assembly or hold or exercise any office of profit under this State.

No person shall hold more than one of the following offices at the same time, to-wit: Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General, Insurance Commissioner, State Treasurer, Auditor of Accounts, Prothonotary, Clerk of the Peace, Register of Wills, Recorder, Sheriff or Coroner.

Section 14. All commissions shall be in the name of the State, shall be sealed with the great seal, and be signed by the Governor.

Section 15. All officers shall hold their offices on condition that they behave themselves well while in office, and shall be removed by the Governor on conviction of misbehavior in office or of any infamous crime.

The Governor may for any reasonable cause remove any officer, except the Lieutenant Governor and members of the General Assembly, upon the address of two-thirds of all the members elected to each branch of the General Assembly. In all cases when the General Assembly shall so address the Governor, the cause of removal shall be entered on the journals of each House. The person against whom the General Assembly may be about to proceed, shall receive notice thereof, accompanied with the cause alleged for his removal, at least ten days before the day on which either House of the General Assembly shall act thereon.

Section 16. The Governor shall have power to remit fines and forfeitures, to grant reprieves, commutations of sentence and pardons, except in cases of impeachment; but no pardon nor reprieve for more than six months shall be granted, nor sentence commuted, except upon the recommendation in of a majority of the Board of Pardons after a full hearing; and such recommendation, with the reasons therefor at length, shall be filed and recorded in the office of the Secretary of State, who shall forthwith notify the Governor thereof.

He shall set forth in writing, fully, the grounds of all reprieves, pardons and remissions, to be entered in the register of his official acts, and laid before the General Assembly at their next session.

Section 17. He may require information in writing from the officers in the executive department, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices.

Section 18. He shall, from time to time, give to the General Assembly information of affairs concerning the State and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge expedient.

Section 19. He may on extraordinary occasions convene the General Assembly; and in case of disagreement between the two Houses with respect to the time of adjournment, adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper, not exceeding three months. He shall have power to convene the Senate in extraordinary session by proclamation, for the transaction of executive business.

Section 20. He shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

Section 21. Every bill which shall have passed both Houses of the General Assembly shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if he shall not approve, he shall return it with his objections to the House in which it shall have originated, which House shall enter the objections at large on the journal and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, three-fifths of all the members elected to that House shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other House by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by three-fifths of all the members elected to that House, it shall become a law. But in neither House shall the vote be taken on the day on which the bill shall be returned to it. In all such cases the votes of both Houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each House respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the Governor within ten days, Sundays excepted, after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the General Assembly shall, by their adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the Governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the General Assembly unless approved by the Governor within thirty days after such adjournment. The Governor shall have power to disapprove of any item or items of any bill making appropriations of money, embracing distinct items, and the part or parts of the bill approved shall be the law, and the item or items of appropriation disapproved shall be void, unless repassed according to the rules and limitations prescribed for the passage of other bills over the Executive veto. Every order, resolution, or vote to which the concurrence of both Houses of the General Assembly may be necessary, except on a question of adjournment, shall be presented to the Governor; and before the same shall take effect be approved by him, or, being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by three-fifths of all the members elected to each House of the General Assembly, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

Section 22. A Lieutenant Governor shall be chosen at the same time, in the same manner, for the same term, and subject to the same provisions as the Governor; he shall possess the same qualifications of eligibility for office as the Governor; he shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no vote unless the Senate be equally divided.

The Lieutenant Governor while acting as President of the Senate, or as a member of the Board of Pardons, or as Governor during a temporary disability of the Governor, shall receive for his services the same compensation as the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Section 23. In case of the removal of the Governor from office, or of his death, failure to qualify, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve upon the Lieutenant Governor; and in case of removal, death, failure to qualify, resignation, or inability of both the Governor and Lieutenant Governor, the Secretary of State, or if there be none, or in case of his removal, death, failure to qualify, resignation, or inability, then the Attorney General, or if there be none, or in case of his removal, death, failure to qualify, resignation, or inability, then the President pro tempore of the Senate, or if there be none, or in case of his removal, death, failure to qualify, resignation, or inability, then the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall act as Governor until the disability of the Governor or Lieutenant Governor is removed, or a Governor shall be duly elected and qualified.

The foregoing provisions shall apply only to such persons as are eligible to the office of Governor under this Constitution at the time the powers and duties of the office of Governor shall devolve upon them respectively.

Whenever the powers and duties of the office of Governor shall devolve upon the Secretary of State or Attorney General, his office shall become vacant; and whenever the powers and duties of the office of Governor shall devolve upon the President pro tempore of the Senate, or the Speaker of the House of Representatives, his seat as a member of the General Assembly shall become vacant; and any such vacancy shall be filled as provided by this Constitution.

Add the following Article:

ARTICLE —.

Section 1. The Board of Pardons shall be composed of the Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State and the Registers of Wills of the respective counties.

In case the Lieutenant Governor shall become Governor, and while he shall be in the exercise of the office of Governor as herein provided, he shall cease to be a member of said board.

Section 2. The said board may require information from the Attorney General upon any subject relating to the duties of said board.

Strike out Sections 3 and 4 of Article VII and insert in lieu thereof the following:

ARTICLE —.

Section 1. The terms of office of the Attorney General and Insurance Commissioner shall be four years; and the terms of office of the State Treasurer and Auditor of Accounts shall be two years. These officers shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at the general elections, and be commissioned by the Governor, and shall hold their respective offices until their successors shall be duly qualified.

Section 2. The terms of office of Prothonotaries, Clerks of the Peace, Registers of Wills, Recorders, Registers in Chancery and Clerks of the Orphans' Court shall be four years; and the terms of office of Sheriffs and Coroners shall be two years. These officers shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the respective counties at general elections, and be commissioned by the Governor, and shall hold their respective offices until their successors shall be duly qualified.

No person shall be eligible a second time to the office of Sheriff.

Section 3. Prothonotaries, Clerks of the Peace, Registers of Wills, Recorders, Registers in Chancery, Clerks of the Orphans' Court and Sheriffs shall keep their offices in the town or place in each county in which the Superior Court is usually held.

Section 1. No corporation shall be created or revived by special act, but only by or under general law, nor shall any existing corporate charter be extended, renewed, altered or amended by special act, but only by or under general law; but the foregoing provisions shall not apply to municipal corporations or corporations for charitable, penal, reformatory, or educational purposes, sustained in whole or in part by the State. The General Assembly shall, by general law, provide for the revocation or forfeiture of the charters of all corporations for the abuse, misuse or non-user, of their corporate powers, privileges or franchises. Any proceeding for such revocation or forfeiture shall be taken by the Attorney-General, as may be provided by law.

Section 2. No corporation in existence at the adoption of this Constitution shall have its charter altered or amended without first filing, under the corporate seal of said corporation, and duly attested, in the office of the Secretary of State, an acceptance of the provisions of this Constitution.

Section 3. All existing corporations, and all corporations hereafter created under general law, under which a bona-fide organization shall not have taken place and business commenced in good faith within two years after the granting the same, shall thereafter be void and of no effect.

Section 4. No corporation shall issue stocks or bonds, except for money paid, labor done or personal property in actual possession, or the fee simple title to real estate actually acquired by such corporation, and neither labor nor property shall be received in payment of stock or bond at a greater price than the market value at the time the said labor was done or property delivered, or title acquired.

Section 5. No corporation created under general law shall commence business until ten per centum of its whole capital shall have been paid into its treasury in cash; nor shall the stock or bonded indebtedness of corporations be increased, except pursuant to general law, nor without the consent of the holders of a majority of the stock outstanding first obtained at a meeting called for the purpose, public notice thereof having been first given, as may be provided by law.

Section 6. In all elections for directors or managers of stock corporations each shareholder may cast the whole number of votes to which he is entitled for one candidate or distribute them among two or more candidates.

Section 7. When the whole capital stock of a corporation shall not have been paid in, and the capital paid shall be insufficient to satisfy the claims of its creditors, each stockholder shall be bound to pay on each share held by him the sum necessary to complete the amount of such share as fixed by the charter of the company or its certificate of incorporation or such proportion of that sum as shall be required to satisfy the debts of the company.

Section 8. No foreign corporation shall do any business in this State without having one or more known places of business and an authorized agent or agents in the same upon whom service of legal process may be served.

Fourth report of the Committee on the Legislature.

The Committee on the Legislature recommends the adoption of the following as sections in the Constitution, to be inserted under an appropriate title:

Section 1. No person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained the age of twenty-seven years, and have been a citizen and inhabitant of the State three years next preceding the day of his election, and the last year of that term an inhabitant of the county including the Senatorial District in which he shall be chosen, unless he shall have been absent on the public business of the United States or of the State. No person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained the age of twenty-four years, and have been a citizen and inhabitant of the State three years next preceding the day of his election, and the last year of that term an inhabitant of the county including the Representative District in which he shall be chosen, unless he shall have been absent on the public business of the United States or of the State.

Section 2. The compensation of members of the General Assembly and of the Lieutenant Governor as President of the Senate shall be paid out of the treasury of the State. No law varying such compensation shall take effect until after a general election shall have been held since its enactment.

Section 3. Whenever there shall be a vacancy in either House of the General Assembly, by reason of failure to elect, ineligibility, death, resignation or otherwise, a writ of election shall be issued by the presiding officer of the House in which the vacancy exists, or in cases of necessity in such other manner as shall be provided by law; and the person thereupon chosen to fill such vacancy shall hold office for the residue of the term. And whenever there shall be such vacancy in either House, and the General Assembly is not in session, the Governor shall have power to issue a writ of election to fill such vacancy, which writ shall be executed as a writ issued by the presiding officer of either House in case of vacancy, and the person thereupon chosen to fill such vacancy shall hold office for the residue of the term.

Section 4. The Senate at each biennial session shall choose a President pro tempore, who shall preside in the absence of the Lieutenant Governor, or in case the latter shall become Governor, or while he continues in the exercise of the office of Governor by reason of disability of the Governor. The Senate shall also choose its other officers, and, in the absence of the Lieutenant Governor and its President pro tempore may, from time to time as occasion may require, appoint one of its own members to preside. The House of Representatives shall choose its Speaker and other officers, and in the absence of the Speaker may, from time to time as occasion may require, appoint one of its own members to preside.

Section 5. The State Treasurer shall settle his accounts annually with the General Assembly or a joint committee thereof, which shall be appointed at every biennial session. No person who has served in the office of State Treasurer shall be eligible to a seat in either House of the General Assembly until he shall have made a final settlement of his accounts as treasurer and discharged the balance, if any, due thereon.

Section 6. Any member of the General Assembly who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill pending in the General Assembly shall disclose the fact to the House of which he is a member and shall not vote thereon.

Section 7. No person who shall be convicted of embezzlement of the public money, bribery, perjury or other infamous crime, shall be eligible to a seat in either House of the General Assembly, or capable of holding any office of trust, honor or profit under this State.

Section 8. Every statute shall be a public law unless otherwise declared in the statute itself.

Section 9. Every person who shall give, offer or promise, directly or indirectly, any money, testimonial, privilege, personal advantage or thing of value to any executive or judicial officer of this State or member of either House of the General Assembly for the purpose of influencing him in the performance of any of his official or public duties shall be deemed guilty of bribery, and shall be punished in such manner as shall be provided by law.

Section 10. The General Assembly shall not pass any local or special law relating to fences, the straying of live stock, ditches, the creation or changing the boundaries of school districts, or the laying out, opening, alteration, maintenance or vacation, in whole or in part, of any road, highway, street, lane or alley.

Section 8. No county, city, town or other municipality shall loan its credit or appropriate money to, or assume the debt or become a shareholder or joint owner in or with, any private corporation, or any person or company whatever. No county, city, town or other municipality shall be allowed to become indebted, for any purpose or in any manner, to an amount which, including existing indebtedness, shall exceed ten per centum of the assessed valuation of the real estate of such county, city, town or other municipality subject to taxation as it appeared by the assessment rolls of said county, city, town or other municipality on the last assessment for county, city, town or other municipality taxes prior to the incurring of such indebtedness; and all indebtedness in excess of such limitation, except such as may now exist, shall be absolutely void, except as herein otherwise provided. No county, city, town or other municipality whose present indebtedness exceeds ten per centum of the assessed valuation of its real estate subject to taxation shall be allowed to become indebted in any further amount until such indebtedness shall be reduced within such limit. This section shall not be construed to prevent the issue of bonds to provide for a supply of water or light, or both; but the term of the bonds issued to provide the supply of water or light shall not exceed thirty (30) years, and shall not be issued except upon the affirmative vote of a majority of the freeholders of said city, town or other municipality, as shall be provided by the General Assembly, and a sinking fund shall be created on the issuing of the said bonds for their redemption, by raising annually a sum which will produce an amount equal to the sum of the principal and interest of said bonds at their maturity.

The Committee on Phraseology and Arrangement recommend the following amendments to the Constitution.

Strike out Sections 1, 2, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 of Article VII, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

ARTICLE —.

Section 1. The Chancellor, Judges and Attorney General shall be conservators of the peace throughout the State; and the Sheriffs and Coroners shall be conservators of the peace within the counties respectively in which they reside.

Section 2. No public officer shall receive any fees without giving to the person paying the same a receipt therefor, if required, therein specifying every item and charge.

Section 3. No costs shall be paid by a person accused, on a bill being returned ignoramus, nor on acquittal.

Section 4. The rights, privileges, immunities and estates of religious societies and corporate bodies, except as herein otherwise provided, shall remain as if the Constitution of this State had not been altered.

Section 5. All the laws of this State existing at the time this Constitution shall take effect, and not inconsistent with it, shall remain in force, except so far as they shall be altered by future laws; and all actions and prosecutions now pending shall proceed as if this Constitution had not been made.

Section 6. This Constitution shall be prefixed to every codification of the laws of this State.

Section 7. The General Assembly, as soon as conveniently may be after this Constitution shall take effect, shall enact all laws necessary or proper for carrying out the provisions thereof.

Strike out Article VIII and insert in lieu thereof the following:

ARTICLE —.

Members of the General Assembly and all public officers, executive and judicial, except such inferior officers as shall be by law exempted, shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of Delaware, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of _____, according to the best of my ability"; and all such officers, except as aforesaid, who shall have been chosen at any election shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the oath or affirmation above prescribed, together with the following addition thereto, as part thereof:

"And I do further solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have not directly or indirectly paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed, or offered or promised to contribute, any money or other valuable thing as a consideration or reward for the giving or withholding a vote at the election at which I was elected to said office.”

No other oath, declaration or test shall be required as a qualification for any office of public trust.

Mr. Orr submitted the first report of the Committee on Alterations and Amendments, which, upon his motion, was received and read, as follows:

The Committee on Alterations and Amendments of the Constitution and the Calling of Constitutional Conventions recommends the following amendments to the Constitution:

Strike out Article IX and insert the following in lieu thereof:

ARTICLE —.

Section 1. Any amendment or amendments to this Constitution may be proposed in the Senate or House of Representatives; and if the same shall be agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each House, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered on their journals, with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and the Secretary of State shall cause such proposed amendment or amendments to be published three months before the next general election in at least two newspapers in each county in which such newspapers shall be published; and if in the General Assembly next after the said general election such proposed amendment or amendments shall be agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each House, the Secretary of State shall cause the same again to be published in the manner aforesaid; and such proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at the next general election; and if such proposed amendment or amendments shall be approved by a majority of those voting thereon, the same shall become part of the Constitution, upon the ascertainment of such result by the General Assembly. When two or more proposed amendments shall be so submitted they shall be voted upon separately.

Section 2 The General Assembly may, from time to time, provide by law for the submitting to the qualified electors of the State at the general election next thereafter the question, "Shall there be a Convention to revise the Constitution and amend the same?"; and upon such submission, if a majority of those voting on said question shall decide in favor of a Convention for such purpose, the General Assembly at its next session shall provide by law for the election of delegates to such Convention at the next general election. Such Convention shall be composed of fifty-two delegates, of whom fifteen shall be chosen from New Castle county by the qualified electors thereof; ten from Kent county by the qualified electors thereof; ten from Sussex county by the qualified electors thereof; and seventeen from the State at large by the qualified electors thereof. The delegates so elected shall convene at the Capital of the State on the first Tuesday in March next after their election. Every delegate shall receive for his services the same compensation as shall then be payable to the members of the General Assembly. A majority of the Convention shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The Convention shall have power to appoint such officers, employes and assistants as it may deem necessary, and fix their compensation, and provide for the printing of its documents, journals, debates and proceedings. The Convention shall determine the rules of its proceedings, and be the judge of the election, returns and qualifications of its members. In case of a vacancy by death, resignation or other cause in a county delegation, such vacancy shall be filled by a vote by the remaining delegates from such county; and in case of a vacancy by death, resignation or other cause in the delegation from the State at large, such vacancy shall be filled by a vote of the remaining delegates at large.

Section 3. The General Assembly shall provide by law for receiving, tallying and counting the votes for or against proposed amendments to the Constitution, and for or against a Convention, and for returning to the General Assembly at its next session the state of such vote; and shall also by law enact all provisions necessary for giving effect to this Article.

Section 4. No bill or resolution passed by the General Assembly under or pursuant to the provisions of this Article shall require for its validity the approval of the Governor, and the same shall be exempt from the provisions of Section 21 of Article III of this Constitution.

Section 5. In voting at any general election, upon proposed amendments to the Constitution, or upon the question, "Shall there be a Convention to revise the Constitution and amend the same?" the ballots shall be separate from those cast for any person voted for at such election, and shall be kept distinct and apart from all other ballots so cast.

Mr. Bradford, on behalf of the Committee on Phraseology, submitted its second report, which, upon his motion, was read as follows:

Second report of the Committee on Phraseology and Arrangement.

The Committee on Phraseology and Arrangement recommends the following amendments:

1. Strike out Section 19 of the first report of the Committee on the Legislature and Section 2 of the fourth report of the said committee (Article II, Section 14) and substitute in lieu thereof the following:

Section 14. The compensation of members of the General Assembly and of the Lieutenant Governor as President of the Senate shall be fixed by law and be paid out of the treasury of the State. No law varying such compensation shall take effect until after a general election shall have been held since its enactment.

2. Strike out all of Section 18 of the first report of the Committee on the Legislature (Article II, Section 15) after the word "title" in the third line thereof.

3. Insert after the words "Chief Justice," in line ten of Section 4, of the third report of the Committee on Governor, &c., (Article III, Section 4) the following:

"or in case of his absence or disability, the Chancellor."

4. Strike out Section 6 of the third report of the Committee on the Governor, &c., (Article III, Section 6).

5. Strike out lines twenty-three, twenty-four, twenty-five and twenty-six of Section 11 of the third report of the Committee on the Governor, &c. (Article III, Section 11) and substitute in lieu thereof the following:

Unless herein otherwise provided, confirmation by the Senate of officers appointed by the Governor shall be required only where the salary, fees and emoluments of office shall exceed the sum of five hundred dollars annually.

6. Amend Section 12 of the third report of the Committee on the Governor, &c. (Article III, Section 12), by striking out the words "three-fifths" in line two thereof, and inserting the words "a majority," and by striking out the words "Governor's continuance in office, if he shall so long behave himself well," in lines four and five thereof, and inserting the words "pleasure of the Governor."

7. Insert after the words "United States" in line nine of Section 13 of the third report of the Committee on Governor, &c. (Article III, Section 13) the following:

Except officers usually appointed by the courts of justice respectively and attorneys-at-law.

8. Strike out of Section 22 of the third report of the Committee on the Governor, &c. (Article III, Section 21) the words:

"or as Governor during a temporary disability of the Governor."

9. Amend Section 23 of the third report of the Committee on the Governor, &c. (Article III, Section 22) by adding at the beginning of the said section the following:

"In case the person elected Governor shall die or become disqualified before the commencement of his term of office, or shall refuse to take the same, or."

And by striking out the words "failure to qualify" wherever they occur in the said section.

10. Amend Section 2 of the first and second reports of the Committee on Education (Article X, Section 2) by striking out of said section all after the word "apportionment" in line fourteen and before the word "provided" in lines sixteen and seventeen; and by striking out all of said section after the word "maintained" in line nineteen.

II. Amend Section 4 of the second report of the Committee on the Judiciary (Article IV, Section 4) by striking out of lines four and five the words "three thousand dollars,," and inserting the following:

"thirty-five hundred dollars for the Chancellor and Chief Justice respectively, nor less than three thousand dollars for the Associate Judges respectively."

Add the following sections under the appropriate heads:

(a) Section —. The Chancellor may, from time to time, appoint a Master in Chancery, who shall have power, during the absence of the Chancellor from the State or his temporary disability, to grant restraining orders and preliminary injunctions, pursuant to the rules of the Court of Chancery.

(b) Section —. No law shall extend the term of any public officer, or diminish his salary or emoluments, after his election or appointment.

(c) Section —. All public officers shall hold their respective offices until their successors shall be duly qualified, except in cases herein otherwise provided.

(d) Section —. The General Assembly shall meet and sit in Dover, the Capital of the State; provided, however, that in case of insurrection, conflagration or epidemic disease, the General Assembly may temporarily meet and sit elsewhere.

Proposed Constitution of the State of Delaware, as reported to the Constitutional Convention by the Committee on Phraseology and Arrangement.

CONSTITUTION of the STATE OF DELAWARE.

DELAWARE.

PREAMBLE.

Through Divine goodness, all men have by nature the rights of worshipping and serving their Creator according to the dictates of their consciences, of enjoying and defending life and liberty, of acquiring and protecting reputation and property, and in general of attaining objects suitable to their condition, without injury by one to another; and as these rights are essential to their welfare, for the due exercise thereof, power is inherent in them; and therefore all just authority in the institutions of political society is derived from the people, and established with their consent, to advance their happiness; and they may for this end, as circumstances require, from time to time, alter their Constitution of government.

ARTICLE I.

BILL OF RIGHTS.

Section 1. Although it is the duty of all men frequently to assemble together for the public worship of Almighty God; and piety and morality, on which the prosperity of communities depends, are thereby promoted; yet no man shall or ought to be compelled to attend any religious worship, to contribute to the erection or support of any place of worship, or to the maintenance of any ministry, against his own free will and consent; and no power shall or ought to be vested in or assumed by any magistrate that shall in any case interfere with, or in any manner control the rights of conscience, in the free exercise of religious worship, nor a preference given by law to any religious societies, denominations, or modes of worship.

Section 2. No religious test shall be required as a qualification to any office, or public trust, under this State.

Section 3. All elections shall be free and equal.

Section 4. Trial by jury shall be as heretofore.

Section 5. The press shall be free to every citizen who undertakes to examine the official conduct of men acting in a public capacity; and any citizen may print on any subject, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty. In prosecutions for publications, investigating the proceedings of officers, or where the matter published is proper for public information, the truth thereof may be given in evidence; and in all indictments for libels the jury may determine the facts and the law, as in other cases.

Section 6. The people shall be secure in their persons, houses, papers and possessions, from unreasonable searches and seizures; and no warrant to search any place, or to seize any person or thing, shall issue without describing them as particularly as may be; nor then, unless there be probable cause supported by oath or affirmation.

Section 7. In all criminal prosecutions, the accused hath a right to be heard by himself and his counsel, to be plainly and fully informed of the nature and cause of the accusation against him, to meet the witnesses in their examination face to face, to have compulsory process in due time, on application by himself, his friends or counsel, for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury; he shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself, nor shall he be deprived of life, liberty or property, unless by the judgment of his peers or by the law of the land.

Section 8. No person shall for any indictable offence be proceeded against criminally by information, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia when in actual service in time of war or public danger; and no person shall be for the same offence twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall any man's property be taken or applied to public use without the consent of his representatives, and without compensation being made.

Section 9. All courts shall be open; and every man for an injury done him in his reputation, person, movable or immovable possessions, shall have remedy by the due course of law, and justice administered according to the very right of the cause and the law of the land, without sale, denial, or unreasonable delay or expense; and every action shall be tried in the county in which it shall be commenced, unless when the judges of the court in which the cause is to be tried shall determine that an impartial trial thereof cannot be had in that county. Suits may be brought against the State, according to such regulations as shall be made by law.

Section 10. No power of suspending laws shall be exercised but by authority of the General Assembly.

Section 11. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel punishments inflicted; and in the construction of jails a proper regard shall be had to the health of prisoners.

Section 12. All prisoners shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, unless for capital offences when the proof is positive or the presumption great; and when persons are confined on accusation for such offences their friends and counsel may at proper seasons have access to them.

Section 13. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in cases of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

Section 14. No commission of oyer and terminer, or jail delivery, shall be issued.

Section 15. No attainder shall work corruption of blood, nor except during the life of the offender forfeiture of estate. The estates of those who destroy their own lives shall descend or vest as in case of natural death, and if any person be killed by accident no forfeiture shall thereby be incurred.

Section 16. Although disobedience to laws by a part of the people, upon suggestions of impolicy or injustice in them, tends by immediate effect and the influence of example not only to endanger the public welfare and safety, but also in governments of a republican form contravenes the social principles of such governments, founded on common consent for common good; yet the citizens have a right in an orderly manner to meet together, and to apply to persons intrusted with the powers of government, for redress of grievances or other proper purposes, by petition, remonstrance or address.

Section 17. No standing army shall be kept up without the consent of the General Assembly, and the military shall in all cases and at all times be in strict subordination to the civil power.

Section 18. No soldier shall in time of peace be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war but by a civil magistrate, in manner to be prescribed by law.

Section 19. No hereditary distinction shall be granted, nor any office created or exercised, the appointment to which shall be for a longer term than during good behavior; and no person holding any office under this State shall accept of any office or title of any kind whatever from any king, prince, or foreign state.

WE DECLARE THAT EVERY THING IN THIS ARTICLE IS RESERVED OUT OF THE GENERAL POWERS OF GOVERNMENT HEREINAFTER MENTIONED.

ARTICLE II.

LEGISLATURE.

Section 1. The legislative power of this State shall be vested in a General Assembly, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

Section 2. The House of Representatives shall be composed of thirty-five members, who shall be chosen for two years. The Senate shall be composed of seventeen members, who shall be chosen for four years.

The State is hereby divided into thirty-five Representative Districts, from each of which shall be chosen, by the qualified electors thereof, one Representative. In New Castle County there shall be fifteen Representative Districts, numbered from one to fifteen inclusive; in Kent County, ten Representative Districts, numbered from one to ten inclusive; and in Sussex County, ten Representative Districts, numbered from one to ten inclusive. All territory which shall hereafter be added to and included within the City of Wilmington shall become part of the Representative Districts in New Castle County as follows:

All lying east of a straight line including the central line of Market street, below Eighth street, as the said two streets now exist, and south of a straight line including the central line of Eighth street, as the same now exists, shall become part of Representative District number one.

All lying north of a straight line including the central line of Eighth street, as the same now exists, extending from the northeasterly side of Brandywine Creek to the Delaware River, or north of the Brandywine Creek, westwardly from the point of intersection of the said straight line with the northeasterly side of the said creek, shall become part of Representative District number two.

All lying north of a straight line including the central line of Eighth street, as the same now exists, south of the Brandywine Creek, and west of the central line of Market street, as the same now exists, shall become part of Representative District number three.

All lying between a straight line including the central line of Market street extended southerly and a straight line including the central line of Washington street extended southerly shall become part of Representative District number four.

All lying south of a straight line including the central line of Eighth street, as the same now exists, and west of a straight line including the central line of Washington street, as the same now exists, shall become part of Representative District number five.

In case of any change in the boundary line between this State and the State of Pennsylvania any of the said Senatorial and Representative Districts in New Castle County affected thereby shall conform to any new boundary line between the said States.

All territory which shall hereafter be added to and included within the City of Wilmington shall become part of the Senatorial Districts in New Castle County as follows:

All lying north of a straight line including the central line of Eighth street, extended from the Delaware River westwardly, shall become part of Senatorial District number one.

All lying south of a straight line including the central line of Eighth street, extended from the Delaware River westwardly, shall become part of Senatorial District number two.

Whenever by the extension of the limits of the City of Wilmington territory forming part of any Representative or Senatorial District, as hereby established, shall be included within the limits of the said city, such Representative or Senatorial District shall thereafter consist of the residue thereof, not so included within said limits.

The several Representative and Senatorial Districts in the State shall, except as herein otherwise provided, continue to be bounded, described and defined by the lines of the hundreds, wards, election district, public roads, railroad and other boundaries herein mentioned, as the same are now established and located.

Section 3. No person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained the age of twenty-seven years and have been a citizen and inhabitant of the State three years next preceding the day of his election, and the last year of that term an inhabitant of the Senatorial District in which he shall be chosen, unless he shall have been absent on the public business of the United States or of this State. No person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained the age of twenty-four years and have been a citizen and inhabitant of the State three years next preceding the day of his election, and the last year of that term an inhabitant of the Representative District in which he shall be chosen, unless he shall have been absent on the public business of the United States or of this State.

Section 4. The General Assembly shall meet on the first Tuesday of January, biennially, and at such other times as the Governor shall convene the same.

Section 5. The General Assembly shall meet and sit in Dover, the capital of the State; provided, however, that in case of insurrection, conflagration or epidemic disease the General Assembly may temporarily meet and sit elsewhere.

Section 6. Whenever there shall be a vacancy in either House of the General Assembly, by reason of failure to elect, ineligibility, death, resignation or otherwise, a writ of election shall be issued by the presiding officer of the House in which the vacancy exists, or in cases of necessity in such other manner as shall be provided by law; and the person thereupon chosen to fill such vacancy shall hold office for the residue of the term. And whenever there shall be such vacancy in either House, and the General Assembly is not in session, the Governor shall have power to issue a writ of election to fill such vacancy, which writ shall be executed as a writ issued by the presiding officer of either House in case of vacancy, and the person thereupon chosen to fill such vacancy shall hold office for the residue of the term.

Section 7. The Senate at each biennial session shall choose one of its members President pro tempore, who shall preside in the absence of the Lieutenant Governor, or in case the latter shall become Governor or while he continues in the exercise of the office of Governor by reason of disability of the Governor. The Senate shall also choose its other officers, and in the absence of the Lieutenant Governor and its President pro tempore may, from time to time as occasion may require, appoint one of its members to preside. The House of Representatives shall choose one of its members Speaker and also choose its other officers, and in the absence of the Speaker may, from time to time as occasion may require, appoint one of its members to preside.

Section 8. Each House shall be the judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its own members; and a majority of all the members elected to each House shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and shall have power to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner, and under such penalties, as shall be deemed expedient.

Section 9. Each House may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish any of its members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected thereto expel a member, and shall have all other powers necessary for a branch of the Legislature of a free and independent State.

Section 10. Each House shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and publish the same immediately after every session, except such parts as may require secrecy, and the yeas and nays of the members on any question shall, at the desire of any member, be entered on the journal. No bill or joint resolution, except in relation to adjournment, shall pass either House unless the final vote shall have been taken by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against the same shall be entered on the journal, nor without the concurrence of a majority of all the members elected to each House.

Section 11. The doors of each House, and of Committees of the Whole, shall be open unless when the business is such as ought to be kept secret.

Section 12. Neither House shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

Section 13. The Senators and Representatives shall, in all cases, except treason, felony or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either House they shall not be questioned in any other place.

Section 14. No Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he shall have been elected, be appointed to any civil office under this State which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which shall have been increased, during such time. No member of Congress, nor any person holding any office under this State, or the United States, except officers usually appointed by the courts of justice respectively, attorneys-at-law and officers in the militia, holding no disqualifying office, shall during his continuance in Congress or in office be a Senator or Representative; nor shall any person while concerned in any army or navy contract be a Senator or Representative.

Section 15. The members of the General Assembly, except the presiding officers of the respective Houses, shall receive as compensation for their services a per diem allowance of five dollars, and the presiding officers a per diem allowance of six dollars, for each day of the session, not exceeding sixty days; and should they remain longer in session they shall serve without compensation. In case a special or extra session of the General Assembly be called the members and presiding officers shall receive like compensation for a period not exceeding twenty days.

The compensation of members of the General Assembly and of the Lieutenant Governor as President of the Senate shall be paid out of the treasury of the State.

The cost to the State for stationery and other supplies for each member of the General Assembly shall not exceed the sum of twenty-five dollars for any one session.

Section 16. No bill or joint resolution, except bills appropriating money for public purposes, shall embrace more than one subject, which shall be expressed in its title.

Section 17. Lotteries, the sale of lottery tickets, pool-selling and all other forms of gambling are prohibited in this State. The General Assembly shall enforce this section by appropriate legislation.

Section 18. No divorce shall be granted, nor alimony allowed, except by the judgment of a court, as shall be prescribed by general and uniform law.

Section 19. The General Assembly shall not pass any local or special law relating to fences; the straying of live stock; ditches; the creation or changing the boundaries of school districts; or the laying out, opening, alteration, maintenance or vacation, in whole or in part, of any road, highway, street, lane or alley.

Section 20. Any member of the General Assembly who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill pending in the General Assembly shall disclose the fact to the House of which he is a member and shall not vote thereon.

Section 21. No person who shall be convicted of embezzlement of the public money, bribery, perjury or other infamous crime, shall be eligible to a seat in either House of the General Assembly, or capable of holding any office of trust, honor or profit under this State.

Section 22. Every person who shall give, offer or promise, directly or indirectly, any money, testimonial, privilege, personal advantage or thing of value to any executive or judicial officer of this State or to any member of either House of the General Assembly for the purpose of influencing him in the performance of any of his official or public duties shall be deemed guilty of bribery, and shall be punished in such manner as shall be provided by law.

Section 23. Every statute shall be a public law unless otherwise declared in the statute itself.

Section 24. The State Treasurer shall settle his accounts annually with the General Assembly or a joint committee thereof, which shall be appointed at every biennial session. No person who has served in the office of State Treasurer shall be eligible to a seat in either House of the General Assembly until he shall have made a final settlement of his accounts as treasurer and discharged the balance, if any, due thereon.

ARTICLE III.

EXECUTIVE.

Section 1. The supreme executive powers of the State shall be vested in a Governor.

Section 2. The Governor shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State, once in every four years, at the general election.

Section 3. The returns of every election for Governor shall be sealed up, and immediately transmitted to the President of the Senate, or in case of a vacancy in the office of President of the Senate, or his absence from the State, to the Secretary of State, who shall keep the same until a President of the Senate shall be chosen, to whom they shall be immediately transmitted after his election, who shall open and publish the same in the presence of the members of both Houses of the General Assembly. Duplicates of the said returns shall also be immediately lodged with the Prothonotary of each county. The person having the highest number of votes shall be Governor; but if two or more shall be equal in the highest number of votes, the members of the two Houses shall, by joint ballot, choose one of them to be Governor; and if, upon such ballot, two or more of them shall still be equal and highest in votes, the President of the Senate shall have an additional casting vote.

Section 4. Contested elections of the Governor or Lieutenant Governor shall be determined by a joint committee, consisting of one-third of all the members elected to each House of the General Assembly, to be selected by ballot of the Houses respectively. Every member of the committee shall take an oath or affirmation that in determining the said election he will faithfully discharge the trust reposed in him; and the committee shall always sit with open doors.

The Chief Justice, or, in case of his absence or disability, the Chancellor shall preside at the trial of any contested election of Governor or Lieutenant Governor, and shall decide questions regarding the admissibility of evidence, and shall, upon request of the committee, pronounce his opinion upon other questions of law involved in the trial.

Section 5. The Governor shall hold his office during four years from the third Tuesday of January next ensuing his election; and shall not be elected a third time to said office.

Section 6. The Governor shall be at least thirty years of age, and have been a citizen and inhabitant of the United States twelve years next before the day of his election, and the last six years of that term an inhabitant of this State, unless he shall have been absent on public business of the United States or of this State.

Section 7. No member of Congress, nor person holding any office under the United States or this State, shall hold or exercise the office of Governor.

Section 8. The Governor shall, at stated times, receive for his services an adequate salary to be fixed by law, which shall be neither increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected.

Section 9. He shall be commander-in-chief of the army and navy of this State, and of the militia, except when they shall be called into the service of the United States.

Section 10. He shall have power, unless herein otherwise provided, to appoint, by and with the consent of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate, such officers as he is or may be authorized by this Constitution or by law to appoint. He shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the Senate, in offices to which he may appoint, except in the offices of Chancellor, Chief Justice and Associate Judges, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of the next session of the Senate.

He shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen in elective offices, except in the offices of Lieutenant Governor and member of the General Assembly, by granting commissions which shall expire when their successors shall be duly qualified.

In case of vacancy in an elective office, except as afore-said, a person shall be chosen to said office for the full term at the next general election, unless the vacancy shall happen within two months next before such election, in which case the election for said office shall be held at the second succeeding general election.

Unless herein otherwise provided, confirmation by the Senate of officers appointed by the Governor shall be required only where the salary, fees and emoluments of office shall exceed the sum of five hundred dollars annually.

Section 11. The Governor shall appoint, by and with the consent of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate, a Secretary of State, who shall hold office during the pleasure of the Governor. He shall keep a fair register of all the official acts and proceedings of the Governor, and shall, when required by either House of the General Assembly, lay the same, and all papers, minutes and vouchers, relative thereto, before such House, and shall perform such other duties as shall be enjoined upon him by law. He shall have a compensation for his services to be fixed by law.

Section 12. No person shall be elected or appointed to an office within a county who shall not have a right to vote for a Representative in the General Assembly, and have been a resident therein one year next before his election or appointment, nor hold the office longer than he continues to reside in the county, unless herein otherwise provided.

No member of Congress, nor any person holding or exercising any office under the United States, except officers usually appointed by the courts of justice respectively and attorneys-at-law, shall at the same time hold or exercise any office of profit under this State, unless herein otherwise provided.

No person shall hold more than one of the following offices at the same time, to wit: Secretary of State, Attorney-General, Insurance Commissioner, State Treasurer, Auditor of Accounts, Prothonotary, Clerk of the Peace, Register of Wills, Recorder, Sheriff or Coroner.

Section 13. All commissions shall be in the name of the State, and shall be sealed with the great seal and signed by the Governor.

Section 14. The Governor may for any reasonable cause remove any officer, except the Lieutenant Governor and members of the General Assembly, upon the address of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House of the General Assembly. Whenever the General Assembly shall so address the Governor, the cause of removal shall be entered on the journals of each House. The person against whom the General Assembly may be about to proceed shall receive notice thereof, accompanied with the cause alleged for his removal, at least ten days before the day on which either House of the General Assembly shall act thereon.

Section 15. The Governor may require information in writing from the officers in the executive department, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices.

Section 16. He shall, from time to time, give to the General Assembly information of affairs concerning the State and recommend to its consideration such measures as he shall judge expedient.

Section 17. He may on extraordinary occasions convene the General Assembly by proclamation; and in case of disagreement between the two Houses with respect to the time of adjournment, adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper, not exceeding three months. He shall have power to convene the Senate in extraordinary session by proclamation, for the transaction of executive business.

Section 18. He shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

Section 19. Every bill which shall have passed both Houses of the General Assembly shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if he shall not approve, he shall return it with his objections to the House in which it shall have originated, which House shall enter the objections at large on the journal and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, three-fifths of all the members elected to that House shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by three-fifths of all the members elected to that House, it shall become a law; but in neither House shall the vote be taken on the day on which the bill shall be returned to it. In all such cases the votes of both Houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each House respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the Governor within ten days, Sundays excepted, after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the General Assembly shall, by adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the Governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the General Assembly, unless approved by the Governor within thirty days after such adjournment. The Governor shall have power to disapprove of any item or items of any bill making appropriations of money, embracing distinct items, and the part or parts of the bill approved shall be the law, and the item or items of appropriation disapproved shall be void, unless repassed according to the rules and limitations prescribed for the passage of other bills over the Executive veto. Every order, resolution, or vote to which the concurrence of both Houses of the General Assembly may be necessary, except on a question of adjournment, shall be presented to the Governor; and before the same shall take effect be approved by him, or, being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by three-fifths of all the members elected to each House of the General Assembly, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

Section 20. A Lieutenant Governor shall be chosen at the same time, in the same manner, for the same term, and subject to the same provisions as the Governor; he shall possess the same qualifications of eligibility for office as the Governor; he shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no vote unless the Senate be equally divided.

The Lieutenant Governor while acting as President of the Senate, or as a member of the Board of Pardons, shall receive for his services the same compensation as the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Section 21. In case the person elected Governor shall die or become disqualified before the commencement of his term of office, or shall refuse to take the same, or in case of the removal of the Governor from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the Lieutenant Governor; and in case of removal, death, resignation, or inability of both the Governor and the Lieutenant Governor, the Secretary of State, or if there be none, or in case of his removal, death, resignation, or inability, then the Attorney-General, or if there be none, or in case of his removal, death, resignation, or inability, then the President pro tempore of the Senate, or if there be none, or in case of his removal, death, resignation, or inability, then the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall act as Governor until the disability of the Governor or Lieutenant Governor is removed, or a Governor shall be duly elected and qualified.

The foregoing provisions of this section shall apply only to such persons as are eligible to the office of Governor under this Constitution at the time the powers and duties of the office of Governor shall devolve upon them respectively.

Whenever the powers and duties of the office of Governor shall devolve upon the Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State or Attorney-General, his office shall become vacant; and whenever the powers and duties of the office of Governor shall devolve upon the President pro tempore of the Senate, or the Speaker of the House of Representatives, his seat as a member of the General Assembly shall become vacant; and any such vacancy shall be filled as directed by this Constitution: provided, however, that such vacancy shall not be created in case either of the said persons shall be acting as Governor during a temporary disability of the Governor.

Section 22. The terms of office of the Attorney General and Insurance Commissioner shall be four years; and the terms of office of the State Treasurer and Auditor of Accounts shall be two years. These officers shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at general elections, and be commissioned by the Governor.

Section 23. The terms of office of Prothonotaries, Clerks of the Peace, Registers of Wills, Recorders, Registers in Chancery and Clerks of the Orphans' Court shall be four years; and the terms of office of Sheriffs and Coroners shall be two years. These officers shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the respective counties at general elections, and be commissioned by the Governor.

No person shall be twice elected Sheriff in any term of four years.

Section 24. Prothonotaries, Clerks of the Peace, Registers of Wills, Recorders, Registers in Chancery, Clerks of the Orphans' Court and Sheriffs shall keep their offices in the town or place in each county in which the Superior Court is usually held.

ARTICLE IV.

JUDICIARY.

Section 1. The judicial power of this State shall be vested in a Supreme Court, a Superior Court, a Court of Chancery, an Orphans' Court, a Court of Oyer and Terminer, a Court of General Sessions, a Register's Court, Justices of the Peace and such other courts as the General Assembly, with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House, shall from time to time by law establish.

Section 2. There shall be six State judges, who shall be learned in the law. One of them shall be Chancellor, one of them Chief Justice and the other four of them Associate Judges.

The Chancellor, Chief Justice and one of the Associate Judges may be appointed from and reside in any part of the State. The other three Associate Judges may be appointed from any part of the State. They shall be resident Associate Judges, and one of them shall reside in each county.

In case the commissions of two or more of the Associate Judges shall be of the same date, they shall, as soon as conveniently may be after their appointment, determine their seniority by lot, and certify the result to the Governor.

Section 3. The Chancellor, Chief Justice and Associate Judges shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of three-fifths of all the members elected to the Senate, for the term of twelve years, and if a vacancy shall occur, by expiration of term or otherwise, at a time when the Senate shall not be in session, the Governor shall within thirty days after the happening of any such vacancy convene the Senate for the purpose of confirming his appointment to fill said vacancy, and the transaction of such other executive business as may come before it. Such vacancy shall be filled as aforesaid for the full term.

The said appointments shall be such that not more than three of the said five law judges, in office at the same time, shall have been appointed from the same political party.

Section 4. The Chancellor, Chief Justice and Associate Judges shall respectively receive from the State for their services a compensation which shall be fixed by law and paid quarterly, and shall not be less than the annual sum of three thousand dollars, and they shall not receive any fees or perquisites in addition to their salaries for business done by them, except as provided by law. They shall hold no other office of profit.

Section 5. The Chief Justice and the four Associate Judges shall compose the Superior Court, the Court of General Sessions and the Court of Oyer and Terminer, as hereinafter prescribed.

The said five judges shall designate those of their number who shall hold the said courts in the several counties. Whenever practicable the said courts shall consist of three of the said five judges, but no more than three of them shall sit together in any of the said courts. In each of the said courts the Chief Justice when present shall preside, and in his absence the senior Associate Judge present shall preside.

Two shall constitute a quorum in the said courts respectively, except in the court of Oyer and Terminer, where three shall constitute a quorum.

One may open and adjourn court.

Section 6. Two sessions of the Superior Court, or Court of General Sessions, or one session of each of the said courts, or one session of the Court of Oyer and Terminer and of either of the other of the said courts may at the same time be held in the same county or in different counties, and the business in the several counties may be distributed and apportioned in such manner as shall be provided by the rules of the said courts respectively.

Section 7. The Superior Court shall have jurisdiction of all causes of a civil nature, real, personal and mixed, at common law and all other the jurisdiction and powers vested by the laws of this State in the Superior Court.

Section 8. The Court of General Sessions shall have all the jurisdiction and powers vested by the laws of this State in the Court of General Sessions of the Peace and Jail Delivery.

Section 9. The Court of Oyer and Terminer shall have all the jurisdiction and powers vested by the laws of this State in the Court of Oyer and Terminer.

Section 10. The Chancellor shall hold the Court of Chancery. This court shall have all the jurisdiction and powers vested by the laws of this State in the Court of Chancery.

Section 11. The Orphans' Court in each county shall consist of the Chancellor and the resident Associate Judge of the county. The Chancellor when present shall preside. One of them shall constitute a quorum.

When their opinions are opposed, or when the decision is made by one of them, or when the decision is made by both of them in matters involving a right to real estate or the appraised value or other value thereof, and in all matters affecting guardians or guardians' accounts, there shall be an appeal to the Superior Court for the county, which shall have final jurisdiction in every such case. Upon such appeal, if the Associate Judge sat in the cause below, he shall not sit in the Superior Court. In all other cases the decision of the Orphans' Court shall be final.

This court shall have all the jurisdiction and powers vested by the laws of this State in the Orphans' Court.

Section 12. The Supreme Court shall have jurisdiction as follows:

(1). To issue writs of error to the Superior Court and to determine finally all matters in error in the judgments and proceedings of said Superior Court.

(2). To issue upon application of the accused, after conviction and sentence, writs of error to the Court of Oyer and Terminer and the Court of General Sessions in all cases in which the sentence shall be death, imprisonment exceeding one month, or fine exceeding $100, and in such other cases as shall be provided by law; and to determine finally all matters in error in the judgments and proceedings of said Court of Oyer and Terminer and Court of General Sessions in such cases: provided, however, that there shall be no writ of error to the Court of General Sessions in cases of prosecutions under Section 8 of Article V of this Constitution.

(3). To receive appeals from the Court of General Sessions in cases of prosecutions under Section 8 of Article V of this Constitution, and to determine finally all matters of appeal in such cases.

(4). To receive appeals from the Court of Chancery, and to determine finally all matters of appeal in the interlocutory or final decrees and proceedings in chancery.

(5). To issue writs of prohibition, certiorari and mandamus to the Superior Court, the Court of Oyer and Terminer, the Court of General Sessions, the Court of Chancery and the Orphans' Court, or any of the judges of the said courts, and all orders, rules and processes proper to give effect to the same. The General Assembly shall have power to provide by law of what judges the Supreme Court shall consist for the purpose of this paragraph and in what manner, and by what judges of the Supreme Court, the jurisdiction and power hereby conferred may be exercised in vacation.

Section 13. The Supreme Court upon a writ of error to the Superior Court, Court of Oyer and Terminer, or Court of General Sessions, or upon appeal from the Court of General Sessions, shall consist of the Chancellor and such of the other five judges as did not sit in the cause below. The Chancellor when present shall preside, and in his absence the Chief Justice when present shall preside, and in his absence the senior Associate Judge present shall preside. Any three of them shall constitute a quorum, and one of them may open and adjourn court.

Section 14. The Supreme Court upon an appeal from the Court of Chancery shall consist of the Chief Justice and the four Associate Judges.

The Chief Justice when present shall preside, and in his absence the senior Associate Judge present shall preside. Any three of them shall constitute a quorum, and one of them may open and adjourn court.

Section 15. Whenever the Superior Court, Court of Oyer and Terminer or Court of General Sessions shall consider that a question of law ought to be heard by the Court in Banc, they shall have power, upon application of either party, to direct it to be so heard; and in that case the Court in Banc shall consist of the Chief Justice and the four Associate Judges.

The Chief Justice when present shall preside, and in his absence the senior Associate Judge present shall preside. Any four of them shall constitute a quorum, and one of them may open and adjourn court.

The Superior Court, Court of Oyer and Terminer or Court of General Sessions in exercising this power, may direct a cause to be proceeded in to verdict or judgment in that court, or to be otherwise proceeded in, as shall be best for expediting justice.

Section 16. In matters of chancery jurisdiction in which the Chancellor is interested or otherwise disqualified, the Chief Justice shall have jurisdiction, and there shall be an appeal to the Supreme Court, which shall in this case consist of the four Associate Judges, the senior Associate Judge present presiding. Any three of them shall constitute a quorum, and one of them may open and adjourn court.

Section 17. The Chief Justice, or, in case of his absence from the State or disability, the senior Associate Judge, shall have power, during the absence of the Chancellor from the State or his temporary disability, to grant restraining orders and preliminary injunctions, pursuant to the rules of the Court of Chancery; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to confer general jurisdiction over the case.

Section 18. The Governor shall have power to commission a judge ad litem for the purpose of constituting a quorum in the Superior Court, Court of Oyer and Terminer, Court of General Sessions or Supreme Court, where by reason of legal exception to the Chancellor or any judge or for other cause a quorum could not otherwise be had. The commission in such case shall confine the office to the cause, and it shall expire on the determination of the cause. The judge so appointed shall receive a reasonable compensation to be fixed by the General Assembly. A member of Congress, or any person holding or exercising an office under the United States, shall not be disqualified from being appointed a judge ad litem.

Section 19. The jurisdiction of each of the aforesaid courts shall be co-extensive with the State. Process may be issued out of each court, in either county, into every county. No costs shall be awarded against any party to a cause by reason of the fact that suit is brought in a county other than that in which the defendant or defendants may reside at the time of bringing suit.

Section 20. The General Assembly, notwithstanding any thing contained in this Article, shall have power to repeal or alter any act of the General Assembly giving jurisdiction to the Court of Oyer and Terminer, the Superior Court, the Court of General Sessions of the Peace and Jail Delivery, the Orphans' Court, or the Court of Chancery, in any matter, or giving any power to either of the said courts. The General Assembly shall also have power to confer upon the Court of Oyer and Terminer, the Superior Court, the Court of General Sessions, the Orphans' Court and the Court of Chancery jurisdiction and powers in addition to those hereinbefore mentioned. Until the General Assembly shall otherwise direct, there shall be an appeal to the Supreme Court in all cases in which there is an appeal, according to any act of the General Assembly, to the Court of Errors and Appeals.

Section 21. Until the General Assembly shall otherwise provide, the Chancellor shall exercise all the powers which any law of this State vests in the Chancellor, beside the general powers of the Court of Chancery; and the Chief Justice and Associate Judges shall each singly exercise all the powers which any law of this State vests in the judges singly of the Superior Court.

Section 22. Judges shall not charge juries with respect to matters of fact, but may state the questions of fact in issue and declare the law.

Section 23. In civil causes where matters of fact are at issue, if the parties agree, such matters of fact shall be tried by the court, and judgment rendered upon their decision thereon as upon a verdict by a jury.

Section 24. In civil causes, when pending, the Superior Court shall have the power, before judgment, of directing, upon such terms as they shall deem reasonable, amendments, impleadings and legal proceedings, so that by error in any of them, the determination of causes, according to their real merits, shall not be hindered; and also of directing the examination of witnesses who are aged, very infirm, or going out of the State, upon interrogatories de bene esse, to be read in evidence, in case of the death or departure of the witnesses before the trial, or inability by reason of age, sickness, bodily infirmity, or imprisonment, then to attend; and also the power of obtaining evidence from places not within the State.

Section 25. At any time pending an action for debt or damages, the defendant may bring into court a sum of money for discharging the same, together with the cost then accrued, and the plaintiff not accepting the same, if upon the final decision of the cause, he shall not recover a greater sum than that so paid into court for him, he shall not recover any costs accruing after such payment, except where the plaintiff is an executor or administrator.

Section 26. By the death of any party, no suit in chancery or at law, where the cause of action survives, shall abate, but, until the General Assembly shall otherwise provide, suggestion of such death being entered of record, the executor or administrator of a deceased petitioner or plaintiff may prosecute the said suit; and if a respondent or defendant dies, the executor or administrator being duly served with a scire facias thirty days before the return thereof shall be considered as a party to the suit, in the same manner as if he had voluntarily made himself a party; and in any of those cases, the court shall pass a decree, or render judgment for or against executors or administrators, as to right appertains. But where an executor or administrator of a deceased respondent or defendant becomes a party, the court upon motion shall grant such a continuance of the cause as to the judges shall appear proper.

Section 27. Whenever a person, not being an executor or administrator, appeals from a decree of the Chancellor, or applies for a writ of error, such appeal or writ shall be no stay of proceeding in chancery, or the court to which the writ issues, unless the appellant or plaintiff in error shall give sufficient security, to be approved respectively by the Chancellor, or by a judge of the court from which the writ issues, that the appellant or plaintiff in error shall prosecute respectively his appeal or writ to effect, and pay the condemnation money and all costs, or otherwise abide the decree in appeal or the judgment in error, if he fail to make his plea good.

Section 28. No writ of error shall be brought upon any judgment heretofore confessed, entered or rendered, or upon any judgment hereafter to be confessed, entered or rendered, but within five years after the confessing, entering or rendering thereof; unless the person entitled to such writ be an infant, feme covert, non compos mentis or a prisoner, and then within five years exclusive of the time of such disability.

Section 29. The Prothonotary of the Superior Court may issue process, take recognizances of bail and enter judgments, according to law and the practice of the court. No judgment in one county shall bind lands or tenements in another, until a testatum fieri facias being issued, shall be entered of record in the office of the prothonotary of the county wherein the lands or tenements are situate.

Section 30. The General Assembly may by law give to any inferior courts by them established or to be established, or to one or more justices of the peace, jurisdiction of the criminal matters following, that is to say: assaults and batteries, keeping without license a public house of entertainment, tavern, inn, ale house, ordinary or victualing house, retailing or selling without license, or on Sunday, or to minors, wine, rum, brandy, gin, whiskey, or spirituous or mixed liquors, contrary to law, carrying concealed a deadly weapon, disturbing meetings held for the purpose of religious worship, nuisances, and such other misdemeanors as the General Assembly may from time to time, with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House, prescribe.

The General Assembly may by law regulate this jurisdiction, and provide that the proceedings shall be with or without indictment by grand jury, or trial by petit jury, and may grant or deny the privilege of appeal to the Court of General Sessions; provided, however, that there shall be an appeal to the Court of General Sessions in all cases in which the sentence shall be imprisonment exceeding one month, or a fine exceeding one hundred dollars.

Section 31. There shall be appointed, as hereinafter provided, such number of persons to the office of Justice of the Peace as shall be directed by law, who shall be commissioned for four years.

Section 32. Justices of the Peace and the judges of such courts as the General Assembly may establish pursuant to the provisions of Section 1 or Section 30 of this Article shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of three-fifths of all the members elected to the Senate, for such terms as shall be fixed by this Constitution or by law.

Section 33. The Registers of Wills of the several counties shall respectively hold the Register's Court in each county. Upon the litigation of a cause the depositions of the witnesses examined shall be taken at large in writing and make part of the proceedings in the cause. This court may issue process throughout the State. Appeals may be taken from a Register's Court to the Superior Court, whose decision shall be final. In cases where a Register of Wills is interested in questions concerning the probate of wills, the granting of letters of administration, or executors' or administrators' accounts, the cognizance thereof shall belong to the Orphans' Court, with an appeal to the Superior Court, whose decision shall be final.

Section 34. An executor or administrator shall file every account with the Register of Wills for the county, who shall, as soon as conveniently may be, carefully examine the particulars with the proofs thereof, in the presence of such executor or administrator, and shall adjust and settle the same according to the right of the matter and the law of the land; which account so settled shall remain in his office for inspection; and the executor or administrator shall within three months after such settlement give notice in writing to all persons entitled to shares of the estate, or to their guardians, respectively, if residing within the State, that the account is lodged in the said office for inspection.

Exceptions may be made by persons concerned to both sides of every such account, either denying the justice of the allowances made to the accountant or alleging further charges against him; and the exceptions shall be heard in the Orphans' Court for the county; and thereupon the account shall be adjusted and settled according to the right of the matter and law of the land.

Section 35. The style in all process and public acts shall be the THE STATE OF DELAWARE. Prosecutions shall be carried on in the name of the State.

ARTICLE V.

ELECTIONS.

Section 1. The general election shall be held biennially on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in the month of November, and shall be by ballot; but the General Assembly may by law prescribe the means, methods and instruments of voting so as best to secure secrecy and the independence of the voter, preserve the freedom and purity of elections and prevent fraud, corruption and intimidation thereat.

Section 2. Every male citizen of this State of the age of twenty-one years who shall have been a resident thereof one year next preceding an election, and for the last three months a resident of the county, and for the last thirty days a resident of the hundred or election district in which he may offer to vote, and in which he shall have been duly registered as hereinafter provided for, shall be entitled to vote at such election in the hundred or election district of which he shall at the time be a resident, and in which he shall be registered, for all officers that now are or hereafter may be elected by the people, and upon all questions which may be submitted to the vote of the people: provided, however, that no person who shall attain the age of twenty-one years after the first day of January, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred, or after that date shall become a citizen of the United States, shall have the right to vote unless he shall be able to read this Constitution in the English language and write his name; but these requirements shall not apply to any person who by reason of physical disability shall be unable to comply therewith: and provided also, that no person in the military, naval, or marine service of the United States shall be considered as acquiring a residence in this State, by being stationed in any garrison, barrack, or military or naval place or station within this State; and no idiot, or insane person, pauper, or person convicted of a crime deemed by law felony, or incapacitated under the provisions of this Constitution from voting, shall enjoy the right of an elector; and the General Assembly may impose the forfeiture of the right of suffrage as a punishment for crime.

Section 3. No person who shall receive or accept, or offer to receive or accept, or shall pay, transfer or deliver, or offer or promise to pay, transfer or deliver, or shall contribute, or offer or promise to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation, inducement or reward for the registering or abstaining from registering of any one qualified to register, or for the giving or withholding, or in any manner influencing the giving or withholding, a vote at any general, special or municipal election in this State, shall vote at such election; and upon challenge for any of said causes, the person so challenged, before the officers authorized for that purpose shall receive his vote, shall swear or affirm before such officers that he has not received or accepted, or offered to receive or accept, or paid, transferred or delivered, or offered or promised to pay, transfer or deliver, or contributed, or offered or promised to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation, inducement or reward for the registering or abstaining from registering of any one qualified to register, or for the giving or withholding, or in any manner influencing the giving or withholding, a vote at such election.

Such oath or affirmation shall be conclusive evidence to the election officers of the truth of such oath or affirmation; but if any such oath or affirmation shall be false, the person making the same shall be guilty of perjury, and no conviction thereof shall bar any prosecution under Section 8 of this Article.

Section 4. The General Assembly shall provide by law for a uniform biennial registration of the names of all the voters in this State who possess the qualifications prescribed in this Article, which registration shall be conclusive evidence to the election officers of the right of every person so registered to vote at the general election next thereafter, who is not disqualified under the provisions of Section 3 of this Article; but no person shall vote at such election unless his name appears in the list of registered voters.

Such registration shall be commenced not more than ninety days nor less than sixty days before and be completed not more than twenty days nor less than ten days before such election. Application for registration may be made on at least five days during the said period; provided, however, that such registration may be corrected as hereinafter provided, at any time prior to the day of holding the election.

Voters shall be registered upon personal application only; and each voter shall, at the time of his registration, pay a registration fee of one dollar.

From the decision of the registration officers granting or refusing registration, or striking or refusing to strike a name or names from the registration list, any person interested, or any registration officer, may appeal to the resident Associate Judge of the county, or, in case of his disability or absence from the county, to any judge entitled to sit in the Supreme Court, whose determination shall be final; and he shall have power to order any name improperly omitted from the said registry to be placed thereon, and any name improperly appearing on the said registry to be stricken therefrom, and any name appearing on the said registry, in any manner incorrect, to be corrected, and to make and enforce all necessary orders in the premises for the correction of the said registry. Registration shall be required only for general biennial elections at which Representatives to the General Assembly shall be chosen, unless the General Assembly shall otherwise provide by law.

The existing laws in reference to the registration of voters, so far as consistent with the provisions of this Article, shall continue in force until the General Assembly shall otherwise provide.

Section 5. Electors shall in all cases, except treason, felony, or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at elections, and in going to and returning from them.

Section 6. The presiding election officer of each hundred or election district shall on the day next after the general election deliver one of the certificates of the election, made and certified as required by law, together with the ballot boxes, containing the ballots, the other certificate of election and such other papers as shall by law be required to be placed therein, to the Prothonotary of the Superior Court of the county, who shall at twelve o'clock noon on the second day after the election present the same to the said court, which shall convene for the performance of the duties hereby imposed upon it; and thereupon the said court, with the aid of such of its officers and such sworn assistants as it shall appoint, shall publicly ascertain the state of the election throughout the county, by calculating the aggregate amount of all the votes for each office that shall be given in all the hundreds and election districts of the county for every person voted for for such office.

In case the certificate of election of any hundred or election district shall not be produced, or in case of complaint under oath of fraud or mistake in any such certificate, or in case fraud or mistake is apparent on the face of any such certificate, the court shall have power to issue summary process against the election officers or any other persons to bring them forthwith into court with the election papers in their possession or control, and to open the ballot boxes and take therefrom any paper contained therein, and to make a recount of the ballots contained therein, and to correct any fraud or mistake in any certificate or paper relating to such election.

The said court shall have all other the jurisdiction and powers now vested by law in the Boards of Canvass, and such other powers as shall be provided by law.

After the state of the election shall have been ascertained as aforesaid, the said court shall make certificates thereof, under the seal of said court, in the form required by law, and transmit, deliver and lodge the same as required by this Constitution or by law, and deliver the ballot boxes to the sheriff of the county, to be by him kept and delivered as required by law.

No act or determination of the court in the discharge of the duties imposed upon it by this section shall be conclusive in the trial of any contested election.

For the purposes of this section the Superior Court shall consist in New Castle county of the Chief Justice and the resident Associate Judge; in Kent county of the Chancellor and the resident Associate Judge; and in Sussex county of the resident Associate Judge and the remaining Associate Judge.

Two shall constitute a quorum. The Governor shall have power to commission a judge for the purpose of constituting a quorum when by reason of legal exception to the Chancellor or any judge, or for any other cause, a quorum could not otherwise be had.

Section 7. Every person who shall receive or accept, or offer to receive or accept, or shall pay, transfer or deliver, or offer or promise to pay, transfer or deliver, or shall contribute, or offer or promise to contribute, to another to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation, inducement or reward for the giving or withholding, or in any manner influencing the giving or withholding, a vote at any general, special, or municipal election in this State, or at any primary election, convention or meeting held for the purpose of nominating any candidate or candidates to be voted for at such general, special or municipal election; or who shall make or become directly or indirectly a party to any bet or wager depending upon the result of any such general, special, municipal or primary election or convention or meeting, or upon a vote thereat by any person; or who shall, by the use or promise of money or other valuable thing, or otherwise, cause or attempt to cause any officer of election or registration officer to violate his official duty; or who shall by the use or promise of money or other valuable thing influence or attempt to influence any person to be registered or abstain from being registered; or who, being an officer of election or registration officer, shall knowingly and wilfully violate his official duty; or who shall by force, threat, menace or intimidation, prevent or hinder, or attempt to prevent or hinder, any person qualified for registration from being registered or any person qualified to vote from voting according to his choice at any such general, special or municipal election, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, or shall be imprisoned for a term not less than six months nor more than five years, or shall suffer both fine and imprisonment within said limits, at the discretion of the court; and, if a male, shall further for a term of ten years next following his sentence be incapable of voting at any such general, special, municipal or primary election or convention or meeting. No person, other than the accused, shall, in the prosecution for any offense mentioned in this section, be permitted to withhold his testimony on the ground that it may criminate himself or subject him to public infamy; but such testimony shall not afterwards be used against him in any judicial proceeding, except for perjury in giving such testimony.

Section 8. Every prosecution for any of the offences mentioned in Section 7 of this Article shall be on information filed by the Attorney General, after examination and commitment or holding to bail by a judge or justice of the peace, and the cause shall be heard, tried and determined by the court without the intervention of either a grand jury or a petit jury. The accused, if adjudged guilty of the offence charged against him, shall have the right at any time within the space of three calendar months next after sentence is pronounced to an appeal to the Supreme Court. The court below, or any judge thereof, in term time or vacation, shall upon application by the accused allow such appeal; but such appeal shall not operate as a supersedeas unless the appellant shall at the time of the allowance thereof give an appeal bond to the State of Delaware in such amount and with such surety as shall be approved by such court or judge. On such appeal the Supreme Court shall, with all convenient speed, review the evidence adduced in the cause in the court below, as well as the other proceedings therein, and the law applicable thereto, and give final judgment accordingly, either affirming or reversing the judgment below. If the appellant shall fail to prosecute his appeal pursuant to the rules and practice hereinafter provided for, the Supreme Court shall affirm the judgment of the court below. Where the sentence in the court below includes a term of imprisonment and an appeal bond is given and approved in manner aforesaid, the Supreme Court, if it affirm the judgment below, shall sentence the appellant to a term of imprisonment equal to that imposed by the court below, after deducting therefrom a period equal to the time of imprisonment, if any, already suffered by him under the sentence of the court below. The surety or sureties in any appeal bond given under the provisions of this section shall have the right at any time after its approval and until final judgment shall be rendered by the Supreme Court, and, in case the judgment of the court below shall be affirmed, until the expiration of the space of thirty days next following such affirmance, to take, wherever found, and render the appellant to the sheriff of the county in which he was sentenced; and a certified copy of the appeal bond shall be the sufficient warrant for such surety or sureties for such taking and rendering. If the Supreme Court shall reverse any judgment of the court below imposing a fine, and if the accused shall have fully paid such fine and the costs of prosecution, the amount thereof shall be refunded to the appellant through a warrant drawn by the court below on the treasurer of the county in which the accused was sentenced. All the judges entitled to sit in the Supreme Court shall, as soon as conveniently may be, meet at the usual place of sitting of said court, and they, or a majority of them, shall adopt rules prescribing the forms and conditions of appeal bonds to be used under the provisions of this section, and the manner of certifying copies thereof, providing for the printing or reduction to writing of all oral evidence in the cause in the court below and of the opinion of said court, for the certification of the same when so printed or reduced to writing, and of copies thereof; for the copying and certification of all documentary or other written or printed evidence in the cause in the court below and of the record therein; for the transmission to the Supreme Court of such certified copies of such record, and of all the evidence adduced in the court below and of the opinion of said court; for the transmission to the court below of a certified copy of the final judgment of the Supreme Court and of any additional sentence pronounced by said court, for the discharge of sureties in appeal bonds, and for the framing, issuance, service and enforcement of all process and rules necessary to give full effect to the provisions of this section; and regulating generally the practice and procedure of the Supreme Court and the court below in cases of appeal under this section. The said judges, or a majority of them, met as aforesaid, may also provide that when complaint shall be made in due form, prescribed by them, to any judge entitled to sit in the Supreme Court, that any offence mentioned in Section 7 of this Article has been committed in the county in which such judge shall reside, such judge shall have power to cause the person charged with such offence to be arrested within any county of this State and brought before him, and to bind him with sufficient surety, or, for want of bail, commit him for his appearance and answer at the next term of the Court of General Sessions in such manner and under and pursuant to such rules and regulations as the said judges, or a majority of them, shall prescribe. From time to time hereafter, whenever a majority of all the judges entitled to sit in the Supreme Court shall so request, all of the judges so entitled shall, as soon as conveniently may be, meet at the usual place of sitting of said court; and they, or a majority of them, shall have power to revise, amend, add to or annul, any rule or rules theretofore adopted touching forms, practice or procedure in cases of appeal under this section, or arrest and binding or commitment for appearance and answer, in such manner and to such extent as in their judgment shall best serve to effectuate the purposes hereof. No person shall be adjudged guilty of any offence mentioned in Section 7 of this Article without the concurrence of all of the judges trying the case; and upon appeal no judgment of the court shall be affirmed without the concurrence of all of the judges of the Supreme Court sitting in the case, and their failure to concur as aforesaid shall operate as a reversal of the judgment of the court below; provided, however, that such concurrence of the judges sitting in the Supreme Court shall not be necessary for the affirmance of the judgment of the court below where the appellant shall fail to prosecute his appeal pursuant to the rules and practice herein provided for.

Section 9. The enumeration of the offences mentioned in Section 7 of this Article shall not preclude the General Assembly from defining and providing for the punishment of other offences against the freedom and purity of the ballot, or touching the conduct, returns or ascertainment of the result of general, special or municipal elections, or of primary elections, conventions or meetings held for the nomination of candidates to be voted for at general, special or municipal elections. No prosecution under any act of the General Assembly passed pursuant to this section shall be subject to the provisions of Section 8 of this Article.

ARTICLE VI.

IMPEACHMENT AND TREASON.

Section 1. The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeaching; but two-thirds of all the members must concur in an impeachment. All impeachments shall be tried by the Senate, and when sitting for that purpose, the Senators shall be upon oath or affirmation to do justice according to the evidence. No person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of all the Senators.

On the trial of an impeachment against the Governor or Lieutenant Governor, the Chief Justice, or, in case of his absence or disability, the Chancellor shall preside; and on the trial of all other impeachments the President of the Senate shall preside.

Section 2. The Governor and all other civil officers under this State shall be liable to impeachment for treason, bribery, or any high crime or misdemeanor in office. Judgment in such cases shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold any office of honor, trust or profit under this State; but the party convicted shall, nevertheless, be subject to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment according to law.

Section 3. Treason against this State shall consist only in levying war against it, or in adhering to the enemies of the Government, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason, unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

ARTICLE VII.

PARDONS.

Section 1. The Governor shall have power to remit fines and forfeitures and to grant reprieves, commutations of sentence and pardons, except in cases of impeachment; but no pardon, or reprieve for more than six months, shall be granted, nor sentence commuted, except upon the recommendation in writing of a majority of the Board of Pardons after full hearing; and such recommendation, with the reasons therefor at length, shall be filed and recorded in the office of the Secretary of State, who shall forthwith notify the Governor thereof.

He shall fully set forth in writing the grounds of all reprieves, pardons and remissions, to be entered in the register of his official acts and laid before the General Assembly at its next session.

Section 2. The Board of Pardons shall be composed of the Chancellor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, State Treasurer and Auditor of Accounts.

Section 3. The said board may require information from the Attorney General upon any subject relating to the duties of said board.

ARTICLE VIII.

REVENUE AND TAXATION.

Section 1. All taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax, and shall be levied and collected under general laws, but the General Assembly may by general laws exempt from taxation such property as in the opinion of the General Assembly will best promote the public welfare.

Section 2. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose alterations as on other bills; and no bill from the operation of which, when passed into law, revenue may incidentally arise shall be accounted a bill for raising revenue; nor shall any matter or clause whatever not immediately relating to and necessary for raising revenue be in any manner blended with or annexed to a bill for raising revenue.

Section 3. No money shall be borrowed or debt created by or on behalf of the State but pursuant to an act of the General Assembly, passed with the concurrence of three-fourths of all the members elected to each House, except to supply casual deficiencies of revenue, repel invasion, suppress insurrections, defend the State in war, or pay existing debts; and any law authorizing the borrowing of money by or on behalf of the State shall specify the purpose for which the money is to be borrowed, and the money so borrowed shall be used exclusively for such purpose; but should the money so borrowed, or any part thereof, be left after the abandonment of such purpose or the accomplishment thereof, such money, or the surplus thereof, may be disposed of according to law.

Section 4. No appropriation of the public money shall be made to, nor the bonds of this State be issued or loaned to any county, municipality or corporation, nor shall the credit of the State, by the guarantee or the endorsement of the bonds or other undertakings of any county, municipality or corporation, be pledged otherwise than pursuant to an Act of the General Assembly, passed with the concurrence of three-fourths of all the members to each House.

Section 5. The General Assembly shall provide for levying and collecting a capitation tax from every male citizen of the State of the age of twenty-one years or upwards; but such tax to be collected in any county shall be uniform throughout that county, and such capitation tax shall be used exclusively in the county in which it is collected.

Section 6. No money shall be drawn from the treasury but pursuant to an appropriation made by Act of the General Assembly; provided, however, that the compensation of the members of the General Assembly and all expenses connected with the session thereof may be paid out of the treasury pursuant to resolution in that behalf; a regular account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published annually.

Section 7. In all assessments of the value of real estate for taxation, the value of the land and the value of the buildings and improvements thereon shall be included. And in all assessments of the rental value of real estate for taxation, the rental value of the land and the rental value of the buildings and the improvements thereon shall be included. The foregoing provisions of this section shall apply to all assessments of the value of real estate or of the rental value thereof for taxation for State, county, hundred, school, municipal or other public purposes.

Section 8. No county, city, town or other municipality shall lend its credit or appropriate money to, or assume the debt of, or become a shareholder or joint owner in or with any private corporation or any person or company whatever.

ARTICLE IX.

CORPORATIONS.

Section 1. No corporation shall hereafter be created, amended, renewed or revived by special act, but only by or under general law, nor shall any existing corporate charter be amended, renewed, or revived by special act, but only by or under general law; but the foregoing provisions shall not apply to municipal corporations or corporations for charitable, penal, reformatory or educational purposes, sustained in whole or in part by the State. The General Assembly shall, by general law, provide for the revocation or forfeiture of the charters of all corporations for the abuse, misuse, or non-user of their corporate powers, privileges or franchises. Any proceeding for such revocation or forfeiture shall be taken by the Attorney General, as may be provided by law. No general incorporation law, nor any special act of incorporation, shall be enacted without the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House of the General Assembly.

Section 2. No corporation in existence at the adoption of this Constitution shall have its charter amended or renewed without first filing, under the corporate seal of said corporation, and duly attested, in the office of the Secretary of State, an acceptance of the provisions of this Constitution.

Section 3. No corporation shall issue stock, except for money paid, labor done or personal property, or real estate or leases thereof actually acquired by such corporation; and neither labor nor property shall be received in payment of stock at a greater price than the actual value at the time the said labor was done or property delivered or title acquired.

Section 4. The rights, privileges, immunities and estates of religious societies and corporate bodies, except as herein otherwise provided, shall remain as if the Constitution of this State had not been altered.

ARTICLE X.

EDUCATION.

Section 1. The General Assembly shall provide for the establishment and maintenance of a general and efficient system of free public schools, and may require by law that every child, not physically or mentally disabled, shall attend the public school, unless educated by other means.

Section 2. In addition to the income of the investments of the Public School Fund, the General Assembly shall make provision for the annual payment of not less than one hundred thousand dollars for the benefit of the free public schools which, with the income of the investments of the Public School Fund, shall be annually apportioned among the school districts on the basis of a per diem for every day taught by each teacher in said districts, during the school year next preceding the time of such apportionment; and the money so apportioned shall be used exclusively for the payment of teachers' salaries and for furnishing free text books; provided, however, that in such apportionment, no distinction shall be made on account of race or color, and separate schools for white and colored children shall be maintained. All other expenses connected with the maintenance of free public schools, and all expenses connected with the erection or repair of free public school buildings shall be defrayed in such manner as shall be provided by law.

Section 3. No portion of any fund now existing, or which may hereafter be appropriated, or raised by tax, for educational purposes, shall be appropriated to, or used by, or in aid of any sectarian, church or denominational school; provided, that all real and personal property used for school purposes, where the tuition is free, shall be exempt from taxation and assessment for public purposes.

Section 4. No part of the principal or income of the Public School Fund, now or hereafter existing, shall be used for any other purpose than the support of free public schools.

ARTICLE XI.

AGRICULTURE.

Section 1. There shall be a department established and maintained, known as the State Board of Agriculture.

Section 2. The said board shall be composed of three Commissioners of Agriculture, one of whom shall reside in each county in the State. Any two of them shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Section 3. The said Commissioners of Agriculture shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate, one for the term of one year, one for the term of two years and one for the term of three years; and thereafter all appointments of Commissioners of Agriculture shall be made as aforesaid for the term of three years, and they shall hold office until their successors are duly qualified: Provided, that any vacancy occurring in the office of Commissioner of Agriculture before the expiration of a term shall be filled by appointment as aforesaid for the remainder of the term; and provided further, that in case such vacancy shall occur when the Senate is not in session, such vacancy may be filled by the Governor without confirmation by the Senate until the end of the next session of the Senate.

Section 4. The said board shall have power to abate and prevent, by such means as the General Assembly shall prescribe, all contagious and infectious diseases of fruit trees, plants, vegetables, cereals, horses, cattle and other farm animals; and upon complaint made by the board to the Attorney General, of any grievances committed by any common carrier or transportation company touching freight charges or efficiency of transportation, it shall be the duty of the Attorney General to institute and prosecute proceedings for the investigation and redress of such grievances, in such manner as shall be provided by law.

Section 5. The said commissioners may devise such plans for securing immigration to this State of industrious and useful settlers as they may deem expedient, and such plans may be executed as prescribed by the General Assembly.

Section 6. The General Assembly shall provide by law for the compensation of the members of said board, prescribe and define their duties, and enact suitable provisions for the execution by the said board of the powers herein designated.

Section 7. The Board of Agriculture hereby established shall continue for eight years from the date of the qualification of the first member thereof, after which it may be abolished by the General Assembly.

ARTICLE XII.

HEALTH.

The General Assembly shall provide for the establishment and maintenance of a State Board of Health, which shall have supervision of all matters relating to public health, with such powers and duties as may be prescribed by law; and also for the establishment and maintenance of such local boards of health as may be necessary, to be under the supervision of the State Board, to such extent and with such powers as may be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE XIII.

LOCAL OPTION.

Section 1. The General Assembly may provide by law for the submission to the vote of the qualified electors of the several districts of the State, or any of them, mentioned in Section 2 of this Article, the question whether the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors shall be licensed or prohibited within the limits thereof; and in every district in which there is a majority against license, no person, firm or corporation shall thereafter manufacture or sell spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, except for medicinal or sacramental purposes, within said district, until at a subsequent submission of such question a majority of votes shall be cast in said district for license. Whenever a majority of all the members elected to each House of the General Assembly by the qualified electors in any district named in Section 2 of this Article shall request the submission of the question of license or no license to a vote of the qualified electors in said district, the General Assembly shall provide for the submission of such question to the qualified electors in such district at the next general election thereafter.

Section 2. Under the provisions of this Article, Sussex County shall comprise one district, Kent County one district, the City of Wilmington, as its corporate limits now are or may hereafter be extended, one district, and the remaining part of New Castle County one district.

Section 3. The General Assembly shall provide necessary laws to carry out and enforce the provisions of this Article, enact laws governing the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors under the limitations of this Article, and provide such penalties as may be necessary to enforce the same.

ARTICLE XIV.

OATH OF OFFICE.

Members of the General Assembly and all public officers, executive and judicial, except such inferior officers as shall be by law exempted, shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of Delaware, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of ———, according to the best of my ability"; and all such officers, except as aforesaid, who shall have been chosen at any election, shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the oath or affirmation above prescribed, together with the following addition thereto, as part thereof:

"And I do further solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have not directly or indirectly paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed, or offered or promised to contribute, any money or other valuable thing as a consideration or reward for the giving or withholding a vote at the election at which I was elected to said office."

No other oath, declaration or test shall be required as a qualification for any office of public trust.

ARTICLE XV.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Section 1. The Chancellor, Judges and Attorney General shall be conservators of the peace throughout the State; and the Sheriffs and Coroners shall be conservators of the peace within the counties respectively in which they reside.

Section 2. No public officer shall receive any fees without giving to the person paying the same a receipt therefor, if required, therein specifying every item and charge.

Section 3. No costs shall be paid by a person accused, on a bill being returned ignoramus, nor on acquittal.

Section 4. No law shall extend the term of any public officer or diminish his salary or emoluments after his election or appointment.

Section 5. All public officers shall hold their respective offices until their successors shall be duly qualified, except in cases herein otherwise provided.

Section 6. All public officers shall hold their offices on condition that they behave themselves well, and shall be removed by the Governor on conviction of misbehavior in office or of any infamous crime.

Section 7. The matters within Section 30 of Article IV and Sections 7 and 8 of Article V are excepted from the provision of the Constitution that "No person shall for any indictable offence be proceeded against criminally by information," and also from the provisions of the Constitution concerning trial by jury.

Section 8. This Constitution shall be prefixed to every codification of the laws of this State.

ARTICLE XVI.

AMENDMENTS AND CONVENTIONS.

Section 1. Any amendment or amendments to this Constitution may be proposed in the Senate or House of Representatives; and if the same shall be agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each House, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered on their journals, with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and the Secretary of State shall cause such proposed amendment or amendments to be published three months before the next general election in at least two newspapers in each county in which such newspapers shall be published; and if in the General Assembly next after the said election such proposed amendment or amendments shall be agreed to by three-fifths of all the members elected to each House, the Secretary of State shall cause the same again to be published in the manner aforesaid; and such proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at the next general election for approval or rejection; and if such proposed amendment or amendments shall be approved by a majority of those voting thereon, the same shall become part of the Constitution upon the ascertainment of such results by the General Assembly. When two or more proposed amendments shall be so submitted they shall be voted upon separately.

Section 2. The General Assembly may from time to time provide for the submission to the qualified electors of the State at the general election next thereafter the question, "Shall there be a Convention to revise the Constitution and amend the same?"; and upon such submission, if a majority of those voting on said question shall decide in favor of a Convention for such purpose, the General Assembly at its next session shall provide for the election of delegates to such Convention at the next general election. Such Convention shall be composed of thirty-five delegates, one of whom shall be chosen from each Representative District by the qualified electors thereof. The delegates so chosen shall convene at the Capital of the State on the first Tuesday in September next after their election. Every delegate shall receive for his services such compensation as shall be provided by law. A majority of the Convention shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The Convention shall have power to appoint such officers, employes and assistants as it may deem necessary, and fix their compensation, and provide for the printing of its documents, journals, debates and proceedings. The Convention shall determine the rules of its proceedings, and be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its members. Whenever there shall be a vacancy in the office of delegate from any district by reason of failure to elect, ineligibility, death, resignation or otherwise, a writ of election to fill such vacancy shall be issued by the Governor, and such vacancy shall be filled by the qualified electors of such district.

Section 3. The General Assembly shall provide for receiving, tallying and counting the votes for or against proposed amendments to the Constitution, and for or against a Convention, and for returning to the General Assembly at its next session the state of such vote; and shall also enact all provisions necessary for giving effect to this Article.

Section 4. No bill or resolution passed by the General Assembly under or pursuant to the provisions of this Article, except a bill or resolution providing for the submission to the qualified electors of the State the question, "Shall there be a Convention to revise the Constitution and amend the same?" shall require for its validity the approval of the Governor, and the same, except as aforesaid, shall be exempt from the provisions of Section 19 of Article III of this Constitution.

Section 5. In voting at any general election, upon proposed amendments to the Constitution, or upon the question, "Shall there be a Convention to revise the Constitution and amend the same?" the ballots shall be separate from those cast for any person voted for at such election, and shall be kept distinct and apart from all other ballots.

Mr. Dasey moved that Rule No. 10 be stricken out,

Which motion unanimously	Prevailed.
--------------------------	------------

Mr. Cooper, on behalf of the Committee on Rules, recommended that Rule 4 be amended to read as follows:

Rule 4. No member shall be allowed to speak upon any subject more than ten minutes at one time, and not more than twice, except in explanation, without leave of the Convention obtained through the President, and no member shall interrupt another while speaking, unless on points of order, and then only by permission of the President, provided that this rule shall not be applicable to the Committee of the Whole,

And moved its adoption,

Which motion	Prevailed.
--------------	------------

Mr. Cooch moved to take up for consideration the report of the Committee on Phraseology and Arrangement, which is the proposed Constitution,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved to adopt the title and enacting clause, as follows:

CONSTITUTION
STATE OF DELAWARE.

DELAWARE.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved to adopt the Preamble, as follows:

PREAMBLE.

Through Divine goodness, all men have by nature the rights of worshipping and serving their Creator according to the dictates of their consciences, of enjoying and defending life and liberty, of acquiring and protecting reputation and property, and in general of attaining objects suitable to their condition, without injury by one to another; and as these rights are essential to their welfare, for the due exercise thereof, power is inherent in them; and therefore all just authority in the institutions of political society is derived from the people, and established with their consent, to advance their happiness; and they may for this end, as circumstances require, from time to time, alter their Constitution of government.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved that Article I, Bill of Rights, be adopted as a whole, as follows:

ARTICLE I.

BILL OF RIGHTS.

Section 1. Although it is the duty of all men frequently to assemble together for the public worship of Almighty God; and piety and morality, on which the prosperity of communities depends, are thereby promoted; yet no man shall or ought to be compelled to attend any religious worship, to contribute to the erection or support of any place of worship, or to the maintenance of any ministry, against his own free will and consent; and no power shall or ought to be vested in or assumed by any magistrate that shall in any case interfere with, or in any manner control the rights of conscience, in the free exercise of religious worship, nor a preference given by law to any religious societies, denominations, or modes of worship.

Section 2. No religious test shall be required as a qualification to any office, or public trust, under this State.

Section 3. All elections shall be free and equal.

Section 4. Trial by jury shall be as heretofore.

Section 5. The press shall be free to every citizen who undertakes to examine the official conduct of men acting in a public capacity; and any citizen may print on any subject, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty. In prosecutions for publications, investigating the proceedings of officers, or where the matter published is proper for public information, the truth thereof may be given in evidence; and in all indictments for libels the jury may determine the facts and the law, as in other cases.

Section 6. The people shall be secure in their persons, houses, papers and possessions, from unreasonable searches and seizures; and no warrant to search any place, or to seize any person or thing, shall issue without describing them as particularly as may be; nor then, unless there be probable cause supported by oath or affirmation.

Section 7. In all criminal prosecutions, the accused hath a right to be heard by himself and his counsel, to be plainly and fully informed of the nature and cause of the accusation against him, to meet the witnesses in their examination face to face, to have compulsory process in due time, on application by himself, his friends or counsel, for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury; he shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself, nor shall he be deprived of life, liberty or property, unless by the judgment of his peers or by the law of the land.

Section 8. No person shall for any indictable offence be proceeded against criminally by information, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia when in actual service in time of war or public danger; and no person shall be for the same offence twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall any man's property be taken or applied to public use without the consent of his representatives, and without compensation being made.

Section 9. All courts shall be open; and every man for an injury done him in his reputation, person, movable or immovable possessions, shall have remedy by the due course of law, and justice administered according to the very right of the cause and the law of the land, without sale, denial, or unreasonable delay or expense; and every action shall be tried in the county in which it shall be commenced, unless when the judges of the court in which the cause is to be tried shall determine that an impartial trial thereof cannot be had in that county. Suits may be brought against the State, according to such regulations as shall be made by law.

Section 10. No power of suspending laws shall be exercised but by authority of the General Assembly.

Section 11. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel punishments inflicted; and in the construction of jails a proper regard shall be had to the health of prisoners.

Section 12. All prisoners shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, unless for capital offences when the proof is positive or the presumption great; and when persons are confined on accusation for such offences their friends and counsel may at proper seasons have access to them.

Section 13. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in cases of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

Section 14. No commission of oyer and terminer, or jail delivery, shall be issued.

Section 15. No attainder shall work corruption of blood, nor except during the life of the offender forfeiture of estate. The estates of those who destroy their own lives shall descend or vest as in case of natural death, and if any person be killed by accident no forfeiture shall thereby be incurred.

Section 16. Although disobedience to laws by a part of the people, upon suggestions of impolicy or injustice in them, tends by immediate effect and the influence of example not only to endanger the public welfare and safety, but also in governments of a republican form contravenes the social principles of such governments, founded on common consent for common good; yet the citizens have a right in an orderly manner to meet together, and to apply to persons intrusted with the powers of government, for redress of grievances or other proper purposes, by petition, remonstrance or address.

Section 17. No standing army shall be kept up without the consent of the General Assembly, and the military shall in all cases and at all times be in strict subordination to the civil power.

Section 18. No soldier shall in time of peace be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war but by a civil magistrate, in manner to be prescribed by law.

Section 19. No hereditary distinction shall be granted, nor any office created or exercised, the appointment to which shall be for a longer term than during good behavior; and no person holding any office under this State shall accept of any office or title of any kind whatever from any king, prince, or foreign state.

WE DECLARE THAT EVERY THING IN THIS ARTICLE IS RESERVED OUT OF THE GENERAL POWERS OF GOVERNMENT HEREINAFTER MENTIONED.

Mr. Cooch moved that the consideration of Article II (Legislature) be postponed and Article III (Executive) be now taken up.

Mr. Martin moved to amend, by adding after "postponed", until Thursday next at 10.30 o'clock, a. m.,

Was Lost.

Recurring to the original motion, it prevailed, and Article III, Executive, was taken up for consideration and ordered read by sections.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 1, as follows:

Section 1. The supreme executive powers of the State shall be vested in a Governor.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 2, as follows:

Section 2. The Governor shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State, once in every four years, at the general election.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 3, as follows:

Section 3. The returns of every election for Governor shall be sealed up, and immediately transmitted to the President of the Senate, or in case of a vacancy in the office of President of the Senate, or his absence from the State, to the Secretary of State, who shall keep the same until a President of the Senate shall be chosen, to whom they shall be immediately transmitted after his election, who shall open and publish the same in the presence of the members of both Houses of the General Assembly. Duplicates of the said returns shall also be immediately lodged with the Prothonotary of each county. The person having the highest number of votes shall be Governor; but if two or more shall be equal in the highest number of votes, the members of the two Houses shall, by joint ballot, choose one of them to be Governor; and if, upon such ballot, two or more of them shall still be equal and highest in votes, the President of the Senate shall have an additional casting vote.

Mr. Spruance moved that further consideration of Section 3 be postponed,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 4, as follows:

Section 4. Contested elections of the Governor or Lieutenant Governor shall be determined by a joint committee, consisting of one-third of all the members elected to each House of the General Assembly, to be selected by ballot of the Houses respectively. Every member of the committee shall take an oath or affirmation that in determining the said election he will faithfully discharge the trust reposed in him; and the committee shall always sit with open doors.

The Chief Justice, or, in case of his absence or disability, the Chancellor shall preside at the trial of any contested election of Governor or Lieutenant Governor, and shall decide questions regarding the admissibility of evidence, and shall, upon request of the committee, pronounce his opinion upon other questions of law involved in the trial.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 5, as follows:

Section 5. The Governor shall hold his office during four years from the third Tuesday of January next ensuing his election; and shall not be elected a third time to said office.

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 6, as follows:

Section 6. The Governor shall be at least thirty years of age, and have been a citizen and inhabitant of the United States twelve years next before the day of his election, and the last six years of that term an inhabitant of this State, unless he shall have been absent on public business of the United States or of this State.

The motion Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 7, as follows:

Section 7. No member of Congress, nor person holding any office under the United States or this State, shall hold or exercise the office of Governor.

Mr. Spruance moved that further consideration of Section 7 be postponed,

Which motion Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 8, as follows:

Section 8. The Governor shall, at stated times, receive for his services an adequate salary to be fixed by law, which shall be neither increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected.

The motion Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 9, as follows:

Section 9. He shall be commander-in-chief of the army and navy of this State, and of the militia, except when they shall be called into the service of the United States.

The motion Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 10, as follows:

Section 10. He shall have power, unless herein otherwise provided, to appoint, by and with the consent of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate, such officers as he is or may be authorized by this Constitution or by law to appoint. He shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the Senate, in offices to which he may appoint, except in the offices of Chancellor, Chief Justice and Associate Judges, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of the next session of the Senate.

He shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen in elective offices, except in the offices of Lieutenant Governor and member of the General Assembly, by granting commissions which shall expire when their successors shall be duly qualified.

In case of vacancy in an elective office, except as aforesaid, a person shall be chosen to said office for the full term at the next general election, unless the vacancy shall happen within two months next before such election, in which case the election for said office shall be held at the second succeeding general election.

Unless herein otherwise provided, confirmation by the Senate of officers appointed by the Governor shall be required only where the salary, fees and emoluments of office shall exceed the sum of five hundred dollars annually.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved to strike out in Section 11, all after the word "appoint" in line one, to the word "a" in line three, viz.: "by and with the consent of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate."

The yeas and nays were ordered, which, being taken, were as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Cavender, Cooch, Evans, Hearne, Horsey, Pratt, Richards, Sapp, Mr. President.

Nays—Messrs. Clark, Cooper, Dasey, Ellegood, Gilchrist, Hering, Johnson, Martin, Moore, Murray, Orr, Saulsbury, Smithers, Spruance, Wright.

Yeas, 9; nays, 15.

So the question was decided in the negative, and the motion was lost.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 11, as follows:

Section 11. The Governor shall appoint, by and with the consent of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate, a Secretary of State, who shall hold office during the pleasure of the Governor. He shall keep a fair register of all the official acts and proceedings of the Governor, and shall, when required by either House of the General Assembly, lay the same, and all papers, minutes and vouchers, relative thereto, before such House, and shall perform such other duties as shall be enjoined upon him by law. He shall have a compensation for his services to be fixed by law.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 12, as follows:

Section 12. No person shall be elected or appointed to an office within a county who shall not have a right to vote for a Representative in the General Assembly, and have been a resident therein one year next before his election or appointment, nor hold the office longer than he continues to reside in the county, unless herein otherwise provided.

No member of Congress, nor any person holding or exercising any office under the United States, except officers usually appointed by the courts of justice respectively and attorneys-at-law, shall at the same time hold or exercise any office of profit under this State, unless herein otherwise provided.

No person shall hold more than one of the following offices at the same time, to wit: Secretary of State, Attorney-General, Insurance Commissioner, State Treasurer, Auditor of Accounts, Prothonotary, Clerk of the Peace, Register of Wills, Recorder, Sheriff or Coroner.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 13, as follows:

Section 13. All commissions shall be in the name of the State, and shall be sealed with the great seal and signed by the Governor.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 14, as follows:

Section 14. The Governor may for any reasonable cause remove any officer, except the Lieutenant Governor and members of the General Assembly, upon the address of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House of the General Assembly. Whenever the General Assembly shall so address the Governor, the cause of removal shall be entered on the journals of each House. The person against whom the General Assembly may be about to proceed shall receive notice thereof, accompanied with the cause alleged for his removal, at least ten days before the day on which either House of the General Assembly shall act thereon.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 15, as follows:

Section 15. The Governor may require information in writing from the officers in the executive department, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 16, as follows:

Section 16. He shall, from time to time, give to the General Assembly information of affairs concerning the State and recommend to its consideration such measures as he shall judge expedient.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 17, as follows:

Section 17. He may on extraordinary occasions convene the General Assembly by proclamation; and in case of disagreement between the two Houses with respect to the time of adjournment, adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper, not exceeding three months. He shall have power to convene the Senate in extraordinary session by proclamation, for the transaction of executive business.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 18, as follows:

Section 18. He shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 19, as follows:

Section 19. Every bill which shall have passed both Houses of the General Assembly shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if he shall not approve, he shall return it with his objections to the House in which it shall have originated, which House shall enter the objections at large on the journal and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, three-fifths of all the members elected to that House shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by three-fifths of all the members elected to that House, it shall become a law; but in neither House shall the vote be taken on the day on which the bill shall be returned to it. In all such cases the votes of both Houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each House respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the Governor within ten days, Sundays excepted, after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the General Assembly shall, by adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the Governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the General Assembly, unless approved by the Governor within thirty days after such adjournment. The Governor shall have power to disapprove of any item or items of any bill making appropriations of money, embracing distinct items, and the part or parts of the bill approved shall be the law, and the item or items of appropriation disapproved shall be void, unless repassed according to the rules and limitations prescribed for the passage of other bills over the Executive veto. Every order, resolution, or vote to which the concurrence of both Houses of the General Assembly may be necessary, except on a question of adjournment, shall be presented to the Governor; and before the same shall take effect be approved by him, or, being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by three-fifths of all the members elected to each House of the General Assembly, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of Section 20, as follows:

Section 20. A Lieutenant Governor shall be chosen at the same time, in the same manner, for the same term, and subject to the same provisions as the Governor; he shall possess the same qualifications of eligibility for office as the Governor; he shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no vote unless the Senate be equally divided.

The Lieutenant Governor while acting as President of the Senate, or as a member of the Board of Pardons, shall receive for his services the same compensation as the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Mr. Cavender moved to amend, by inserting in line eight between the words "or" and "as" the words "while acting."

Mr. Johnson moved to substitute in lieu of "while acting" the words "while attending session."

Mr. Saulsbury moved the further consideration of Section 20 be postponed,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Motion to adjourn until 2.30 o'clock, p. m., prevailed.

Same Day, 2.30 o'clock, P. M.

Convention met pursuant to adjournment.

Mr. Donahoe presented bill of J. D. Deane for $91.49, which, upon his motion, was referred to the Committee on Accounts.

Mr. Richards moved that the consideration of Section 21 be postponed,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Saulsbury submitted the following report:

The Committee on Accounts, to whom were referred the bill of Guyer & Hardesty for $204.00 for stenographic reporting, and the bill of Charles G. Guyer for typewriting, and the bills of the Sussex "Journal" for printing, recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the President of this Convention be and he is hereby authorized to draw his warrants upon the State Treasurer, as follows:

In favor of Guyer & Hardesty for stenographic reporting, $204.00; In favor of Charles G. Guyer for typewriting, $8.80; In favor of the Sussex "Journal" for printing, $19.00.

Mr. Cooch moved the adoption of the report,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 22, as follows:

Section 22. The terms of office of the Attorney General and Insurance Commissioner shall be four years; and the terms of office of the State Treasurer and Auditor of Accounts shall be two years. These officers shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at general elections, and be commissioned by the Governor.

Mr. Evans moved that the consideration of Sections 22 and 23 be postponed,

Which motion

Was Withdrawn.

Mr. Pratt moved to strike out in line four of Section 22, the word "two" and insert in lieu thereof the word "four,"

Which motion

Was Lost.

Mr. Saulsbury moved to amend Section 22 by striking out all after the word "years" in line four and adding: "The Attorney General shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of three-fifths of all the members elected to the Senate, and the Insurance Commissioner, State Treasurer and Auditor of Accounts shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at general elections, and be commissioned by the Governor."

Mr. Johnson moved to divide the amendment so as to vote upon the appointment of Attorney General separately from the others,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Upon the vote being taken that part of the amendment was declared lost.

By consent the remaining part was withdrawn.

Recurring to the original motion for the adoption of Section 22, it prevailed.

And Section 22 was adopted as follows:

Section 22. The terms of office of the Attorney General and Insurance Commissioner shall be four years; and the terms of office of the State Treasurer and Auditor of Accounts shall be two years. These officers shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at general elections, and be commissioned by the Governor.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 23.

Section 23. The terms of office of Prothonotaries, Clerks of the Peace, Registers of Wills, Recorders, Registers in Chancery and Clerks of the Orphans' Court shall be four years; and the terms of office of Sheriffs and Coroners shall be two years. These officers shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the respective counties at general elections, and be commissioned by the Governor.

No person shall be twice elected Sheriff in any term of four years.

Mr. Bradford moved to amend by striking out the word "Prothonotaries" in line one of Section 23.

Mr. Cooch moved to amend further by striking out in addition the words "Clerks of the Peace, Registers of Wills, Recorders, Registers in Chancery and Clerks of the Orphans' Court,"

Which motion

Was Lost.

Recurring to the amendment offered by Mr. Bradford,

The yeas and nays were ordered, which, being taken, were as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Donahoe, Harman, Horsey, Johnson, Pratt, Sapp.

Nays—Messrs. Bradford, Cavender, Clark, Cooch, Cooper, Ellegood, Gilchrist, Hearne, Hering, Martin, Moore, Murray, Orr, Richards, Saulsbury, Smithers, Spruance, Wright, Mr. President.

Yeas, 6; nays, 19.

So the question was decided in the negative, and the amendment lost.

Recurring to the original motion for the adoption of Section 23, it prevailed,

And Section 23 was adopted, as follows:

Section 23. The terms of office of Prothonotaries, Clerks of the Peace, Registers of Wills, Recorders, Registers in Chancery and Clerks of the Orphans' Court shall be four years; and the terms of office of Sheriffs and Coroners shall be two years. These officers shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the respective counties at general elections and be commissioned by the Governor.

No person shall be twice elected Sheriff in any term of four years.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 24, as follows:

Section 24. Prothonotaries, Clerks of the Peace, Registers of Wills, Recorders, Registers in Chancery, Clerks of the Orphans' Court and Sheriffs shall keep their offices in the town or place in each county in which the Superior Court is usually held.

And Article IV was ordered to be read in Sections.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 1, as follows:

Section 1. The judicial power of this State shall be vested in a Supreme Court, a Superior Court, a Court of Chancery, an Orphans' Court, a Court of Oyer and Terminer, a Court of General Sessions, a Register's Court, Justices of the Peace and such other courts as the General Assembly, with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House, shall from time to time by law establish.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 2, as follows:

Section 2. There shall be six State judges, who shall be learned in the law. One of them shall be Chancellor, one of them Chief Justice and the other four of them Associate Judges.

The Chancellor, Chief Justice and one of the Associate Judges may be appointed from and reside in any part of the State. The other three Associate Judges may be appointed from any part of the State. They shall be resident Associate Judges, and one of them shall reside in each county.

In case the commissions of two or more of the Associate Judges shall be of the same date, they shall, as soon as conveniently may be after their appointment, determine their seniority by lot, and certify the result to the Governor.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 3, as follows:

Section 3. The Chancellor, Chief Justice and Associate Judges shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of three-fifths of all the members elected to the Senate, for the term of twelve years, and if a vacancy shall occur, by expiration of term or otherwise, at a time when the Senate shall not be in session, the Governor shall within thirty days after the happening of any such vacancy convene the Senate for the purpose of confirming his appointment to fill said vacancy, and the transaction of such other executive business as may come before it. Such vacancy shall be filled as aforesaid for the full term.

The said appointments shall be such that not more than three of the said five law judges, in office at the same time, shall have been appointed from the same political party.

Mr. Cooch moved to amend by striking out in the third line the words "three-fifths" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "a majority,"

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Pratt moved to amend by striking out all of Section 3 after the word "term" in line twelve.

Upon motion of Mr. Cavender the privilege of the floor was extended to Mr. Pratt for the third time.

Mr. Bradford asked unanimous consent to strike out the final "s" from the word "prosecutions" in lines seventeen and twenty, in Section 12, and moved the adoption of Section 12 as corrected,

Which motion

Prevailed.

And Section 12 was adopted, as follows:

Section 12. The Supreme Court shall have jurisdiction as follows:

(1). To issue writs of error to the Superior Court and to determine finally all matters in error in the judgments and proceedings of said Superior Court.

(2). To issue upon application of the accused, after conviction and sentence, writs of error to the Court of Oyer and Terminer and the Court of General Sessions in all cases in which the sentence shall be death, imprisonment exceeding one month, or fine exceeding $100, and in such other cases as shall be provided by law; and to determine finally all matters in error in the judgments and proceedings of said Court of Oyer and Terminer and Court of General Sessions in such cases: provided, however, that there shall be no writ of error to the Court of General Sessions in cases of prosecution under Section 8 of Article V of this Constitution.

(3). To receive appeals from the Court of General Sessions in cases of prosecution under Section 8 of Article V of this Constitution, and to determine finally all matters of appeal in such cases.

(4). To receive appeals from the Court of Chancery, and to determine finally all matters of appeal in the interlocutory or final decrees and proceedings in chancery.

(5). To issue writs of prohibition, certiorari and mandamus to the Superior Court, the Court of Oyer and Terminer, the Court of General Sessions, the Court of Chancery and the Orphans' Court, or any of the judges of the said courts, and all orders, rules and processes proper to give effect to the same. The General Assembly shall have power to provide by law of what judges the Supreme Court shall consist for the purpose of this paragraph and in what manner, and by what judges of the Supreme Court, the jurisdiction and power hereby conferred may be exercised in vacation.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 13, as follows:

Section 13. The Supreme Court upon a writ of error to the Superior Court, Court of Oyer and Terminer, or Court of General Sessions, or upon appeal from the Court of General Sessions, shall consist of the Chancellor and such of the other five judges as did not sit in the cause below. The Chancellor when present shall preside, and in his absence the Chief Justice when present shall preside, and in his absence the senior Associate Judge present shall preside. Any three of them shall constitute a quorum, and one of them may open and adjourn court.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 14, as follows:

Section 14. The Supreme Court upon an appeal from the Court of Chancery shall consist of the Chief Justice and the four Associate Judges.

The Chief Justice when present shall preside, and in his absence the senior Associate Judge present shall preside. Any three of them shall constitute a quorum, and one of them may open and adjourn court.

The motion

Prevailed.

Section 17. The Chief Justice, or, in case of his absence from the State or disability, the senior Associate Judge, shall have power, during the absence of the Chancellor from the State or his temporary disability, to grant restraining orders and preliminary injunctions, pursuant to the rules of the Court of Chancery; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to confer general jurisdiction over the case.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 18, as follows:

Section 18. The Governor shall have power to commission a judge ad litem for the purpose of constituting a quorum in the Superior Court, Court of Oyer and Terminer, Court of General Sessions or Supreme Court, where by reason of legal exception to the Chancellor or any judge or for other cause a quorum could not otherwise be had. The commission in such case shall confine the office to the cause, and it shall expire on the determination of the cause. The judge so appointed shall receive a reasonable compensation to be fixed by the General Assembly. A member of Congress, or any person holding or exercising an office under the United States, shall not be disqualified from being appointed a judge ad litem.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 19, as follows:

Section 19. The jurisdiction of each of the aforesaid courts shall be co-extensive with the State. Process may be issued out of each court, in either county, into every county. No costs shall be awarded against any party to a cause by reason of the fact that suit is brought in a county other than that in which the defendant or defendants may reside at the time of bringing suit.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 20, as follows:

Section 20. The General Assembly, notwithstanding any thing contained in this Article, shall have power to repeal or alter any act of the General Assembly giving jurisdiction to the Court of Oyer and Terminer, the Superior Court, the Court of General Sessions of the Peace and Jail Delivery, the Orphans' Court, or the Court of Chancery, in any matter, or giving any power to either of the said courts. The General Assembly shall also have power to confer upon the Court of Oyer and Terminer, the Superior Court, the Court of General Sessions, the Orphans' Court and the Court of Chancery jurisdiction and powers in addition to those hereinbefore mentioned. Until the General Assembly shall otherwise direct, there shall be an appeal to the Supreme Court in all cases in which there is an appeal, according to any act of the General Assembly, to the Court of Errors and Appeals.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 21, as follows:

Section 21. Until the General Assembly shall otherwise provide, the Chancellor shall exercise all the powers which any law of this State vests in the Chancellor, beside the general powers of the Court of Chancery; and the Chief Justice and Associate Judges shall each singly exercise all the powers which any law of this State vests in the judges singly of the Superior Court.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 22, as follows:

Section 22. Judges shall not charge juries with respect to matters of fact, but may state the questions of fact in issue and declare the law.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 23, as follows:

Section 23. In civil causes where matters of fact are at issue, if the parties agree, such matters of fact shall be tried by the court, and judgment rendered upon their decision thereon as upon a verdict by a jury.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved to amend by striking out in line three the word "they" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "it",

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 24, as amended, as follows:

Section 24. In civil causes, when pending, the Superior Court shall have the power, before judgment, of directing, upon such terms as it shall deem reasonable, amendments, impleadings and legal proceedings, so that by error in any of them, the determination of causes, according to their real merits, shall not be hindered; and also of directing the examination of witnesses who are aged, very infirm, or going out of the State, upon interrogatories de bene esse, to be read in evidence, in case of the death or departure of the witnesses before the trial, or inability by reason of age, sickness, bodily infirmity, or imprisonment, then to attend; and also the power of obtaining evidence from places not within the State.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 25, as follows:

Section 25. At any time pending an action for debt or damages, the defendant may bring into court a sum of money for discharging the same, together with the cost then accrued, and the plaintiff not accepting the same, if upon the final decision of the cause, he shall not recover a greater sum than that so paid into court for him, he shall not recover any costs accruing after such payment, except where the plaintiff is an executor or administrator.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 26, as follows:

Section 26. By the death of any party, no suit in chancery or at law, where the cause of action survives, shall abate, but, until the General Assembly shall otherwise provide, suggestion of such death being entered of record, the executor or administrator of a deceased petitioner or plaintiff may prosecute the said suit; and if a respondent or defendant dies, the executor or administrator being duly served with a scire facias thirty days before the return thereof shall be considered as a party to the suit, in the same manner as if he had voluntarily made himself a party; and in any of those cases, the court shall pass a decree, or render judgment for or against executors or administrators, as to right appertains. But where an executor or administrator of a deceased respondent or defendant becomes a party, the court upon motion shall grant such a continuance of the cause as to the judges shall appear proper.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 27, as follows:

Section 27. Whenever a person, not being an executor or administrator, appeals from a decree of the Chancellor, or applies for a writ of error, such appeal or writ shall be no stay of proceeding in chancery, or the court to which the writ issues, unless the appellant or plaintiff in error shall give sufficient security, to be approved respectively by the Chancellor, or by a judge of the court from which the writ issues, that the appellant or plaintiff in error shall prosecute respectively his appeal or writ to effect, and pay the condemnation money and all costs, or otherwise abide the decree in appeal or the judgment in error, if he fail to make his plea good.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 28, as follows:

Section 28. No writ of error shall be brought upon any judgment heretofore confessed, entered or rendered, or upon any judgment hereafter to be confessed, entered or rendered, but within five years after the confessing, entering or rendering thereof; unless the person entitled to such writ be an infant, feme covert, non compos mentis or a prisoner, and then within five years exclusive of the time of such disability.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 29, as follows:

Section 29. The Prothonotary of the Superior Court may issue process, take recognizances of bail and enter judgments, according to law and the practice of the court. No judgment in one county shall bind lands or tenements in another, until a testatum fieri facias being issued, shall be entered of record in the office of the prothonotary of the county wherein the lands or tenements are situate.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 30, as follows:

Section 30. The General Assembly may by law give to any inferior courts by them established or to be established, or to one or more justices of the peace, jurisdiction of the criminal matters following, that is to say: assaults and batteries, keeping without license a public house of entertainment, tavern, inn, ale house, ordinary or victualing house, retailing or selling without license, or on Sunday, or to minors, wine, rum, brandy, gin, whiskey, or spirituous or mixed liquors, contrary to law, carrying concealed a deadly weapon, disturbing meetings held for the purpose of religious worship, nuisances, and such other misdemeanors as the General Assembly may from time to time, with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House, prescribed.

The General Assembly may by law regulate this jurisdiction, and provide that the proceedings shall be with or without indictment by grand jury, or trial by petit jury, and may grant or deny the privilege of appeal to the Court of General Sessions; provided, however, that there shall be an appeal to the Court of General Sessions in all cases in which the sentence shall be imprisonment exceeding one month, or a fine exceeding one hundred dollars.

The motion

So the question was decided in the affirmative, and Mr. Carlisle's amendment prevailed.

Recurring to the motion for the adoption of Section 2, as amended, it prevailed,

And Section 2, Article XVI, was adopted, as follows:

Section 2. The General Assembly by a two-thirds vote of all the members elected to each House may from time to time provide for the submission to the qualified electors of the State at the general election next thereafter the question, "Shall there be a Convention to revise the Constitution and amend the same?"; and upon such submission, if a majority of those voting on said question shall decide in favor of a Convention for such purpose, the General Assembly at its next session shall provide for the election of delegates to such Convention at the next general election. Such Convention shall be composed of forty-one delegates, one of whom shall be chosen from each Representative District by the qualified electors thereof, and two of them shall be chosen from New Castle County, two from Kent County and two from Sussex County, by the qualified electors thereof respectively. The delegates so chosen shall convene at the Capital of the State on the first Tuesday in September next after their election. Every delegate shall receive for his services such compensation as shall be provided by law. A majority of the Convention shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The Convention shall have power to appoint such officers, employes and assistants as it may deem necessary, and fix their compensation, and provide for the printing of its documents, journals, debates and proceedings. The Convention shall determine the rules of its proceedings, and be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its members. Whenever there shall be a vacancy in the office of delegate from any district or county by reason of failure to elect, ineligibility, death, resignation or otherwise, a writ of election to fill such vacancy shall be issued by the Governor, and such vacancy shall be filled by the qualified electors of such district or county.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 3, Article XVI, as follows:

Section 3. The General Assembly shall provide for receiving, tallying and counting the votes for or against proposed amendments to the Constitution, and for or against a Convention, and for returning to the General Assembly at its next session the state of such vote; and shall also enact all provisions necessary for giving effect to this Article.

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 1, Article V, as follows:

Section 1. The general election shall be held biennially on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in the month of November, and shall be by ballot; but the General Assembly may by law prescribe the means, methods and instruments of voting so as best to secure secrecy and the independence of the voter, preserve the freedom and purity of elections and prevent fraud, corruption and intimidation thereat.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 2, Article 5.

Mr. Cooch moved that Section 2 be laid on the table for further consideration,

Which motion

Was Lost.

Recurring to the original motion for the adoption of Section 2, it prevailed,

And Section 2 was adopted as follows:

Section 2. Every male citizen of this State of the age of twenty-one years who shall have been a resident thereof one year next preceding an election, and for the last three months a resident of the county, and for the last thirty days a resident of the hundred or election district in which he may offer to vote, and in which he shall have been duly registered as hereinafter provided for, shall be entitled to vote at such election in the hundred or election district of which he shall at the time be a resident, and in which he shall be registered, for all officers that now are or hereafter may be elected by the people, and upon all questions which may be submitted to the vote of the people: provided, however, that no person who shall attain the age of twenty-one years after the first day of January, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred, or after that date shall become a citizen of the United States, shall have the right to vote unless he shall be able to read this Constitution in the English language and write his name; but these requirements shall not apply to any person who by reason of physical disability shall be unable to comply therewith: and provided also, that no person in the military, naval, or marine service of the United States shall be considered as acquiring a residence in this State, by being stationed in any garrison, barrack, or military or naval place or station within this State; and no idiot, or insane person, pauper, or person convicted of a crime deemed by law felony, or incapacitated under the provisions of this Constitution from voting, shall enjoy the right of an elector; and the General Assembly may impose the forfeiture of the right of suffrage as a punishment for crime.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 3, as follows:

Section 3. No person who shall receive or accept, or offer to receive or accept, or shall pay, transfer or deliver, or offer or promise to pay, transfer or deliver, or shall contribute, or offer or promise to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation, inducement or reward for the registering or abstaining from registering of any one qualified to register, or for the giving or withholding, or in any manner influencing the giving or withholding, a vote at any general, special or municipal election in this State, shall vote at such election; and upon challenge for any of said causes, the person so challenged, before the officers authorized for that purpose shall receive his vote, shall swear or affirm before such officers that he has not received or accepted, or offered to receive or accept, or paid, transferred or delivered, or offered or promised to pay, transfer or deliver, or contributed, or offered or promised to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation, inducement or reward for the registering or abstaining from registering of any one qualified to register, or for the giving or withholding, or in any manner influencing the giving or withholding, a vote at such election.

Such oath or affirmation shall be conclusive evidence to the election officers of the truth of such oath or affirmation: but if any such oath or affirmation shall be false, the person making the same shall be guilty of perjury, and no conviction thereof shall bar any prosecution under Section 8 of this Article.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 4, as follows:

Section 4. The General Assembly shall provide by law for a uniform biennial registration of the names of all the voters in this State who possess the qualifications prescribed in this Article, which registration shall be conclusive evidence to the election officers of the right of every person so registered to vote at the general election next thereafter, who is not disqualified under the provisions of Section 3 of this Article; but no person shall vote at such election unless his name appears in the list of registered voters.

Such registration shall be commenced not more than ninety days nor less than sixty days before and be completed not more than twenty days nor less than ten days before such election. Application for registration may be made on at least five days during the said period; provided, however, that such registration may be corrected as hereinafter provided, at any time prior to the day of holding the election.

Voters shall be registered upon personal application only; and each voter shall, at the time of his registration, pay a registration fee of one dollar.

From the decision of the registration officers granting or refusing registration, or striking or refusing to strike a name or names from the registration list, any person interested, or any registration officer, may appeal to the resident Associate Judge of the county, or, in case of his disability or absence from the county, to any judge entitled to sit in the Supreme Court, whose determination shall be final; and he shall have power to order any name improperly omitted from the said registry to be placed thereon, and any name improperly appearing on the said registry to be stricken therefrom, and any name appearing on the said registry, in any manner incorrect, to be corrected, and to make and enforce all necessary orders in the premises for the correction of the said registry. Registration shall be required only for general biennial elections at which Representatives to the General Assembly shall be chosen, unless the General Assembly shall otherwise provide by law.

The existing laws in reference to the registration of voters, so far as consistent with the provisions of this Article, shall continue in force until the General Assembly shall otherwise provide.

Mr. Cavender moved to amend by striking out in line twenty-one the words "one dollar" and to insert in lieu thereof the words "two dollars."

The yeas and nays were ordered, which, being taken, were as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Cavender, Dasey, Donahoe, Hearne, Martin, Sapp.

Nays—Messrs. Bradford, Burris, Cannon, Carlisle, Clark, Cooch, Ellegood, Gilchrist, Harman, Hering, Moore, Murray, Orr, Pratt, Richards, Saulsbury, Smithers, Spruance, Wright. Mr. President.

Yeas, 6; nays, 20.

So the question was decided in the negative and the amendment was lost.

Mr. Pratt moved to further amend by striking out lines twenty-six, twenty-seven, twenty-eight and twenty-nine, to and including the word "he" and insert in lieu thereof the words, "Board of Review of Registration to be composed of three members, one to be named from each of the two political parties casting the largest number of votes at the last general election, and they shall choose the third. The decision of said Board shall be final and they."

Pending the consideration a motion to adjourn until 2.30 o'clock, p. m., prevailed.

Same Day, 2.30 o'clock, p. m.

Convention met pursuant to adjournment.

Recurring to the pending amendment, by unanimous consent it was withdrawn.

Mr. Pratt moved the following amendment to Section 4: strike out all of lines twenty-six, twenty-seven, twenty-eight and twenty-nine, to and including the word "he" and insert in lieu thereof the words "County Board of Review of Registration to be composed of three members, who shall be appointed by the Associate Judge of the County, not less than twenty days before the election, whose determination shall be final, and the said Board."

Which motion

Prevailed.

Recurring to the motion for the adoption of Section 4, as amended, it prevailed,

And Section 4, Article V, was adopted, as follows:

Section 4. The General Assembly shall provide by law for a uniform biennial registration of the names of all the voters in this State who possess the qualifications prescribed in this Article, which registration shall be conclusive evidence to the election officers of the right of every person so registered to vote at the general election next thereafter, who is not disqualified under the provisions of Section 3 of this Article; but no person shall vote at such election unless his name appears in the list of registered voters.

Such registration shall be commenced not more than one hundred and twenty days nor less than sixty days before and be completed not more than twenty days nor less than ten days before such election. Application for registration may be made on at least five days during the said period; provided, however, that such registration may be corrected as hereinafter provided, at any time prior to the day of holding the election.

Voters shall be registered upon personal application only; and each voter shall, at the time of his registration, pay a registration fee of one dollar.

From the decision of the registration officers granting or refusing registration, or striking or refusing to strike a name or names from the registration list, any person interested, or any registration officer, may appeal to the resident Associate

Judge of the county, or, in case of his disability or absence from the county, to any judge entitled to sit in the Supreme Court, whose determination shall be final; and he shall have power to order any name improperly omitted from the said registry to be placed thereon, and any name improperly appearing on the said registry to be stricken therefrom, and any name appearing on the said registry, in any manner incorrect, to be corrected, and to make and enforce all necessary orders in the premises for the correction of the said registry. Registration shall be required only for general biennial elections at which Representatives to the General Assembly shall be chosen, unless the General Assembly shall otherwise provide by law.

The existing laws in reference to the registration of voters, so far as consistent with the provisions of this Article, shall continue in force until the General Assembly shall otherwise provide.

Mr. Bradford moved the adoption of Section 5, as follows:

Section 5. Electors shall in all cases, except treason, felony, or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at elections, and in going to and returning from them.

The motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Bradford moved that Section 6 be laid on the table for further consideration,

Every person who either in or out of the State shall receive or accept, or offer to receive or accept, or shall pay, transfer or deliver, or offer or promise to pay, transfer or deliver, or shall contribute, or offer or promise to contribute, to another to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation, inducement or reward for the giving or withholding, or in any manner influencing the giving or withholding, a vote at any general, special, or municipal election in this State, or at any primary election, convention or meeting held for the purpose of nominating any candidate or candidates to be voted for at such general, special or municipal election; or who either in or out of the State shall make or become directly or indirectly a party to any bet or wager depending upon the result of any such general, special, municipal or primary election or convention or meeting, or upon a vote thereat by any person; or who either in or out of the State shall, by the use or promise of money or other valuable thing, or otherwise, cause or attempt to cause any officer of election or registration officer to violate his official duty; or who either in or out of the State shall by the use or promise of money or other valuable thing influence or attempt to influence any person to be registered or abstain from being registered; or who, being an officer of election or registration officer, shall knowingly and wilfully violate his official duty; or who shall by force threat, menace or intimidation, prevent or hinder, or attempt to prevent or hinder, any person qualified for registration from being registered or any person qualified to vote from voting according to his choice at any such general, special or municipal election, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, or shall be imprisoned for a term not less than one month nor more than three years, or shall suffer both fine and imprisonment within said limits, at the discretion of the court; and, if a male, shall further for a term of ten years next following his sentence be incapable of voting at any such general, special, municipal or primary election or convention or meeting. But the penalty of disfranchisement shall not apply to any persons making or being a party to any bet or wager depending upon the result of any such general, special, municipal or primary election or convention or meeting. Every person charged with the commission while out of the State of any of the offences enumerated in this section, and by this section made punishable, whether committed in or out of the State, may be prosecuted under Section 8 of this Article, in any county in which he shall be arrested on such charge. No person, other than the accused, shall, in the prosecution for any offence mentioned in this section, be permitted to withhold his testimony on the ground that it may criminate himself or subject him to public infamy; but such testimony shall not afterwards be used against him in any judicial proceeding, except for perjury in giving such testimony.

Mr. Richards moved the adoption of Section 8, Article V.

Mr. Richards moved to amend by inserting in line eighty-four between the words "reside" and "such" the words "or out of the State,"

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Richards moved the adoption of Section 8, as amended.

The yeas and nays were ordered, which, being taken, were as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Cannon, Cavender, Cooch, Dasey, Ellegood, Evans, Gilchrist, Hearne, Horsey, Moore, Pratt, Richards, Wright, Mr. President.

Nays—Messrs. Carlisle, Clark, Donahoe, Hering, Johnson, Martin, Murray, Saulsbury, Smithers, Spruance.

Yeas, 14; nays, 10.

So the question was decided in the affirmative, and Section 8, Article V, was adopted, as follows:

Section 8. Every prosecution for any of the offences mentioned in Section 7 of this Article shall be on information filed by the Attorney General, after examination and commitment or holding to bail by a judge or justice of the peace, and the cause shall be heard, tried and determined by the court without the intervention of either a grand jury or a petit jury. The accused, if adjudged guilty of the offence charged against him, shall have the right at any time within the space of three calendar months next after sentence is pronounced to an appeal to the Supreme Court. The court below, or any judge thereof, in term time or vacation, shall upon application by the accused allow such appeal; but such appeal shall not operate as a supersedeas unless the appellant shall at the time of the allowance thereof give an appeal bond to the State of Delaware in such amount and with such surety as shall be approved by such court or judge. On such appeal the Supreme Court shall, with all convenient speed, review the evidence adduced in the cause in the court below, as well as the other proceedings therein, and the law applicable thereto, and give final judgment accordingly, either affirming or reversing the judgment below. If the appellant shall fail to prosecute his appeal pursuant to the rules and practice hereinafter provided for, the Supreme Court shall affirm the judgment of the court below. Where the sentence in the court below includes a term of imprisonment and an appeal bond is given and approved in manner aforesaid, the Supreme Court, if it affirm the judgment below, shall sentence the appellant to a term of imprisonment equal to that imposed by the court below, after deducting therefrom a period equal to the time of imprisonment, if any, already suffered by him under the sentence of the court below. The surety or sureties in any appeal bond given under the provisions of this section shall have the right at any time after its approval and until final judgment shall be rendered by the Supreme Court, and, in case the judgment of the court below shall be affirmed, until the expiration of the space of thirty days next following such affirmance, to take, wherever found, and render the appellant to the sheriff of the county in which he was sentenced; and a certified copy of the appeal bond shall be the sufficient warrant for such surety or sureties for such taking and rendering. If the Supreme Court shall reverse any judgment of the court below imposing a fine, and if the accused shall have fully paid such fine and the costs of prosecution, the amount thereof shall be refunded to the appellant through a warrant drawn by the court below on the treasurer of the county in which the accused was sentenced. All the judges entitled to sit in the Supreme Court shall, as soon as conveniently may be, meet at the usual place of sitting of said court, and they, or a majority of them, shall adopt rules prescribing the forms and conditions of appeal bonds to be used under the provisions of this section, and the manner of certifying copies thereof, providing for the printing or reduction to writing of all oral evidence in the cause in the court below and of the opinion of said court, for the certification of the same when so printed or reduced to writing, and of copies thereof; for the copying and certification of all documentary or other written or printed evidence in the cause in the court below and of the record therein; for the transmission to the Supreme Court of such certified copies of such record, and of all the evidence adduced in the court below and of the opinion of said court; for the transmission to the court below of a certified copy of the final judgment of the Supreme Court and of any additional sentence pronounced by said court, for the discharge of sureties in appeal bonds, and for the framing, issuance, service and enforcement of all process and rules necessary to give full effect to the provisions of this section; and regulating generally the practice and procedure of the Supreme Court and the court below in cases of appeal under this section. The said judges, or a majority of them, met as aforesaid, may also provide that when complaint shall be made in due form, prescribed by them, to any judge entitled to sit in the Supreme Court, that any offence mentioned in Section 7 of this Article has been committed in the county in which such judge shall reside, or out of the State, such judge shall have power to cause the person charged with such offense to be arrested within any county of this State and brought before him, and to bind him with sufficient surety, or, for want of bail, commit him for his appearance and answer at the next term of the Court of General Sessions in such manner and under and pursuant to such rules and regulations as the said judges, or a majority of them, shall prescribe. From time to time hereafter, whenever a majority of all the judges entitled to sit in the Supreme Court shall so request, all of the judges so entitled shall, as soon as conveniently may be, meet at the usual place of sitting of said court; and they, or a majority of them, shall have power to revise, amend, add to or annul, any rule or rules theretofore adopted touching forms, practice or procedure in cases of appeal under this section, or arrest and binding or commitment for appearance and answer, in such manner and to such extent as in their judgment shall best serve to effectuate the purposes hereof. No person shall be adjudged guilty of any offence mentioned in Section 7 of this Article without the concurrence of all of the judges trying the case; and upon appeal no judgment of the court shall be affirmed without the concurrence of all of the judges of the Supreme Court sitting in the case, and their failure to concur as aforesaid shall operate as a reversal of the judgment of the court below; provided, however, that such concurrence of the judges sitting in the Supreme Court shall not be necessary for the affirmance of the judgment of the court below where the appellant shall fail to prosecute his appeal pursuant to the rules and practice herein provided for.

Mr. Richards moved the adoption of Section 9, as follows:

Section 9. The enumeration of the offences mentioned in Section 7 of this Article shall not preclude the General Assembly from defining and providing for the punishment of other offences against the freedom and purity of the ballot, or touching the conduct, returns or ascertainment of the result of general, special or municipal elections, or of primary elections, conventions or meetings held for the nomination of candidates to be voted for at general, special or municipal elections. No prosecution under any act of the General Assembly passed pursuant to this section shall be subject to the provisions of Section 8 of this Article.

Journal read and approved.

Mr. Ellegood presented an Article, which, upon his motion, was read, as follows:

ARTICLE —.

RAILROADS.

Section 1. A Commission is hereby established to be known as "The Railroad Commission" which shall be composed of three members, one of whom shall reside in each county of the State. Any two of them shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Section 2. The said Commissioners shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate, one for the term of one year, one for the term of two years and one for the term of three years; and thereafter all appointments of members of said Railroad Commission shall be made as aforesaid for the term of three years, and they shall hold office until their successors are duly qualified; provided, that any vacancy occurring in the said Railroad Commission before the expiration of a term shall be filled by appointment as aforesaid for the remainder of the term; and provided further, that in case such vacancy shall occur when the Senate is not in session, such vacancy may be filled by the Governor without confirmation by the Senate until the end of the next session of the Senate.

Section 3. The said Railroad Commission shall have power to investigate any grievances committed by any common carrier or transportation company touching freight charges or efficiency of transportation, and upon complaint to the Attorney General, he shall have power to institute and prosecute proceedings for the redress of such grievances in such manner as shall be prescribed by law.

Section 4. No person in the service of any railroad or common carrier company or corporation, or of any firm or association conducting business as a common carrier, or in anywise pecuniarily interested in such company, corporation, firm or association, or in the railroad business, or as a common carrier, shall hold the office of Railroad Commissioner.

Section 5. The General Assembly shall provide by law for the compensation of the members of said Commission.

And Section 6, Article V, was adopted, as follows:

Section 6. The presiding election officer of each hundred or election district on the day next after the general election shall deliver one of the certificates of the election, made and certified as required by law, together with the ballot box or ballot boxes, containing the ballots and other papers required by law to be placed therein, to the Prothonotary of the Superior Court of the county, who shall at twelve o'clock noon on the second day after the election present the same to the said court, and the election officer or officers having charge of any other certificate or certificates of the election shall at the same time present the same to the said court and the said court shall at the same time convene for the performance of the duties hereby imposed upon it; and thereupon the said court, with the aid of such of its officers and such sworn assistants as it shall appoint, shall publicly ascertain the state of the election throughout the county, by calculating the aggregate amount of all the votes for each office that shall be given in all the hundreds and election districts of the county for every person voted for for such office.

In case the certificates of election of any hundred or election district shall not be produced, or in case the certificates produced do not agree or in case of complaint under oath of fraud or mistake in any such certificate, or in case fraud or mistake is apparent on the face of any such certificate, the court shall have power to issue summary process against the election officers or any other persons to bring them forthwith into court with the election papers in their possession or control, and to open the ballot boxes and take therefrom any paper contained therein, and to make a recount of the ballots contained therein, and to correct any fraud or mistake in any certificate or paper relating to such election.

The said court shall have all other the jurisdiction and powers now vested by law in the Boards of Canvass, and such other powers as shall be provided by law.

After the state of the election shall have been ascertained as aforesaid, the said court shall make certificates thereof, under the seal of said court, in the form required by law, and transmit, deliver and lodge the same as required by this Constitution or by law, and deliver the ballot boxes to the sheriff of the county, to be by him kept and delivered as required by law.

No act or determination of the court in the discharge of the duties imposed upon it by this section shall be conclusive in the trial of any contested election.

For the purposes of this section the Superior Court shall consist in New Castle county of the Chief Justice and the resident Associate Judge; in Kent county of the Chancellor and the resident Associate Judge; and in Sussex county of the resident Associate Judge and the remaining Associate Judge.

Two shall constitute a quorum. The Governor shall have power to commission a judge for the purpose of constituting a quorum when by reason of legal exception to the Chancellor or any judge, or for any other cause, a quorum could not otherwise be had.

Mr. Richards moved that Sections 1 to 9 inclusive be adopted as a whole to be known as Article V, title, Elections..

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved the vote by which Article XV was adopted be reconsidered,

Which motion

Prevailed.

Mr. Cooch moved an additional section be added to Article XV, as follows:

No ordained clergyman or ordained preacher of the gospel of any denomination shall be capable of holding any civil office in this State, or of being a member of either branch of the General Assembly, while he continues in the exercise of the pastoral charge.

The yeas and nays were ordered, which, being taken, were as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Cavender, Cooch, Cooper, Donahoe, Evans, Hearne, Martin, Sapp, Mr. President.

Nays—Messrs. Burris, Cannon, Carlisle, Clark, Gilchrist, Hering, Moore, Pratt, Richards, Saulsbury, Smithers, Spruance, Wright.

Yeas, 9; nays, 13.

So the question was decided in the negative, and the amendment was lost.

Mr. Pratt moved an additional section be added to Article XV, as follows:

After the adoption of this Constitution no person shall be permitted to serve as a grand or petit juror in this State, unless he be of good moral character and shall be able to read this Constitution in the English language and write his name.

The yeas and nays were ordered, which, being taken, were as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Carlisle, Cavender, Cooch, Donahoe, Evans, Hearne, Martin, Spruance, Mr. President.

Nays—Messrs. Burris, Cannon, Clark, Cooper, Ellegood, Gilchrist, Moore, Richards, Sapp, Smithers, Wright.

Yeas, 9; nays, 11.

So the question was decided in the negative, and the amendment declared lost.

Mr. Gilchrist moved the adoption of Section 1, Article XIII, as amended.

The yeas and nays were ordered, which, being taken, were as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Burris, Cannon, Clark, Cooper, Ellegood, Gilchrist, Moore, Pratt, Richards, Sapp, Smithers, Wright.

Nays—Messrs. Carlisle, Cavender, Cooch, Donahoe, Evans, Hearne, Martin, Spruance, Mr. President.

Yeas, 12; nays, 9.

So the question was decided in the affirmative, and Section 1, Article XIII, was adopted, as follows:

Section 1. The General Assembly may, from time to time, provide by law for the submission to the vote of the qualified electors of the several districts of the State, or any of them, mentioned in Section 2 of this Article, the question whether the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors shall be licensed or prohibited within the limits thereof; and in every district in which there is a majority against license, no person, firm or corporation shall thereafter manufacture or sell spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, except for medicinal or sacramental purposes, within said district, until at a subsequent submission of such question a majority of votes shall be cast in said district for license. Whenever a majority of all the members elected to each House of the General Assembly by the qualified electors in any district named in Section 2 of this Article shall request the submission of the question of license or no license to a vote of the qualified electors in said district, the General Assembly shall provide for the submission of such question to the qualified electors in such district at the next general election thereafter.

Upon motion by Mr. Gilchrist Sections 1 to 3 were adopted as a whole to be known as Article XIII, title, Local Option.

Mr. Cooch moved to take from the table for consideration the proposed Article, Railroads,

Which motion Prevailed.

Mr. Ellegood moved the adoption of Sections 1 to 5 inclusive.

Mr. Ellegood moved it be laid on the table for further consideration,

Which motion Was Lost.

PETITION.

To the Constitutional Convention of the State of Delaware, 1896-97:

We, the undersigned, citizens of the State of Delaware, and residents of the City of Wilmington, believing that the Constitution of a State can have no rightful validity unless ratified by the people, respectfully petition your honorable body to take measures to submit the new Constitution, which you are now preparing, to a vote of the people for their approval or rejection.

Any other course on the part of your honorable body will detract from the high estimation with which we regard you, and will tend to show that you distrust the people and have a desire to override their will.

All suits, proceedings, and matters which, on the said day of in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety , shall be depending in the Superior Court, and all books, records and papers of the said court, shall be transferred to the Superior Court established by this amended Constitution, and the said suits, proceedings and matters shall be proceeded in to final judgment, or determination, in the said Superior Court established by this amended Constitution.

All indictments, proceedings and matters which, on the said day of in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety , shall be depending in the Court of General Sessions of the Peace and Jail Delivery, shall be transferred to and proceeded in to final judgment and determination in the Court of General Sessions established by this amended Constitution, and all books, records and papers of said Court of General Sessions of the Peace and Jail Delivery shall be transferred to the said Court of General Sessions.

All indictments, proceedings and matters which, on the said day of in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety , shall be depending in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, shall be transferred to and proceeded in to final judgment and determination in the Court of Oyer and Terminer established by this amended Constitution, and all books, records and papers of said Court of Oyer and Terminer shall be transferred to the said Court of Oyer and Terminer established by this amended Constitution

All suits, proceedings and matters which, on the said day of , in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety , shall be depending in the Court of Chancery, or in the Orphans' Court, and all records, books and papers of said courts respectively, shall be transferred to the Court of Chancery or Orphans' Court respectively, established by this amended Constitution; and the suits, proceedings and matters, shall be proceeded in to final decree, order or other determination.

Section 10. Unless otherwise provided, the Registers' Courts and the jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace shall not be affected by this amended Constitution .

Section 11. If the Chancellor, Chief Justice, or any Associate Judge in office at the time this amended Constitution shall take effect shall not be appointed Chancellor, Chief Justice or Associate Judge under this amended Constitution, he shall be entitled to receive one year's compensation, as now provided by law, after the expiration of his term of service.

Section 12. The first biennial Session of the General Assembly under this amended Constitution shall commence on the first Tuesday in January in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine.

Section 13. The provisions of Section 15 of Article II of this amended Constitution relating to the amount of the compensation of the members of the General Assembly and the presiding officers of the respective Houses shall not apply to any adjourned, special or extra session of the General Assembly held prior to the first Tuesday in January in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine.

Section 14. The provision of Section 1 of Article IX of this amended Constitution that "No corporation shall hereafter be created, amended, renewed or revived by special act, but only by or under general law, nor shall any existing corporate charter be amended, renewed or revived by special act, but only by or under general law," shall not take effect until the General Assembly shall enact a general law as provided for in said section.

Section 15. All the laws of this State existing at the time this Constitution shall take effect, and not inconsistent with it, shall remain in force, except so far as they shall be altered by future laws.

Section 16. The General Assembly, as soon as conveniently may be after this Constitution shall take effect, shall enact all laws necessary or proper for carrying out the provisions thereof.

CONSTITUTION of the STATE OF DELAWARE.

WE, THE PEOPLE, HEREBY ORDAIN AND ESTABLISH THIS CONSTITU-TION OF GOVERNMENT FOR THE STATE OF DELAWARE.

PREAMBLE.

Through Divine goodness, all men have by nature the rights of worshipping and serving their Creator according to the dictates of their consciences, of enjoying and defending life and liberty, of acquiring and protecting reputation and property, and in general of attaining objects suitable to their condition, without injury by one to another; and as these rights are essential to their welfare, for the due exercise thereof, power is inherent in them; and therefore all just authority in the institutions of political society is derived from the people, and established with their consent, to advance their happiness; and they may for this end, as circumstances require, from time to time, alter their Constitution of government.

ARTICLE I.

BILL OF RIGHTS.

Section 1. Although it is the duty of all men frequently to assemble together for the public worship of Almighty God; and piety and morality, on which the prosperity of communities depends, are thereby promoted; yet no man shall or ought to be compelled to attend any religious worship, to contribute to the erection or support of any place of worship, or to the maintenance of any ministry, against his own free will and consent; and no power shall or ought to be vested in or assumed by any magistrate that shall in any case interfere with, or in any manner control the rights of conscience, in the free exercise of religious worship, nor a preference given by law to any religious societies, denominations, or modes of worship.

Section 2. No religious test shall be required as a qualification to any office, or public trust, under this State.

Section 3. All elections shall be free and equal.

Section 4. Trial by jury shall be as heretofore.

Section 5. The press shall be free to every citizen who undertakes to examine the official conduct of men acting in a public capacity; and any citizen may print on any subject, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty. In prosecutions for publications, investigating the proceedings of officers, or where the matter published is proper for public information, the truth thereof may be given in evidence; and in all indictments for libels the jury may determine the facts and the law, as in other cases.

Section 6. The people shall be secure in their persons, houses, papers and possessions, from unreasonable searches and seizures; and no warrant to search any place, or to seize any person or thing, shall issue without describing them as particularly as may be; nor then, unless there be probable cause supported by oath or affirmation.

Section 7. In all criminal prosecutions, the accused hath a right to be heard by himself and his counsel, to be plainly and fully informed of the nature and cause of the accusation against him, to meet the witnesses in their examination face to face, to have compulsory process in due time, on application by himself, his friends or counsel, for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury; he shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself, nor shall he be deprived of life, liberty or property, unless by the judgment of his peers or by the law of the land.

Section 8. No person shall for any indictable offence be proceeded against criminally by information, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia when in actual service in time of war or public danger; and no person shall be for the same offence twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall any man's property be taken or applied to public use without the consent of his representatives, and without compensation being made.

Section 9. All courts shall be open; and every man for an injury done him in his reputation, person, movable or immovable possessions, shall have remedy by the due course of law, and justice administered according to the very right of the cause and the law of the land, without sale, denial, or unreasonable delay or expense; and every action shall be tried in the county in which it shall be commenced, unless when the judges of the court in which the cause is to be tried shall determine that an impartial trial thereof cannot be had in that county. Suits may be brought against the State, according to such regulations as shall be made by law.

Section 10. No power of suspending laws shall be exercised but by authority of the General Assembly.

Section 11. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel punishments inflicted; and in the construction of jails a proper regard shall be had to the health of prisoners.

Section 12. All prisoners shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, unless for capital offences when the proof is positive or the presumption great; and when persons are confined on accusation for such offences their friends and counsel may at proper seasons have access to them.

Section 13. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in cases of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

Section 14. No commission of oyer and terminer, or jail delivery, shall be issued.

Section 15. No attainder shall work corruption of blood, nor except during the life of the offender forfeiture of estate. The estates of those who destroy their own lives shall descend or vest as in case of natural death, and if any person be killed by accident no forfeiture shall thereby be incurred.

Section 16. Although disobedience to laws by a part of the people, upon suggestions of impolicy or injustice in them, tends by immediate effect and the influence of example not only to endanger the public welfare and safety, but also in governments of a republican form contravenes the social principles of such governments, founded on common consent for common good; yet the citizens have a right in an orderly manner to meet together, and to apply to persons intrusted with the powers of government, for redress of grievances or other proper purposes, by petition, remonstrance or address.

Section 17. No standing army shall be kept up without the consent of the General Assembly, and the military shall in all cases and at all times be in strict subordination to the civil power.

Section 18. No soldier shall in time of peace be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war but by a civil magistrate, in manner to be prescribed by law.

Section 19. No hereditary distinction shall be granted, nor any office created or exercised, the appointment to which shall be for a longer term than during good behavior; and no person holding any office under this State shall accept of any office or title of any kind whatever from any king, prince, or foreign state.

WE DECLARE THAT EVERY THING IN THIS ARTICLE IS RESERVED OUT OF THE GENERAL POWERS OF GOVERNMENT HEREINAFTER MENTIONED.

ARTICLE II.

LEGISLATURE.

Section 1. The legislative power of this State shall be vested in a General Assembly, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

Section 2. The House of Representatives shall be composed of thirty-five members, who shall be chosen for two years.

The Senate shall be composed of seventeen members, who shall be chosen for four years.

All territory which shall hereafter be added to and included within the City of Wilmington shall become part of the Representative Districts in New Castle County as follows:

All lying east of a straight line including the central line of Market street, below Eighth street, as the said two streets now exist, and south of a straight line including the central line of Eighth street, as the same now exists, shall become part of Representative District number one.

All lying north of a straight line including the central line of Eighth street, as the same now exists, extending from the northeasterly side of Brandywine Creek to the Delaware River, or north of the Brandywine Creek, westwardly from the point of intersection of the said straight line with the northeasterly side of the said creek, shall become part of Representative District number two.

All lying north of a straight line including the central line of Eighth street, as the same now exists, south of the Brandywine Creek, and west of the central line of Market street, as the same now exists, shall become part of Representative District number three.

All lying between a straight line including the central line of Market street extended southerly and a straight line including the central line of Washington street extended southerly shall become part of Representative District number four.

All lying south of a straight line including the central line of Eighth street, as the same now exists, and west of a straight line including the central line of Washington street, as the same now exists, shall become part of Representative District number five.

In case of any change in the boundary line between this State and the State of Pennsylvania any of the said Senatorial and Representative Districts in New Castle County affected thereby shall conform to any new boundary line between the said States.

All territory which shall hereafter be added to and included within the City of Wilmington shall become part of the Senatorial Districts in New Castle County as follows:

All lying north of a straight line including the central line of Eighth street, extended from the Delaware River westwardly, shall become part of Senatorial District number one.

All lying south of a straight line including the central line of Eighth street, extended from the Delaware River westwardly, shall become part of Senatorial District number two.

Whenever by the extension of the limits of the City of Wilmington territory forming part of any Representative or Senatorial District, as hereby established, shall be included within the limits of the said city, such Representative or Senatorial District shall thereafter consist of the residue thereof, not so included within said limits.

The several Representative and Senatorial Districts in the State shall, except as herein otherwise provided, continue to be bounded, described and defined by the lines of the hundreds, wards, election district, public roads, railroad and other boundaries herein mentioned, as the same are now established and located.

Section 3. No person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained the age of twenty-seven years and have been a citizen and inhabitant of the State three years next preceding the day of his election, and the last year of that term an inhabitant of the Senatorial District in which he shall be chosen, unless he shall have been absent on the public business of the United States or of this State. No person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained the age of twenty-four years and have been a citizen and inhabitant of the State three years next preceding the day of his election, and the last year of that term an inhabitant of the Representative District in which he shall be chosen, unless he shall have been absent on the public business of the United States or of this State.

Section 4. The General Assembly shall meet on the first Tuesday of January, biennially, and at such other times as the Governor shall convene the same.

Section 5. The General Assembly shall meet and sit in Dover, the capital of the State; provided, however, that in case of insurrection, conflagration or epidemic disease the General Assembly may temporarily meet and sit elsewhere.

Section 6. Whenever there shall be a vacancy in either House of the General Assembly, by reason of failure to elect, ineligibility, death, resignation or otherwise, a writ of election shall be issued by the presiding officer of the House in which the vacancy exists, or in cases of necessity in such other manner as shall be provided by law; and the person thereupon chosen to fill such vacancy shall hold office for the residue of the term. And whenever there shall be such vacancy in either House, and the General Assembly is not in session, the Governor shall have power to issue a writ of election to fill such vacancy, which writ shall be executed as a writ issued by the presiding officer of either House in case of vacancy, and the person thereupon chosen to fill such vacancy shall hold office for the residue of the term.

Section 7. The Senate at each biennial session shall choose one of its members President pro tempore, who shall preside in the absence of the Lieutenant Governor, or in case the latter shall become Governor or while he continues in the exercise of the office of Governor by reason of disability of the Governor. The Senate shall also choose its other officers, and in the absence of the Lieutenant Governor and its President pro tempore may, from time to time as occasion may require, appoint one of its members to preside. The House of Representatives shall choose one of its members Speaker and also choose its other officers, and in the absence of the Speaker may, from time to time as occasion may require, appoint one of its members to preside.

Section 8. Each House shall be the judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its own members; and a majority of all the members elected to each House shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and shall have power to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner, and under such penalties, as shall be deemed expedient.

Section 9. Each House may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish any of its members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected thereto expel a member, and shall have all other powers necessary for a branch of the Legislature of a free and independent State.

Section 10. Each House shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and publish the same immediately after every session, except such parts as may require secrecy, and the yeas and nays of the members on any question shall, at the desire of any member, be entered on the journal. No bill or joint resolution, except in relation to adjournment, shall pass either House unless the final vote shall have been taken by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against the same shall be entered on the journal, nor without the concurrence of a majority of all the members elected to each House.

Section 11. The doors of each House, and of Committees of the Whole, shall be open unless when the business is such as ought to be kept secret.

Section 12. Neither House shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

Section 13. The Senators and Representatives shall, in all cases, except treason, felony or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either House they shall not be questioned in any other place.

Section 14. No Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he shall have been elected, be appointed to any civil office under this State which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which shall have been increased, during such time. No member of Congress, nor any person holding any office under this State, or the United States, except officers usually appointed by the courts of justice respectively, attorneys-at-law and officers in the militia, holding no disqualifying office, shall during his continuance in Congress or in office be a Senator or Representative; nor shall any person while concerned in any army or navy contract be a Senator or Representative.

Section 15. The members of the General Assembly, except the presiding officers of the respective Houses, shall receive as compensation for their services a per diem allowance of five dollars, and the presiding officers a per diem allowance of six dollars, for each day of the session, not exceeding sixty days; and should they remain longer in session they shall serve without compensation. In case a special or extra session of the General Assembly be called the members and presiding officers shall receive like compensation for a period not exceeding thirty days.

The compensation of members of the General Assembly and of the Lieutenant Governor as President of the Senate shall be paid out of the treasury of the State.

The cost to the State for stationery and other supplies for each member of the General Assembly shall not exceed the sum of twenty-five dollars for any regular session, or the sum of ten dollars for any special session.

Section 16. No bill or joint resolution, except bills appropriating money for public purposes, shall embrace more than one subject, which shall be expressed in its title.

Section 17. Lotteries, the sale of lottery tickets, pool-selling and all other forms of gambling are prohibited in this State. The General Assembly shall enforce this section by appropriate legislation.

Section 18. No divorce shall be granted, nor alimony allowed, except by the judgment of a court, as shall be prescribed by general and uniform law.

Section 19. The General Assembly shall not pass any local or special law relating to fences; the straying of live stock; ditches; the creation or changing the boundaries of school districts; or the laying out, opening, alteration, maintenance or vacation, in whole or in part, of any road, highway, street, lane or alley.

Section 20. Any member of the General Assembly who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill pending in the General Assembly shall disclose the fact to the House of which he is a member and shall not vote thereon.

Section 21. No person who shall be convicted of embezzlement of the public money, bribery, perjury or other infamous crime, shall be eligible to a seat in either House of the General Assembly, or capable of holding any office of trust, honor or profit under this State.

Section 22. Every person who shall give, offer or promise, directly or indirectly, any money, testimonial, privilege, personal advantage or thing of value to any executive or judicial officer of this State or to any member of either House of the General Assembly for the purpose of influencing him in the performance of any of his official or public duties shall be deemed guilty of bribery, and shall be punished in such manner as shall be provided by law.

Section 23. Every statute shall be a public law unless otherwise declared in the statute itself.

Section 24. The State Treasurer shall settle his accounts annually with the General Assembly or a joint committee thereof, which shall be appointed at every biennial session. No person who has served in the office of State Treasurer shall be eligible to a seat in either House of the General Assembly until he shall have made a final settlement of his accounts as treasurer and discharged the balance, if any, due thereon.

ARTICLE III.

EXECUTIVE.

Section 1. The supreme executive powers of the State shall be vested in the Governor.

Section 2. The Governor shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State, once in every four years, at the general election.

Section 3. The returns of every election for Governor shall be sealed up, and immediately transmitted to the President of the Senate, or in case of a vacancy in the office of President of the Senate, or his absence from the State, to the Secretary of State, who shall keep the same until a President of the Senate shall be chosen, to whom they shall be immediately transmitted after his election, who shall open and publish the same in the presence of the members of both Houses of the General Assembly. Duplicates of the said returns shall also be immediately lodged with the Prothonotary of each county. The person having the highest number of votes shall be Governor; but if two or more shall be equal in the highest number of votes, the members of the two Houses shall, by joint ballot, choose one of them to be Governor; and if, upon such ballot, two or more of them shall still be equal and highest in votes, the President of the Senate shall have the casting vote.

Section 4. Contested elections of the Governor or Lieutenant Governor shall be determined by a joint committee, consisting of one-third of all the members elected to each House of the General Assembly, to be selected by ballot of the Houses respectively. Every member of the committee shall take an oath or affirmation that in determining the said election he will faithfully discharge the trust reposed in him; and the committee shall always sit with open doors.

The Chief Justice, or, in case of his absence or disability, the Chancellor shall preside at the trial of any contested election of Governor or Lieutenant Governor, and shall decide questions regarding the admissibility of evidence, and shall, upon request of the committee, pronounce his opinion upon other questions of law involved in the trial.

Section 5. The Governor shall hold his office during four years from the third Tuesday of January next ensuing his election; and shall not be elected a third time to said office.

Section 6. The Governor shall be at least thirty years of age, and have been a citizen and inhabitant of the United States twelve years next before the day of his election, and the last six years of that term an inhabitant of this State, unless he shall have been absent on public business of the United States or of this State.

Section 7. The Governor shall, at stated times, receive for his services an adequate salary to be fixed by law, which shall be neither increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected.

Section 8. He shall be commander-in-chief of the army and navy of this State, and of the militia, except when they shall be called into the service of the United States.

Section 9. He shall have power, unless herein otherwise provided, to appoint, by and with the consent of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate, such officers as he is or may be authorized by this Constitution or by law to appoint. He shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the Senate, in offices to which he may appoint, except in the offices of Chancellor, Chief Justice and Associate Judges, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of the next session of the Senate.

He shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen in elective offices, except in the offices of Lieutenant Governor and member of the General Assembly, by granting commissions which shall expire when their successors shall be duly qualified.

In case of vacancy in an elective office, except as aforesaid, a person shall be chosen to said office for the full term at the next general election, unless the vacancy shall happen within two months next before such election, in which case the election for said office shall be held at the second succeeding general election.

Unless herein otherwise provided, confirmation by the Senate of officers appointed by the Governor shall be required only where the salary, fees and emoluments of office shall exceed the sum of five hundred dollars annually.

Section 10. The Governor shall appoint, by and with the consent of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate, a Secretary of State, who shall hold office during the pleasure of the Governor. He shall keep a fair register of all the official acts and proceedings of the Governor, and shall, when required by either House of the General Assembly, lay the same, and all papers, minutes and vouchers, relative thereto, before such House, and shall perform such other duties as shall be enjoined upon him by law. He shall have a compensation for his services to be fixed by law.

Section 11. No person shall be elected or appointed to an office within a county who shall not have a right to vote for a Representative in the General Assembly, and have been a resident therein one year next before his election or appointment, nor hold the office longer than he continues to reside in the county, unless herein otherwise provided.

No member of Congress, nor any person holding or exercising any office under the United States, except officers usually appointed by the courts of justice respectively and attorneys-at-law, shall at the same time hold or exercise any office of profit under this State, unless herein otherwise provided.

No person shall hold more than one of the following offices at the same time, to wit: Secretary of State, Attorney-General, Insurance Commissioner, State Treasurer, Auditor of Accounts, Prothonotary, Clerk of the Peace, Register of Wills, Recorder, Sheriff or Coroner.

Section 12. All commissions shall be in the name of the State, and shall be sealed with the great seal and signed by the Governor.

Section 13. The Governor may for any reasonable cause remove any officer, except the Lieutenant Governor and members of the General Assembly, upon the address of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House of the General Assembly. Whenever the General Assembly shall so address the Governor, the cause of removal shall be entered on the journals of each House. The person against whom the General Assembly may be about to proceed shall receive notice thereof, accompanied with the cause alleged for his removal, at least ten days before the day on which either House of the General Assembly shall act thereon.

Section 14. The Governor may require information in writing from the officers in the executive department, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices.

Section 15. He shall, from time to time, give to the General Assembly information of affairs concerning the State and recommend to its consideration such measures as he shall judge expedient.

Section 16. He may on extraordinary occasions convene the General Assembly by proclamation; and in case of disagreement between the two Houses with respect to the time of adjournment, adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper, not exceeding three months. He shall have power to convene the Senate in extraordinary session by proclamation, for the transaction of executive business.

Section 17. He shall take care that the laws be carefully executed.

Section 18. Every bill which shall have passed both Houses of the General Assembly shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor; if he approve, he shall sign it; but if he shall not approve, he shall return it with his objections to the House in which it shall have originated, which House shall enter the objections at large on the journal and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, three-fifths of all the members elected to that House shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by three-fifths of all the members elected to that House, it shall become a law; but in neither House shall the vote be taken on the day on which the bill shall be returned to it. In all such cases the votes of both Houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each House respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the Governor within ten days, Sundays excepted, after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the General Assembly shall, by adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall not become a law without the approval of the Governor. No bill shall become a law after the final adjournment of the General Assembly, unless approved by the Governor within thirty days after such adjournment. The Governor shall have power to disapprove of any item or items of any bill making appropriations of money, embracing distinct items, and the part or parts of the bill approved shall be the law, and the item or items of appropriation disapproved shall be void, unless repassed according to the rules and limitations prescribed for the passage of other bills over the Executive veto. Every order, resolution, or vote to which the concurrence of both Houses of the General Assembly may be necessary, except on a question of adjournment, shall be presented to the Governor; and before the same shall take effect be approved by him, or, being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by three-fifths of all the members elected to each House of the General Assembly, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

Section 19. A Lieutenant Governor shall be chosen at the same time, in the same manner, for the same term, and subject to the same provisions as the Governor; he shall possess the same qualifications of eligibility for office as the Governor; he shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no vote unless the Senate be equally divided.

The Lieutenant Governor while acting as President of the Senate, or as a member of the Board of Pardons, whenever attending the sessions of said board shall receive for his services the same compensation per day as the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Section 20. In case the person elected Governor shall die or become disqualified before the commencement of his term of office, or shall refuse to take the same, or in case of the removal of the Governor from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the Lieutenant Governor; and in case of removal, death, resignation, or inability of both the Governor and Lieutenant Governor, the Secretary of State, or if there be none, or in case of his removal, death, resignation, or inability, then the Attorney General, or if there be none, or in the case of his removal, death, resignation, or inability, then the President pro tempore of the Senate, or if there be none, or in case of his removal, death, resignation, or inability, then the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall act as Governor until the disability of the Governor or Lieutenant Governor is removed, or a Governor shall be duly elected and qualified.

The foregoing provisions of this section shall apply only to such persons as are eligible to the office of Governor under this Constitution at the time the powers and duties of the office of Governor shall devolve upon them respectively.

Whenever the powers and duties of the office of Governor shall devolve upon the Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State or Attorney General, his office shall become vacant; and whenever the powers and duties of the office of Governor shall devolve upon the President pro tempore of the Senate, or the Speaker of the House of Representatives, his seat as a member of the General Assembly shall become vacant; and any such vacancy shall be filled as directed by this Constitution: provided, however, that such vacancy shall not be created in case either of the said persons shall be acting as Governor during a temporary disability of the Governor.

Section 21. The terms of office of the Attorney General and Insurance Commissioner shall be four years; and the terms of office of the State Treasurer and Auditor of Accounts shall be two years. These officers shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at general elections, and be commissioned by the Governor.

Section 22. The terms of office of Prothonotaries, Clerks of the Peace, Registers of Wills, Recorders, Registers in Chancery and Clerks of the Orphans' Court shall be four years; and the terms of office of Sheriffs and Coroners shall be two years. These officers shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the respective counties at general elections, and be commissioned by the Governor.

No person shall be twice elected Sheriff in any term of four years.

Section 23. Prothonotaries, Clerks of the Peace, Registers of Wills, Recorders, Registers in Chancery, Clerks of the Orphans' Court and Sheriffs shall keep their offices in the town or place in each county in which the Superior Court is usually held.

ARTICLE IV.

JUDICIARY.

Section 1. The judicial power of this State shall be vested in a Supreme Court, a Superior Court, a Court of Chancery, an Orphans' Court, a Court of Oyer and Terminer, a Court of General Sessions, a Register's Court, Justices of the Peace and such other courts as the General Assembly, with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House, shall from time to time by law establish.

Section 2. There shall be six State judges, who shall be learned in the law. One of them shall be Chancellor, one of them Chief Justice and the other four of them Associate Judges.

The Chancellor, Chief Justice and one of the Associate Judges may be appointed from and reside in any part of the State. The other three Associate Judges may be appointed from any part of the State. They shall be resident Associate Judges, and one of them shall reside in each county.

In case the commissions of two or more of the Associate Judges shall be of the same date, they shall, as soon as conveniently may be after their appointment, determine their seniority by lot, and certify the result to the Governor.

Section 3. The Chancellor, Chief Justice and Associate Judges shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate, for the term of twelve years; Provided, however that the Chancellor, Chief Justice and Associate Judges first to be appointed under this amended Constitution, shall be appointed by the Governor without the consent of the Senate, for the term of twelve years; and the persons so appointed shall enter upon the discharge of the duties of their respective offices upon taking the oath of office prescribed by this amended Constitution. If a vacancy shall occur, by expiration of term or otherwise, at a time when the Senate shall not be in session, the Governor shall within thirty days after the happening of any such vacancy convene the Senate for the purpose of confirming his appointment to fill said vacancy, and the transaction of such other executive business as may come before it. Such vacancy shall be filled as aforesaid for the full term. The said appointments shall be such that no more than three of the said five law judges, in office at the same time, shall have been appointed from the same political party.

Section 4. The Chancellor, Chief Justice and Associate Judges shall respectively receive from the State for their services a compensation which shall be fixed by law and paid quarterly, and shall not be less than the annual sum of three thousand dollars, and they shall not receive any fees or perquisites in addition to their salaries for business done by them, except as provided by law. They shall hold no other office of profit.

Section 5. The Chief Justice and the four Associate Judges shall compose the Superior Court, the Court of General Sessions and the Court of Oyer and Terminer, as hereinafter prescribed.

The said five judges shall designate those of their number who shall hold the said courts in the several counties. Whenever practicable the said courts shall consist of three of the said five judges, but no more than three of them shall sit together in any of the said courts. In each of the said courts the Chief Justice when present shall preside, and in his absence the senior Associate Judge present shall preside.

Two shall constitute a quorum in the said courts respectively, except in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, where three shall constitute a quorum.

One may open and adjourn court.

Section 6. Two sessions of the Superior Court, or Court of General Sessions, or one session of each of the said courts, or one session of the Court of Oyer and Terminer and of either of the other of the said courts may at the same time be held in the same county or in different counties, and the business in the several counties may be distributed and apportioned in such manner as shall be provided by the rules of the said courts respectively.

Section 7. The Superior Court shall have jurisdiction of all causes of a civil nature, real, personal and mixed, at common law and all other the jurisdiction and powers vested by the laws of this State in the Superior Court.

Section 8. The Court of General Sessions shall have all the jurisdiction and powers vested by the laws of this State in the Court of General Sessions of the Peace and Jail Delivery.

Section 9. The Court of Oyer and Terminer shall have all the jurisdiction and powers vested by the laws of this State in the Court of Oyer and Terminer.

Section 10. The Chancellor shall hold the Court of Chancery. This court shall have all the jurisdiction and powers vested by the laws of this State in the Court of Chancery.

Section 11. The Orphans' Court in each county shall consist of the Chancellor and the resident Associate Judge of the county. The Chancellor when present shall preside. One of them shall constitute a quorum.

When their opinions are opposed, or when the decision is made by one of them, or when the decision is made by both of them in matters involving a right to real estate or the appraised value or other value thereof, and in all matters affecting guardians or guardians' accounts, there shall be an appeal to the Superior Court for the county, which shall have final jurisdiction in every such case. Upon such appeal, if the Associate Judge sat in the cause below, he shall not sit in the Superior Court. In all other cases the decision of the Orphans' Court shall be final.

This court shall have all the jurisdiction and powers vested by the laws of this State in the Orphans' Court.

Section 12. The Supreme Court shall have jurisdiction as follows:

(1). To issue writs of error to the Superior Court and to determine finally all matters in error in the judgments and proceedings of said Superior Court.

(2). To issue upon application of the accused, after conviction and sentence, writs of error to the Court of Oyer and Terminer and the Court of General Sessions in all cases in which the sentence shall be death, imprisonment exceeding one month, or fine exceeding $100, and in such other cases as shall be provided by law; and to determine finally all matters in error in the judgments and proceedings of said Court of Oyer and Terminer and Court of General Sessions in such cases: provided, however, that there shall be no writ of error to the Court of General Sessions in cases of prosecution under Section 8 of Article V of this Constitution.

(3). To receive appeals from the Court of General Sessions in cases of prosecution under Section 8 of Article V of this Constitution, and to determine finally all matters of appeal in such cases.

(4). To receive appeals from the Court of Chancery, and to determine finally all matters of appeal in the interlocutory or final decrees and proceedings in chancery.

(5). To issue writs of prohibition, certiorari and mandamus to the Superior Court, the Court of Oyer and Terminer, the Court of General Sessions, the Court of Chancery and the Orphans' Court, or any of the judges of the said courts, and all orders, rules and processes proper to give effect to the same. The General Assembly shall have power to provide by law of what judges the Supreme Court shall consist for the purpose of this paragraph and in what manner, and by what judges of the Supreme Court, the jurisdiction and power hereby conferred may be exercised in vacation.

Section 13. The Supreme Court upon a writ of error to the Superior Court, Court of Oyer and Terminer, or Court of General Sessions, or upon appeal from the Court of General Sessions, shall consist of the Chancellor and such of the other five judges as did not sit in the cause below. The Chancellor when present shall preside, and in his absence the Chief Justice when present shall preside, and in his absence the senior Associate Judge present shall preside. Any three of them shall constitute a quorum, and one of them may open and adjourn court.

Section 14. The Supreme Court upon an appeal from the Court of Chancery shall consist of the Chief Justice and the four Associate Judges.

The Chief Justice when present shall preside, and in his absence the senior Associate Judge present shall preside. Any three of them shall constitute a quorum, and one of them may open and adjourn court.

Section 15. Whenever the Superior Court, Court of Oyer and Terminer or Court of General Sessions shall consider that a question of law ought to be heard by the Court in Banc, they shall have power, upon application of either party, to direct it to be so heard; and in that case the Court in Banc shall consist of the Chief Justice and the four Associate Judges.

The Chief Justice when present shall preside, and in his absence the senior Associate Judge present shall preside. Any four of them shall constitute a quorum, and one of them may open and adjourn court.

The Superior Court, Court of Oyer and Terminer or Court of General Sessions in exercising this power, may direct a cause to be proceeded in to verdict or judgment in that court, or to be otherwise proceeded in, as shall be best for expediting justice.

Section 16. In matters of chancery jurisdiction in which the Chancellor is interested or otherwise disqualified, the Chief Justice shall have jurisdiction, and there shall be an appeal to the Supreme Court, which shall in this case consist of the four Associate Judges, the senior Associate Judge present presiding. Any three of them shall constitute a quorum, and one of them may open and adjourn court.

Section 17. The Chief Justice, or, in case of his absence from the State or disability, the senior Associate Judge, shall have power, during the absence of the Chancellor from the State or his temporary disability, to grant restraining orders and preliminary injunctions, pursuant to the rules of the Court of Chancery; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to confer general jurisdiction over the case.

Section 18. The Governor shall have power to commission a judge ad litem for the purpose of constituting a quorum in the Superior Court, Court of Oyer and Terminer, Court of General Sessions or Supreme Court, where by reason of legal exception to the Chancellor or any judge or for other cause a quorum could not otherwise be had. The commission in such case shall confine the office to the cause, and it shall expire on the determination of the cause. The judge so appointed shall receive a reasonable compensation to be fixed by the General Assembly. A member of Congress, or any person holding or exercising an office under the United States, shall not be disqualified from being appointed a judge ad litem.

Section 19. The jurisdiction of each of the aforesaid courts shall be co-extensive with the State. Process may be issued out of each court, in either county, into every county. No costs shall be awarded against any party to a cause by reason of the fact that suit is brought in a county other than that in which the defendant or defendants may reside at the time of bringing suit.

Section 20. The General Assembly, notwithstanding any thing contained in this Article, shall have power to repeal or alter any act of the General Assembly giving jurisdiction to the Court of Oyer and Terminer, the Superior Court, the Court of General Sessions of the Peace and Jail Delivery, the Orphans' Court, or the Court of Chancery, in any matter, or giving any power to either of the said courts. The General Assembly shall also have power to confer upon the Court of Oyer and Terminer, the Superior Court, the Court of General Sessions, the Orphans' Court and the Court of Chancery jurisdiction and powers in addition to those hereinbefore mentioned. Until the General Assembly shall otherwise direct, there shall be an appeal to the Supreme Court in all cases in which there is an appeal, according to any act of the General Assembly, to the Court of Errors and Appeals.

Section 21. Until the General Assembly shall otherwise provide, the Chancellor shall exercise all the powers which any law of this State vests in the Chancellor, beside the general powers of the Court of Chancery; and the Chief Justice and Associate Judges shall each singly exercise all the powers which any law of this State vests in the judges singly of the Superior Court.

Section 22. Judges shall not charge juries with respect to matters of fact, but may state the questions of fact in issue and declare the law.

Section 23. In civil causes where matters of fact are at issue, if the parties agree, such matters of fact shall be tried by the court, and judgment rendered upon their decision thereon as upon a verdict by a jury.

Section 24. In civil causes, when pending, the Superior Court shall have the power, before judgment, of directing, upon such terms as it shall deem reasonable, amendments, impleadings and legal proceedings, so that by error in any of them, the determination of causes, according to their real merits, shall not be hindered; and also of directing the examination of witnesses who are aged, very infirm, or going out of the State, upon interrogatories de bene esse, to be read in evidence, in case of the death or departure of the witnesses before the trial, or inability by reason of age, sickness, bodily infirmity, or imprisonment, then to attend; and also the power of obtaining evidence from places not within the State.

Section 25. At any time pending an action for debt or damages, the defendant may bring into court a sum of money for discharging the same, together with the cost then accrued, and the plaintiff not accepting the same, if upon the final decision of the cause, he shall not recover a greater sum than that so paid into court for him, he shall not recover any costs accruing after such payment, except where the plaintiff is an executor or administrator.

Section 26. By the death of any party, no suit in chancery or at law, where the cause of action survives, shall abate, but, until the General Assembly shall otherwise provide, suggestion of such death being entered of record, the executor or administrator of a deceased petitioner or plaintiff may prosecute the said suit; and if a respondent or defendant dies, the executor or administrator being duly served with a scire facias thirty days before the return thereof shall be considered as a party to the suit, in the same manner as if he had voluntarily made himself a party; and in any of those cases, the court shall pass a decree, or render judgment for or against executors or administrators, as to right appertains. But where an executor or administrator of a deceased respondent or defendant becomes a party, the court upon motion shall grant such a continuance of the cause as to the judges shall appear proper.

Section 27. Whenever a person, not being an executor or administrator, appeals from a decree of the Chancellor, or applies for a writ of error, such appeal or writ shall be no stay of proceeding in chancery, or the court to which the writ issues, unless the appellant or plaintiff in error shall give sufficient security, to be approved respectively by the Chancellor, or by a judge of the court from which the writ issues, that the appellant or plaintiff in error shall prosecute respectively his appeal or writ to effect, and pay the condemnation money and all costs, or otherwise abide the decree in appeal or the judgment in error, if he fail to make his plea good.

Section 28. No writ of error shall be brought upon any judgment heretofore confessed, entered or rendered, or upon any judgment hereafter to be confessed, entered or rendered, but within five years after the confessing, entering or rendering thereof; unless the person entitled to such writ be an infant, feme covert, non compos mentis or a prisoner, and then within five years exclusive of the time of such disability.

Section 29. The Prothonotary of the Superior Court may issue process, take recognizances of bail and enter judgments, according to law and the practice of the court. No judgment in one county shall bind lands or tenements in another, until a testatum fieri facias being issued, shall be entered of record in the office of the prothonotary of the county wherein the lands or tenements are situate.

Section 30. The General Assembly may by law give to any inferior courts by them established or to be established, or to one or more justices of the peace, jurisdiction of the criminal matters following, that is to say: assaults and batteries, keeping without license a public house of entertainment, tavern, inn, ale house, ordinary or victualing house, retailing or selling without license, or on Sunday, or to minors, wine, rum, brandy, gin, whiskey, or spirituous or mixed liquors, contrary to law, carrying concealed a deadly weapon, disturbing meetings held for the purpose of religious worship, nuisances, and such other misdemeanors as the General Assembly may from time to time, with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House, prescribe.

The General Assembly may by law regulate this jurisdiction, and provide that the proceedings shall be with or without indictment by grand jury, or trial by petit jury, and may grant or deny the privilege of appeal to the Court of General Sessions; provided, however, that there shall be an appeal to the Court of General Sessions in all cases in which the sentence shall be imprisonment exceeding one month, or a fine exceeding one hundred dollars.

Section 31. There shall be appointed, as hereinafter provided, such number of persons to the office of Justice of the Peace as shall be directed by law, who shall be commissioned for four years.

Section 32. Justices of the Peace and the judges of such courts as the General Assembly may establish pursuant to the provisions of Section 1 or Section 30 of this Article shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate, for such terms as shall be fixed by this Constitution or by law.

Section 33. The Registers of Wills of the several counties shall respectively hold the Register's Court in each county. Upon the litigation of a cause the depositions of the witnesses examined shall be taken at large in writing and make part of the proceedings in the cause. This court may issue process throughout the State. Appeals may be taken from a Register's Court to the Superior Court, whose decision shall be final. In cases where a Register of Wills is interested in questions concerning the probate of wills, the granting of letters of administration, or executors' or administrators' accounts, the cognizance thereof shall belong to the Orphans' Court, with an appeal to the Superior Court, whose decision shall be final.

Section 34. An executor or administrator shall file every account with the Register of Wills for the county, who shall, as soon as conveniently may be, carefully examine the particulars with the proofs thereof, in the presence of such executor or administrator, and shall adjust and settle the same according to the right of the matter and the law of the land; which account so settled shall remain in his office for inspection; and the executor or administrator shall within three months after such settlement give notice in writing to all persons entitled to shares of the estate, or to their guardians, respectively, if residing within the State, that the account is lodged in the said office for inspection.

Exceptions may be made by persons concerned to both sides of every such account, either denying the justice of the allowances made to the accountant or alleging further charges against him; and the exceptions shall be heard in the Orphans' Court for the county; and thereupon the account shall be adjusted and settled according to the right of the matter and law of the land.

Section 35. The style in all process and public acts shall be the THE STATE OF DELAWARE. Prosecutions shall be carried on in the name of the State.

ARTICLE V.

ELECTIONS.

Section 1. The general election shall be held biennially on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in the month of November, and shall be by ballot; but the General Assembly may by law prescribe the means, methods and instruments of voting so as best to secure secrecy and the independence of the voter, preserve the freedom and purity of elections and prevent fraud, corruption and intimidation thereat.

Section 2. Every male citizen of this State of the age of twenty-one years who shall have been a resident thereof one year next preceding an election, and for the last three months a resident of the county, and for the last thirty days a resident of the hundred or election district in which he may offer to vote, and in which he shall have been duly registered as hereinafter provided for, shall be entitled to vote at such election in the hundred or election district of which he shall at the time be a resident, and in which he shall be registered, for all officers that now are or hereafter may be elected by the people, and upon all questions which may be submitted to the vote of the people: provided, however, that no person who shall attain the age of twenty-one years after the first day of January, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred, or after that date shall become a citizen of the United States, shall have the right to vote unless he shall be able to read this Constitution in the English language and write his name; but these requirements shall not apply to any person who by reason of physical disability shall be unable to comply therewith: and provided also, that no person in the military, naval, or marine service of the United States shall be considered as acquiring a residence in this State, by being stationed in any garrison, barrack, or military or naval place or station within this State; and no idiot, or insane person, pauper, or person convicted of a crime deemed by law felony, or incapacitated under the provisions of this Constitution from voting, shall enjoy the right of an elector; and the General Assembly may impose the forfeiture of the right of suffrage as a punishment for crime.

Section 3. No person who shall receive or accept, or offer to receive or accept, or shall pay, transfer or deliver, or offer or promise to pay, transfer or deliver, or shall contribute, or offer or promise to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation, inducement or reward for the registering or abstaining from registering of any one qualified to register, or for the giving or withholding, or in any manner influencing the giving or withholding, a vote at any general, special or municipal election in this State, shall vote at such election; and upon challenge for any of said causes, the person so challenged, before the officers authorized for that purpose shall receive his vote, shall swear or affirm before such officers that he has not received or accepted, or offered to receive or accept, or paid, transferred or delivered, or offered or promised to pay, transfer or deliver, or contributed, or offered or promised to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation, inducement or reward for the registering or abstaining from registering of any one qualified to register, or for the giving or withholding, or in any manner influencing the giving or withholding, a vote at such election.

Such oath or affirmation shall be conclusive evidence to the election officers of the truth of such oath or affirmation; but if any such oath or affirmation shall be false, the person making the same shall be guilty of perjury, and no conviction thereof shall bar any prosecution under Section 8 of this Article.

Section 4. The General Assembly shall provide by law for a uniform biennial registration of the names of all the voters in this State who possess the qualifications prescribed in this Article, which registration shall be conclusive evidence to the election officers of the right of every person so registered to vote at the general election next thereafter, who is not disqualified under the provisions of Section 3 of this Article; but no person shall vote at such election unless his name appears in the list of registered voters.

Such registration shall be commenced not more than one hundred and twenty days nor less than sixty days before and be completed not more than twenty days nor less than ten days before such election. Application for registration may be made on at least five days during the said period; provided, however, that such registration may be corrected as hereinafter provided, at any time prior to the day of holding the election.

Voters shall be registered upon personal application only; and each voter shall, at the time of his registration, pay a registration fee of one dollar, for the use of the county where such registration fee is paid.

From the decision of the registration officers granting or refusing registration, or striking or refusing to strike a name or names from the registration list, any person interested, or any registration officer, may appeal to the resident Associate Judge of the county, or, in case of his disability or absence from the county, to any judge entitled to sit in the Supreme Court, whose determination shall be final; and he shall have power to order any name improperly omitted from the said registry to be placed thereon, and any name improperly appearing on the said registry to be stricken therefrom, and any name appearing on the said registry, in any manner incorrect, to be corrected, and to make and enforce all necessary orders in the premises for the correction of the said registry. Registration shall be required only for general biennial elections at which Representatives to the General Assembly shall be chosen, unless the General Assembly shall otherwise provide by law.

The existing laws in reference to the registration of voters, so far as consistent with the provisions of this Article, shall continue in force until the General Assembly shall otherwise provide.

Section 5. Electors shall in all cases, except treason, felony, or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at elections, and in going to and returning from them.

Section 6. The presiding election officer of each hundred or election district on the day next after the general election shall deliver one of the certificates of the election, made and certified as required by law, together with the ballot box or ballot boxes, containing the ballots and other papers required by law to be placed therein, to the Prothonotary of the Superior Court of the county, who shall at twelve o'clock noon on the second day after the election present the same to the said court, and the election officer or officers having charge of any other certificate or certificates of the election shall at the same time present the same to the said court and the said court shall at the same time convene for the performance of the duties hereby imposed upon it; and thereupon the said court, with the aid of such of its officers and such sworn assistants as it shall appoint, shall publicly ascertain the state of the election throughout the county, by calculating the aggregate amount of all the votes for each office that shall be given in all the hundreds and election districts of the county for every person voted for for such office.

In case the certificates of election of any hundred or election district shall not be produced, or in case the certificates produced do not agree or in case of complaint under oath of fraud or mistake in any such certificate, or in case fraud or mistake is apparent on the face of any such certificate, the court shall have power to issue summary process against the election officers or any other persons to bring them forthwith into court with the election papers in their possession or control, and to open the ballot boxes and take therefrom any paper contained therein, and to make a recount of the ballots contained therein, and to correct any fraud or mistake in any certificate or paper relating to such election.

The said court shall have all other the jurisdiction and powers now vested by law in the Boards of Canvass, and such other powers as shall be provided by law.

After the state of the election shall have been ascertained as aforesaid, the said court shall make certificates thereof, under the seal of said court, in the form required by law, and transmit, deliver and lodge the same as required by this Constitution or by law, and deliver the ballot boxes to the sheriff of the county, to be by him kept and delivered as required by law.

No act or determination of the court in the discharge of the duties imposed upon it by this section shall be conclusive in the trial of any contested election.

For the purposes of this section the Superior Court shall consist in New Castle county of the Chief Justice and the resident Associate Judge; in Kent county of the Chancellor and the resident Associate Judge; and in Sussex county of the resident Associate Judge and the remaining Associate Judge.

Two shall constitute a quorum. The Governor shall have power to commission a judge for the purpose of constituting a quorum when by reason of legal exception to the Chancellor or any judge, or for any other cause, a quorum could not otherwise be had.

Section 7. Every person who either in or out of the State shall receive or accept, or offer to receive or accept, or shall pay, transfer or deliver, or offer or promise to pay, transfer or deliver, or shall contribute, or offer or promise to contribute to another to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation, inducement or reward for the giving or withholding, or in any manner influencing the giving or withholding, a vote at any general, special, or municipal election in this State, or at any primary election, convention or meeting held for the purpose of nominating any candidate or candidates to be voted for at such general, special or municipal election; or who either in or out of the State shall make or become directly or indirectly a party to any bet or wager depending upon the result of any such general, special, municipal or primary election or convention or meeting, or upon a vote thereat by any person; or who either in or out of the State shall, by the use or promise of money or other valuable thing, or otherwise, cause or attempt to cause any officer of election or registration officer to violate his official duty; or who either in or out of the State shall by the use or promise of money or other valuable thing influence or attempt to influence any person to be registered or abstain from being registered; or who, being an officer of election or registration officer, shall knowingly and wilfully violate his official duty; or who shall by force threat, menace or intimidation, prevent or hinder, or attempt to prevent or hinder, any person qualified for registration from being registered or any person qualified to vote from voting according to his choice at any such general, special or municipal election, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor; and shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, or shall be imprisoned for a term not less than one month nor more than three years, or shall suffer both fine and imprisonment within said limits, at the discretion of the court; and, if a male, shall further for a term of ten years next following his sentence be incapable of voting at any such general, special, municipal or primary election or convention or meeting. But the penalty of disfranchisement shall not apply to any person making or being a party to any bet or wager depending upon the result of any such general, special, municipal or primary election or convention or meeting. Every person charged with the commission while out of the State of any of the offences enumerated in this section, and by this section made punishable, whether committed in or out of the State, may be prosecuted under Section 8 of this Article, in any county in which he shall be arrested on such charge. No person, other than the accused, shall, in the prosecution for any offence mentioned in this section, be permitted to withhold his testimony on the ground that it may criminate himself or subject him to public infamy; but such testimony shall not afterwards be used against him in any judicial proceeding, except for perjury in giving such testimony.

Section 8. Every prosecution for any of the offences mentioned in Section 7 of this Article shall be on information filed by the Attorney General, after examination and commitment or holding to bail by a judge or justice of the peace, and the cause shall be heard, tried and determined by the court without the intervention of either a grand jury or a petit jury. The accused, if adjudged guilty of the offence charged against him, shall have the right at any time within the space of three calendar months next after sentence is pronounced to an appeal to the Supreme Court. The court below, or any judge thereof, in term time or vacation, shall upon application by the accused allow such appeal; but such appeal shall not operate as a supersedeas unless the appellant shall at the time of the allowance thereof give an appeal bond to the State of Delaware in such amount and with such surety as shall be approved by such court or judge. On such appeal the Supreme Court shall, with all convenient speed, review the evidence adduced in the cause in the court below, as well as the other proceedings therein, and the law applicable thereto, and give final judgment accordingly, either affirming or reversing the judgment below. If the appellant shall fail to prosecute his appeal pursuant to the rules and practice hereinafter provided for, the Supreme Court shall affirm the judgment of the court below. Where the sentence in the court below includes a term of imprisonment and an appeal bond is given and approved in manner aforesaid, the Supreme Court, if it affirm the judgment below, shall sentence the appellant to a term of imprisonment equal to that imposed by the court below, after deducting therefrom a period equal to the time of imprisonment, if any, already suffered by him under the sentence of the court below. The surety or sureties in any appeal bond given under the provisions of this section shall have the right at any time after its approval and until final judgment shall be rendered by the Supreme Court, and, in case the judgment of the court below shall be affirmed, until the expiration of the space of thirty days next following such affirmance, to take, wherever found, and render the appellant to the sheriff of the county in which he was sentenced; and a certified copy of the appeal bond shall be the sufficient warrant for such surety or sureties for such taking and rendering. If the Supreme Court shall reverse any judgment of the court below imposing a fine, and if the accused shall have fully paid such fine and the costs of prosecution, the amount thereof shall be refunded to the appellant through a warrant drawn by the court below on the treasurer of the county in which the accused was sentenced. All the judges entitled to sit in the Supreme Court shall, as soon as conveniently may be, meet at the usual place of sitting of said court, and they, or a majority of them, shall adopt rules prescribing the forms and conditions of appeal bonds to be used under the provisions of this section, and the manner of certifying copies thereof, providing for the printing or reduction to writing of all oral evidence in the cause in the court below and of the opinion of said court, for the certification of the same when so printed or reduced to writing, and of copies thereof; for the copying and certification of all documentary or other written or printed evidence in the cause in the court below and of the record therein; for the transmission to the Supreme Court of such certified copies of such record, and of all the evidence adduced in the court below and of the opinion of said court; for the transmission to the court below of a certified copy of the final judgment of the Supreme Court and of any additional sentence pronounced by said court, for the discharge of sureties in appeal bonds, and for the framing, issuance, service and enforcement of all process and rules necessary to give full effect to the provisions of this section; and regulating generally the practice and procedure of the Supreme Court and the court below in cases of appeal under this section. The said judges, or a majority of them, met as aforesaid, may also provide that when complaint shall be made in due form, prescribed by them, to any judge entitled to sit in the Supreme Court, that any offence mentioned in Section 7 of this Article has been committed in the county in which such judge shall reside, or out of the State, such judge shall have power to cause the person charged with such offence to be arrested within any county of this State and brought before him, and to bind him with sufficient surety, or, for want of bail, commit him for his appearance and answer at the next term of the Court of General Sessions in such manner and under and pursuant to such rules and regulations as the said judges, or a majority of them, shall prescribe. From time to time hereafter, whenever a majority of all the judges entitled to sit in the Supreme Court shall so request, all of the judges so entitled shall, as soon as conveniently may be, meet at the usual place of sitting of said court; and they, or a majority of them, shall have power to revise, amend, add to or annul, any rule or rules theretofore adopted touching forms, practice or procedure in cases of appeal under this section, or arrest and binding or commitment for appearance and answer, in such manner and to such extent as in their judgment shall best serve to effectuate the purposes hereof. No person shall be adjudged guilty of any offence mentioned in Section 7 of this Article without the concurrence of all of the judges trying the case; and upon appeal no judgment of the court shall be affirmed without the concurrence of all of the judges of the Supreme Court sitting in the case, and their failure to concur as aforesaid shall operate as a reversal of the judgment of the court below; provided, however, that such concurrence of the judges sitting in the Supreme Court shall not be necessary for the affirmance of the judgment of the court below where the appellant shall fail to prosecute his appeal pursuant to the rules and practice herein provided for.

Section 9. The enumeration of the offences mentioned in Section 7 of this Article shall not preclude the General Assembly from defining and providing for the punishment of other offences against the freedom and purity of the ballot, or touching the conduct, returns or ascertainment of the result of general, special or municipal elections, or of primary elections, conventions or meetings held for the nomination of candidates to be voted for at general, special or municipal elections. No prosecution under any act of the General Assembly passed pursuant to this section shall be subject to the provisions of Section 8 of this Article.

ARTICLE VI.

IMPEACHMENT AND TREASON.

Section 1. The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeaching; but two-thirds of all the members must concur in an impeachment. All impeachments shall be tried by the Senate, and when sitting for that purpose, the Senators shall be upon oath or affirmation to do justice according to the evidence. No person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of all the Senators.

On the trial of an impeachment against the Governor or Lieutenant Governor, the Chief Justice, or, in case of his absence or disability, the Chancellor shall preside; and on the trial of all other impeachments the President of the Senate shall preside.

Section 2. The Governor and all other civil officers under this State shall be liable to impeachment for treason, bribery, or any high crime or misdemeanor in office. Judgment in such cases shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold any office of honor, trust or profit under this State; but the party convicted shall, nevertheless, be subject to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment according to law.

Section 3. Treason against this State shall consist only in levying war against it, or in adhering to the enemies of the Government, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason, unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

ARTICLE VII.

PARDONS.

Section 1. The Governor shall have power to remit fines and forfeitures and to grant reprieves, commutations of sentence and pardons, except in cases of impeachment; but no pardon, or reprieve for more than six months, shall be granted, nor sentence commuted, except upon the recommendation in writing of a majority of the Board of Pardons after full hearing; and such recommendation, with the reasons therefor at length, shall be filed and recorded in the office of the Secretary of State, who shall forthwith notify the Governor thereof.

He shall fully set forth in writing the grounds of all reprieves, pardons and remissions, to be entered in the register of his official acts and laid before the General Assembly at its next session.

Section 2. The Board of Pardons shall be composed of the Chancellor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, State Treasurer and Auditor of Accounts.

Section 3. The said board may require information from the Attorney General upon any subject relating to the duties of said board.

ARTICLE VIII.

REVENUE AND TAXATION.

Section 1. All taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax, and shall be levied and collected under general laws, but the General Assembly may by general laws exempt from taxation such property as in the opinion of the General Assembly will best promote the public welfare.

Section 2. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose alterations as on other bills; and no bill from the operation of which, when passed into law, revenue may incidentally arise shall be accounted a bill for raising revenue; nor shall any matter or clause whatever not immediately relating to and necessary for raising revenue be in any manner blended with or annexed to a bill for raising revenue.

Section 3. No money shall be borrowed or debt created by or on behalf of the State but pursuant to an act of the General Assembly, passed with the concurrence of three-fourths of all the members elected to each House, except to supply casual deficiencies of revenue, repel invasion, suppress insurrections, defend the State in war or pay existing debts; and any law authorizing the borrowing of money by or on behalf of the State shall specify the purpose for which the money is to be borrowed, and the money so borrowed shall be used exclusively for such purpose; but should the money so borrowed, or any part thereof, be left after the abandonment of such purpose or the accomplishment thereof, such money, or the surplus thereof, may be disposed of according to law.

Section 4. No appropriation of the public money shall be made to, nor the bonds of this State be issued or loaned to any county, municipality or corporation, nor shall the credit of the State, by the guarantee or the endorsement of the bonds or other undertakings of any county, municipality or corporation, be pledged otherwise than pursuant to an Act of the General Assembly, passed with the concurrence of three-fourths of all the members elected to each House.

Section 5. The General Assembly shall provide for levying and collecting a capitation tax from every male citizen of the State of the age of twenty-one years or upwards; but such tax to be collected in any county shall be uniform throughout that county, and such capitation tax shall be used exclusively in the county in which it is collected.

Section 6. No money shall be drawn from the treasury but pursuant to an appropriation made by Act of the General Assembly; provided, however, that the compensation of the members of the General Assembly and all expenses connected with the session thereof may be paid out of the treasury pursuant to resolution in that behalf; a regular account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published annually.

Section 7. In all assessments of the value of real estate for taxation, the value of the land and the value of the buildings and improvements thereon shall be included. And in all assessments of the rental value of real estate for taxation, the rental value of the land and the rental value of the buildings and the improvements thereon shall be included. The foregoing provisions of this section shall apply to all assessments of the value of real estate or of the rental value thereof for taxation for State, county, hundred, school, municipal or other public purposes.

Section 8. No county, city, town or other municipality shall lend its credit or appropriate money to, or assume the debt of, or become a shareholder or joint owner in or with any private corporation or any person or company whatever.

ARTICLE IX.

CORPORATIONS.

Section 1. No corporation shall hereafter be created, amended, renewed or revived by special act, but only by or under general law, nor shall any existing corporate charter be amended, renewed, or revived by special act, but only by or under general law; but the foregoing provisions shall not apply to municipal corporations, banks or corporations for charitable, penal, reformatory or educational purposes, sustained in whole or in part by the State. The General Assembly shall, by general law, provide for the revocation of forfeiture of the charters of all corporations for the abuse, misuse, or non-user of their corporate powers, privileges or franchises. Any proceeding for such revocation or forfeiture shall be taken by the Attorney General, as may be provided by law. No general incorporation law, nor any special act of incorporation, shall be enacted without the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House of the General Assembly.

Section 2. No corporation in existence at the adoption of this Constitution shall have its charter amended or renewed without first filing, under the corporate seal of said corporation, and duly attested, in the office of the Secretary of State, an acceptance of the provisions of this Constitution.

Section 3. No corporation shall issue stock, except for money paid, labor done or personal property, or real estate or leases thereof actually acquired by such corporation; and neither labor nor property shall be received in payment of stock at a greater price than the actual value at the time the said labor was done or property delivered or title acquired.

Section 4. The rights, privileges, immunities and estates of religious societies and corporate bodies, except as herein otherwise provided, shall remain as if the Constitution of this State had not been altered.

Section 5. No foreign corporation shall do any business in this State, through or by branch offices, agents or representatives located in the State, without having an authorized agent or agents in the State upon whom legal process may be served.

Section 6. In all elections for directors or managers of stock corporations each shareholder shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock he may hold.

ARTICLE X.

EDUCATION.

Section 1. The General Assembly shall provide for the establishment and maintenance of a general and efficient system of free public schools, and may require by law that every child, not physically or mentally disabled, shall attend the public school, unless educated by other means.

Section 2. In addition to the income of the investments of the Public School Fund, the General Assembly shall make provision for the annual payment of not less than one hundred thousand dollars for the benefit of the free public schools which, with the income of the investments of the Public School Fund, shall be equitably apportioned among the school districts of the State as the General Assembly shall provide; and the money so apportioned shall be used exclusively for the payment of teachers' salaries and for furnishing free text books; provided, however, that in such apportionment, no distinction shall be made on account of race or color, and separate schools for white and colored children shall be maintained. All other expenses connected with the maintenance of free public schools, and all expenses connected with the erection or repair of free public school buildings shall be defrayed in such manner as shall be provided by law.

Section 3. No portion of any fund now existing, or which may hereafter be appropriated, or raised by tax, for educational purposes, shall be appropriated to, or used by, or in aid of any sectarian, church or denominational school; provided, that all real and personal property used for school purposes, where the tuition is free, shall be exempt from taxation and assessment for public purposes.

Section 4. No part of the principal or income of the Public School Fund, now or hereafter existing, shall be used for any other purpose than the support of free public schools.

ARTICLE XI.

AGRICULTURE.

Section 1. There shall be a department established and maintained, known as the State Board of Agriculture.

Section 2. The said board shall be composed of three Commissioners of Agriculture, one of whom shall reside in each county in the State. Any two of them shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Section 3. The said Commissioners of Agriculture shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate, one for the term of one year, one for the term of two years and one for the term of three years; and thereafter all appointments of Commissioners of Agriculture shall be made as aforesaid for the term of three years, and they shall hold office until their successors are duly qualified: Provided, that any vacancy occurring in the office of Commissioner of Agriculture before the expiration of a term shall be filled by appointment as aforesaid for the remainder of the term; and provided further, that in case such vacancy shall occur when the Senate is not in session, such vacancy may be filled by the Governor without confirmation by the Senate until the end of the next session of the Senate.

Section 4. The said board shall have power to abate and prevent, by such means as the General Assembly shall prescribe, all contagious and infectious diseases of fruit trees, plants, vegetables, cereals, horses, cattle and other farm animals.

Section 5. The said commissioners may devise such plans for securing immigration to this State of industrious and useful settlers as they may deem expedient, and such plans may be executed as prescribed by the General Assembly.

Section 6. The General Assembly shall provide by law for the compensation of the members of said board.

Section 7. The Board of Agriculture hereby established shall continue for eight years from the date of the qualification of the first member thereof, after which it may be abolished by the General Assembly.

ARTICLE XII.

HEALTH.

The General Assembly shall provide for the establishment and maintenance of a State Board of Health, which shall have supervision of all matters relating to public health, with such powers and duties as may be prescribed by law; and also for the establishment and maintenance of such local boards of health as may be necessary, to be under the supervision of the State Board, to such extent and with such powers as may be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE XIII.

LOCAL OPTION.

Section 1. The General Assembly may, from time to time, provide by law for the submission to the vote of the qualified electors of the several districts of the State, or any of them, mentioned in Section 2 of this Article, the question whether the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors shall be licensed or prohibited within the limits thereof; and in every district in which there is a majority against license, no person, firm or corporation shall thereafter manufacture or sell spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, except for medicinal or sacramental purposes, within said district, until at a subsequent submission of such question a majority of votes shall be cast in said district for license.

Whenever a majority of all the members elected to each House of the General Assembly by the qualified electors in any district named in Section 2 of this Article shall request the submission of the question of license or no license to a vote of the qualified electors in said district, the General Assembly shall provide for the submission of such question to the qualified electors in such district at the next general election thereafter.

Section 2. Under the provisions of this Article, Sussex County shall comprise one district, Kent County one district, the City of Wilmington, as its corporate limits now are or may hereafter be extended, one district, and the remaining part of New Castle County one district.

Section 3. The General Assembly shall provide necessary laws to carry out and enforce the provisions of this Article, enact laws governing the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors under the limitations of this Article, and provide such penalties as may be necessary to enforce the same.

ARTICLE XIV.

OATH OF OFFICE.

Members of the General Assembly and all public officers, executive and judicial, except such inferior officers as shall be by law exempted, shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of Delaware, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of _____, according to the best of my ability"; and all such officers, except as aforesaid, who shall have been chosen at any election, shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the oath or affirmation above prescribed, together with the following addition thereto, as part thereof:

"And I do further solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have not directly or indirectly paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed, or offered or promised to contribute, any money or other valuable thing as a consideration or reward for the giving or withholding a vote at the election at which I was elected to said office."

No other oath, declaration or test shall be required as a qualification for any office of public trust.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Section 1. The Chancellor, Judges and Attorney General shall be conservators of the peace throughout the State; and the Sheriffs and Coroners shall be conservators of the peace within the counties respectively in which they reside.

Section 2. No public officer shall receive any fees without giving to the person paying the same a receipt therefor, if required, therein specifying every item and charge.

Section 3. No costs shall be paid by a person accused, on a bill being returned ignoramus, nor on acquittal.

Section 4. No law shall extend the term of any public officer or diminish his salary or emoluments after his election or appointment.

Section 5. All public officers shall hold their respective offices until their successors shall be duly qualified, except in cases herein otherwise provided.

Section 6. All public officers shall hold their offices on condition that they behave themselves well. The Governor shall remove from office any public officer convicted of misbehavior in office or of any infamous crime.

Section 7. The matters within Section 30 of Article IV and Sections 7 and 8 of Article V are excepted from the provision of the Constitution that "No person shall for any indictable offence be proceeded against criminally by information," and also from the provisions of the Constitution concerning trial by jury.

Section 8. All stationery, printing, paper and fuel used in the legislative and other departments of government shall be furnished, and the printing, binding and distributing of the laws, journals, official reports, and all other printing and binding, and the repairing and furnishing the halls and rooms used for the meetings of the General Assembly and its committees, shall be performed under contract to be given to the lowest responsible bidder below such maximum price and under such regulations as shall be prescribed by law. Such bids shall be opened in the presence of the persons making the bids or their representatives.

No member or officer of any department of the government shall be in any way interested in any such contract when awarded to or by any such member, officer or department.

Section 9. This Constitution shall be prefixed to every codification of the Laws of this State.

ARTICLE XVI.

AMENDMENTS AND CONVENTIONS.

Section 1. Any amendment or amendments to this Constitution may be proposed in the Senate or House of Representatives; and if the same shall be agreed to by two-thirds of all the members elected to each House, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered on their journals, with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and the Secretary of State shall cause such proposed amendment or amendments to be published three months before the next general election in at least three newspapers in each county in which such newspapers shall be published; and if in the General Assembly next after the said election such proposed amendment or amendments shall upon a ye and nay vote be agreed to by two-thirds of all the members elected to each House, the same shall thereupon become part of the Constitution.

Section 2. The General Assembly by a two-thirds vote of all the members elected to each House may from time to time provide for the submission to the qualified electors of the State at the general election next thereafter the question, "Shall there be a Convention to revise the Constitution and amend the same?"; and upon such submission, if a majority of those voting on said question shall decide in favor of a Convention for such purpose, the General Assembly at its next session shall provide for the election of delegates to such Convention at the next general election. Such Convention shall be composed of forty-one delegates, one of whom shall be chosen from each Representative District by the qualified electors thereof, and two of them shall be chosen from New Castle County, two from Kent County and two from Sussex County, by the qualified electors thereof respectively. The delegates so chosen shall convene at the Capital of the State on the first Tuesday in September next after their election. Every delegate shall receive for his services such compensation as shall be provided by law. A majority of the Convention shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The Convention shall have power to appoint such officers, employes and assistants as it may deem necessary, and fix their compensation, and provide for the printing of its documents, journals, debates and proceedings. The Convention shall determine the rules of its proceedings, and be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its members. Whenever there shall be a vacancy in the office of delegate from any district or county by reason of failure to elect, ineligibility, death, resignation or otherwise, a writ of election to fill such vacancy shall be issued by the Governor, and such vacancy shall be filled by the qualified electors of such district or county.

Section 3. The General Assembly shall provide for receiving, tallying and counting the votes for or against a Convention, and for returning to the General Assembly at its next session the state of such vote; and shall also enact all provisions necessary for giving effect to this Article.

Section 4. No bill or resolution passed by the General Assembly under or pursuant to the provisions of this Article shall require for its validity the approval of the Governor, and the same, shall be exempt from the provisions of Section 18 of Article III of this Constitution.

Section 5. In voting at any general election, upon the question, "Shall there be a Convention to revise the Constitution and amend the same?" the ballots shall be separate from those cast for any person voted for at such election, and shall be kept distinct and apart from all other ballots.

SCHEDULE.

That no inconvenience may arise from the amendments of the Constitution of this State, and in order to carry the same into complete operation, it is hereby declared and ordained, as follows:

Section 1. The President of this Convention, immediately on its adjournment, shall deliver the enrolled copy of this amended Constitution and Schedule to the Secretary of State, who shall file the same in his office, and Secretary of this Convention shall cause the same to be published three times in two newspapers in each county of the State.

Section 2. This amended Constitution shall take effect on the tenth day of June in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven.

Section 3. The offices of the present Senators and Representatives shall not be vacated or otherwise affected by this amended Constitution, except that the Senators whose terms do not expire on the day of the next general election shall thereafter represent the districts in which they now reside until the end of the terms for which they were elected.

At the general election to be held in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight, there shall be elected from each of the even numbered Senatorial Districts in the State, except district Number Two in New Castle county, district Number Four in Kent county, and district Number Two in Sussex county, a Senator for the term of two years, and from each of the odd numbered Senatorial Districts in the State a Senator for the term of four years.

And thereafter, as the said terms shall from time to time expire, a Senator shall be elected from each of the said Senatorial Districts for the full term of four years.

At the general election to be held in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight, there shall be elected in each Representative District in the State one Representative for the term of two years.

Section 4. The terms of Senators and Representatives shall begin on the day next after their election.

Section 5. The first general election under this amended Constitution shall be held on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in the month of November in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight.

Section 6. The term of office of the present Governor shall not be vacated, or in anywise affected by this amended Constitution.

Section 7. Unless otherwise provided by this amended Constitution or Schedule, all persons elected or appointed before this amended Constitution shall take effect, to State or county offices made elective by this amended Constitution, whose terms will expire before the first Tuesday in January, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, shall hold their respective offices until the said last mentioned day; and all persons elected or appointed as aforesaid to such offices, whose terms will expire between the said first Tuesday in January in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine and the first Tuesday in January in the year one thousand nine hundred and one, shall hold their respective offices until the said last mentioned day; and all persons elected or appointed as aforesaid to such offices, whose terms will expire between the said first Tuesday in January in the year one thousand nine hundred and one and the first Tuesday in January in the year one thousand nine hundred and three, shall hold their respective offices until the said last mentioned day; and the successors of such persons shall be elected at the general election next before the expiration of the terms as hereby extended; provided, however, that the successors of the present Auditor of Accounts, State Treasurer and Insurance Commissioner shall be elected at the general election next preceding the expiration of their several terms of office, and the persons so elected shall enter upon the duties of their respective offices on the first Tuesday in January following their election. The officers whose terms of office are extended by this section shall renew their official obligations upon the expiration of their present terms.

Section 8. The terms of office of all State and county offices made elective by this amended Constitution shall commence on the first Tuesday in January next after their election, unless otherwise provided in this amended Constitution or Schedule.

Section 9. All the courts of justice now existing shall continue with their present jurisdiction, and the Chancellor and judges shall continue in office until the tenth day of June in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven; upon which day the said courts shall be abolished, and the offices of the said Chancellor and judges shall expire.

All writs of error, and appeals and proceedings which, on the said tenth day of June in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, shall be depending in the Court of Errors and Appeals, and all the books, records and papers of said court, shall be transferred to the Supreme Court established by this amended Constitution; and the said writs of error, appeals and proceedings shall be proceeded in the said Supreme Court to final judgment, decree or other determination.

All suits, proceedings, and matters which, on the said tenth day of June in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, shall be depending in the Superior Court, and all books, records and papers of the said court, shall be transferred to the Superior Court established by this amended Constitution, and the said suits, proceedings and matters shall be proceeded in to final judgment, or determination, in the said Superior Court established by this amended Constitution.

All indictments, proceedings and matters which, on the said tenth day of June in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, shall be depending in the Court of General Sessions of the Peace and Jail Delivery, shall be transferred to and proceeded in to final judgment and determination in the Court of General Sessions established by this amended Constitution, or be otherwise disposed of by the Court of General Sessions and all books, records and papers of said Court of General Sessions of the Peace and Jail Delivery shall be transferred to the said Court of General Sessions.

All indictments, proceedings and matters which, on the said tenth day of June in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, shall be depending in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, shall be transferred to and proceeded in to final judgment and determination in the Court of Oyer and Terminer established by this amended Constitution, and all books, records and papers of said Court of Oyer and Terminer shall be transferred to said Court of Oyer and Terminer established by this amended Constitution.

All suits, proceedings and matters which, on the said tenth day of June in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, shall be depending in the Court of Chancery, or in the Orphans' Court, and all records, books and papers of said courts respectively, shall be transferred to the Court of Chancery or Orphans' Court respectively, established by this amended Constitution; and the suits, proceedings and matters, shall be proceeded in to final decree, order or other determination.

Section 10. Unless otherwise provided, the Registers' Courts and the jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace shall not be affected by this amended Constitution.

Section 11. If the Chancellor, Chief Justice, or any Associate Judge in office at the time this amended Constitution shall take effect shall not be appointed Chancellor, Chief Justice or Associate Judge under this amended Constitution, he shall be entitled to receive the sum of fifteen hundred dollars per annum, payable quarterly, for five years, after the expiration of his office, if he shall so long live.

Section 12. The first biennial Session of the General Assembly under this amended Constitution shall commence on the first Tuesday in January in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine.

Section 13. The provisions of Section 15 of Article II of this amended Constitution relating to the amount of the compensation of the members of the General Assembly and the presiding officers of the respective Houses shall not apply to any adjourned, special or extra session of the General Assembly held prior to the first Tuesday in January in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine.

Section 14. Until the General Assembly shall enact a general law as provided for in Section 1 of Article IX, of this amended Constitution, existing corporations may be renewed for a period not exceeding four years without change or enlargement of their corporate powers or duties in the manner lawful before this amended Constitution shall take effect.

Section 15. Until the General Assembly shall otherwise provide, guardians' accounts shall be filed with and be adjusted and settled by the Register of Wills for the county, and be subject to exception, hearing, adjustment and settlement in the Orphans' Court for the county as before this amended Constitution took effect.

Section 16. Unless otherwise provided by this amended Constitution or Schedule the terms of persons holding public offices to which they have been elected or appointed at the time this amended Constitution and Schedule shall take effect, shall not be vacated or otherwise affected thereby.

Section 17. One or more vacancies in the Board of Pardons shall not invalidate any act of the remaining members of said board, not less than three in number.

Section 18. All the laws of this State existing at the time this Constitution shall take effect, and not inconsistent with it, shall remain in force, except so far as they shall be altered by future laws.

Section 19. The General Assembly, as soon as conveniently may be after this Constitution shall take effect, shall enact all laws necessary or proper for carrying out the provisions thereof.

Done in Convention, the fourth day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and twenty-first.
